Encouraging Is Report On Eisenhower

No Recurrence Of Chest Pains; Spent Comfortable Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 77, was reported today to be making "very encouraging" progress following his most recent major heart attack.

A medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital at 10 a.m. EDT said:

"General Eisenhower spent a very comfortable night. There has been no recurrence of chest pain and his progress in the past 24 hours has been very encouraging.

Activities Restricted

"His activities are being restricted to brief visits with members of his immediate family."

Another medical bulletin is planned for approximately the same time Wednesday.

The five-star general was stricken around 9 p.m. EDT Saturday at Walter Reed Army Hospital with what his doctors termed "another major heart attack"—the latest of five cardiac assaults, both major and minor, he has suffered since September 1955.

And it occurred while he was walking about in his ward, apparently on the road to complete recovery from a "mild" heart attack he suffered less than two months ago while vacationing in California.

Senate Group Due To Study New Gun Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — After more than a week of public debate sparked by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, a Senate subcommittee plans to consider a new bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said he hopes his subcommittee on juvenile delinquency could take some action today. Whatever it does will be subject to review by the parent Judiciary Committee at a meeting set for Wednesday.

Both meetings come before the Wednesday midnight deadline for President Johnson to sign, veto or ignore the omnibus crime control bill and its—gun control section now on his desk.

If he takes no action on the measure, rushed through Senate and House within two days of the June 5 pistol attack on Kennedy, it will become law.

Johnson has criticized the gun control provision—which bans only the mail order sale of pistols—as too weak and has urged quick action on the bill before Dodd's subcommittee.

Sponsored by 28 senators and introduced last week, it would ban the sale of shoulder weapons through the mail and to

Council Creates Juvenile Bureau

Council voted unanimously Monday night to establish East Liverpool's first Juvenile Bureau, effective July 1, and staff it with a full - time officer who is a member of the police force.

Half of the $457 monthly salary will be paid by the state with a $2,892 annual subsidy out of the police juvenile officers' subsidy program approved in the last session of the legislature. The juvenile officer will be appointed from police department ranks by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, the legislation provides.

THE ORDINANCE provides the bureau will follow standards and regulations set by the Ohio Youth Commission to "engage in activities aimed at the prevention, reduction and control of juvenile delinquency and will cooperate with federal, state and other public and private agencies having like objectives."

The officer's duties will include: Apprehension of offenders; interviewing juveniles taken into custody, along with their parents; investigation of alleged offenses involving juveniles.

Referral of juveniles to various agencies, including juvenile court; preventive surveillance of juvenile gathering places; development of working relationships and programs with schools and community agencies, and representation of the police department in community planning and public relations in regard to children and youth.

The juvenile officer's rate of pay will be the same as a patrolman's. The city will appoint an additional patrolman to the force to compensate for the loss of service of the man named to the juvenile bureau.

THE STATE has guaranteed the subsidy for a year. Participating cities will be eligible to apply for continued subsidies at the end of the first year.

East Lverpool was one of 47 cities which applied for the state grants. Twenty - one of the applications were granted, calling for subsidies for 30 positions.

Allocations were made on a priority basis according to needs as shown by the incidence of juvenile delinquency, population and size of existing police departments, as well as juvenile court statistics for each area.

The Ohio Youth Commission has promised to aid in setting up the program and conducting training for the juvenile officers.

Downtown Gets Festive Face For Pottery Event

Decorating of the downtown area was started this morning in preparation for the opening of the first annual Tri - State Pottery Festival Thursday.

The Andrews Bartlett & Associates Co. of Cleveland is installing bunting and other decorations on store fronts, poles and elsewhere.

Several stores already have completed special window displays of ware, glass and costumes of earlier periods.

Erection of exhibits is under way at the festival center in the former Moore Funiture Co. building on E. 5th St. where the signs on the marquee have been placed.

Demonstraions of casing and decoraing will be conducted at the center, where there will be an art show and displays of ware and other items by area industries.

The center will open at 10 a.m. Thursday to launch the festival which will continue through Saturday.

Erection ot booths and amusement rides on "mall" sections of 5th St. and Washington St. are scheduled Wednesday evening. Preperation of an entertainment area at the Potters Bank & Trust Co. lot at Washington and 4th Sts. is also planned tomorrow.

A varied program of concerts, acts and other features is to be held each day at the lot, where a stage will be erected.

Tours of the area potteries will be conducted during the three days, and many out-of-town visitors are expected to visit the firms, H. Jud English, general chairman of the fete, said.

A highlight of the festival will be the first World Pottery Olympics to be held Saturday afternoon at the First National Bank Drive - In.

City Reroutes Traffic Flow For Festival

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey today explained traffic and parking changes that will be in effect Thursday through Saturday during the Tri-State Pottery Festival.

Traffic and parking will be banned, effective at 6 p. m. Wednesday, on E. 5th St. between Broadway and Market St. and Washington St. between E. 6th and E. 4th Sts. The area will be used for a mall featuring displays and other booths.

Because of the closing of the two streets, an extra load of traffic will be thrown onto E. and W. 4th Sts., the director explained. As a result, parking will be banned on both sides of E. 4th St. from Broadway to Market St. The parking ban will be in effect all three days of the festival.

Westbound transit buses will be rerouted over 4th St. as a result of the closing of 5th St. The buses which usually pick up

Actors' Strike Closes Shows On Broadway

Walkout Called In Dispute On Wages And Other Items

NEW YORK (AP) — Dolly didn't say hello and Fiddler didn't fiddle as a strike by Actors Equity closed 19 Broadway shows.

Curtain time Monday night found only a slow procession of pickets under the darkened marquees at such hits as "Cabaret," "George M!", "Hair", "Hello, Dolly!" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

The strike also closed nine road shows in cities from Wilmington, Del., to San Francisco. Bu itt did not affect off Broadway productions.

Failed To Agree

The walkout was called by Actors Equity after it failed to reach agreement with Broadway producers on wages and other items to replace the contract that expired two weeks ago.

Producer David Merrick, who announced the death of two of his shows after the strike began, said after a City Hall meeting: "This strike could last for five years. There'll be nothing left of the theater when it's over."

The pickets who strolled the theater-lined streets off Times Square carried signs reading, "Actors on strike—no show until we get a contract." They distributed "fact sheets" to passersby.

More French Strikers Go Back To Jobs

PARIS (AP) — Thousands more French strikers headed back to work today, led by the 65,000 workers at Renault auto plants who voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement worked out by their union leaders.

The return of the Renault strikers plus 10,000 at the Saviem truck plant in Lyon and about 30,000 shipyard workers at St. Nazaire, Bordeaux and La Seyne left less than 250,000 of the 10-million strikers still out, according to union estimates.

The major holdouts were the personnel of the government radio and television network. Those strikers on Monday rejected new proposals by Information Minister Yves Guena.

The central issue was the strikers' demand for a government pledge to seek parliamentary action insuring freedom of the network's news programs from government control.

Guena offered only to set up a "commission of notables" to work out new legislation.

The radio-TV strike has reduced campaigning via those media for the National Assembly elections to a few news bulletins and brief TV appearances by party leaders.

Premier Georges Pompidou was to defend the government's record in a broadcast to the nation tonight. It may be his last before the first-round balloting Sunday.

Mass Surrender Largest Of War; Arms Turned Over

SAIGON (AP) — The largest mass surrender of the war took place today when 121 enemy soldiers gave themselves up to South Vietnamese marines on the outskirts of Saigon.

Pleading for the marines not to shoot, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars emerged from bunkers in Gia Dinh suburb and turned over 50 rifles and six larger weapons.

There were these other developments in the war:

—The U.S. Command said it had received reports of more North Vietnamese helicopters operating around the demilitarized zone Monday night. No additional information was given, but other sources said as many as 10 to 20 enemy choppers had been spotted on radar.

More Copters Operating

—The U.S. Command still refused to confirm or deny reports that somewhere between two and 12 of the Russian-designed enemy helicopters had been downed by artillery and U.S. warplanes in and near the DMZ Saturday and Sunday nights.

—A Communist MIG21 shot down a U.S. Navy Phantom jet on Sunday over the North Vietnamese panhandle, the U.S. Command said. The two fliers are missing.

Changes Statement

—The American Command changed its earlier statement that a U.S. Navy Swift boat was sunk by enemy artillery Sunday night off the coast near the DMZ. A spokesman said today the 50-foot boat "may have been sunk by unidentified aircraft," either American or North Vietnamese, and American officers are investigating.

—The Australian Navy and the U.S. Command announced that Sparrow missile from a U.S. warplane apparently hit the Australian destroyer Hobart early Monday, killing two crewmen and injuring seven. Like the Swift boat that was sunk, the Hobart also was cruising off the DMZ at a time when enemy helicopter activity was reported.

The surrender in Gia Dinh came in response to loudspeaker broadcasts by South Vietnamese marines who had surrounded the holdouts near a pagoda three miles north of South Vientam's presidential palace.

The soldiers came out in groups over a period of about an hour. Most were North Viet-

Area Marine Treated For Viet Wounds

A Midland Marine has been wounded in action and admitted to a base hospital in South Vietnam for treatment.

Marine Corps authorities said Pfc. Steven Menich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Menich of 640 Beaver Ave., Midland, was wounded in action and admitted Friday to the Station Hospital at Danang.

Officials said the youth suffered missile wounds to the upper vertebrae. No condition report has been received, but Pfc. Menich has been given a "fair" prognosis, the officials said.

Followup conditional reports are anticipated in 72 hours.

Menich received basic training at Parris Island, S.C., and Camp Stone Bay, N.C. He also trained at Camp Pendelton, Calif., before reporting to Vietnam early this year.

U.S. High Court Ruling Provides 'Open Housing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has turned a long-obscure civil rights law into a far-reaching ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Beyond that, the 7-2 decision Monday hinted that the 13th Amendment banning slavery gave Congress the power to strike at private acts of discrimination generally, if it wants to use the power.

The ruling, one of several stunners dealt out at term's end, said housing discrimination —private or officially sanctoned—is a "relic of slavery" that was outlawed in 1866.

The Reconstruction law, an outgrowth of the 13th Amendment, "bars all racial discrimination, private as well as public, in the sale or rental of property," Justice Potter Stewart declared.

His majority opinion, opposed only by two justices, goes far beyond the 1968 civil rights law signed by President Johnson in April. This year's law exempted many small residential units and would not have a major impact until next year.

The court's ruling spoke of no exceptions. And while the 1866 law has no specific federal enforcement machinery, Stewart's opinion means Negroes can go to court now to assert their rights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Abe Fortas and Thurgood Marshall comprised the majority with Stewart.

Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White dissented, saying the finding that the old law applies to purely private actions "is almost surely wrong and at the least is open to serious doubt."

Because the court prefers to announce its holdings in bunches instead of spacing them out, the housing decision overshadowed other big rulings.

Among trem were:

1. Sanction for police to keep jailing chronic drunks found on the city streets.

2. A ban on denying welfare to needy children solely because of

Council Clears Way

July Bidding Set For Street Work

The administration may be able to open contractors' bids in July on a $100,000 program calling for improvement of lower St. Clair Ave., the River Rd. and a short stretch of Washington St.

Council approved the call for bids in a resolution enacted Monday night. It was the second legislative step to make the project a reality, as an ordinance calling for a $100,000 bond issue to cover the cost was approved several weeks ago.

THE PROJECT calls for resurfacing and related minor improvements on:

St. Clair Ave. between 6th St. and Princeton Ave., linking up with the new three - lane concrete pavement that runs to the city limits.

The River Rd. from Broadway to St. George St. As part of the work, Broadway also will be resurfaced between E. 3rd St. and the River Rd., a distance of a few hundred feet.

Washington St. between E. 3rd and E. 4th St., a stretch now covered with bricks in a washboard pattern.

Plans for the major street program have been under way since early this year. In mid-March, Council was given an estimate of $43,176 for the St. Clair Ave. phase and was told that the River Rd. job would run about $45,000. The Washington St. stretch was added to the program later.

St. Clair will get a new surface of blacktop three inches thick, tapering off to 1½ inches at the edges. The price also is slated to include 1,000 feet of curb and a gutter section on the west side, where none exists now; a new sewer catchbasin above Grant St. to improve storm water runoff, and possibly removal of a stone retaining wall near North St.

THE CITY also contemplates improvement in the drainage adjacent to the River Rd. to

Ray's British attorney, Roger Frisby, indicated in Bow Street Magistrate's Court that the 40-year-old escaped convict would fight extradition. The lawyer asked Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton for as much time as possible to prepare his case.

Milton said he wanted to hold the hearing as soon as possible, and they compromised on Thursday of next week.

Fines Established By Legislation If Violations Occur

Council enacted unanimously and without comment Monday night a lengthy ordinance outlawing discrimination in rental or sale of housing or commercial property in East Liverpool "solely because of race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin. . ."

The so-called fair housing legislation bans discrimination on the part of individuals, real estate agents or brokers and financial institutions which provide mortgage money for real estate purchases. It also makes unlawful new restrictive covenants in deeds — clauses which limit transfer, rental, lease or other use of property because of discrimination.

NO MEMBER commented on the legislation, which allowed it to move through the legislative mill quickly. However, the ordinance had been available for study by the members for a month, as advance copies were prepared by Solicitor J. Michael Kapp.

The vote was 6-0 on all motions for enactment of the legislation. Councilman Floyd Murray was absent. The affirmative votes were cast by Councilmen John Wilson, James Lowe, Edward Massey, Donal L. Burch-

Verdict Due Today In Car Death Trial

LISBON — William K. Betteridge, 57, of Lisbon St. Ext., East Liverpool, told a Common Pleas Court jury Monday he was traveling about 45 miles an hour when a boy ran in front of his car April 27, 1967, in Glenmoor.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, corner, testified yesterday that the boy — Carl W. Smith, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Glenmoor, died of a crushed chest and skull fracture. Both legs were broken, the doctor said.

Patrolman W. C. Muckelroy of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon testified Betteridge's car left approximately 160 feet of skidmarks on Route 267 at the ice house near Rambo's Service Station.

The patrolman said he made a test braking skid with his cruiser at 30 miles an hour on the same section of highway to determine the road's coefficient of friction. Then with these two figures — speed and friction — he was able to determine Betteridge's speed by nomograph and by algebraic formula at approximately 60 miles an hour.

The only known witness to the accident other than the defendant was the boy's father, who was in his apartment above the ice house. He said he heard the screech of brakes and looked out the window just as the car struck the boy.

Betteridge testified he set his brakes when he saw the boy start across the road, then let up on them when the boy stopped. The boy started onto the road a second time. Betteridge said he could not swerve to the left because a car was coming from the opposite direction. He said the right front fender of his car struck the child.

Closing arguments and the charge were made this morning. A verdict is expected today.

U.S. High Court Ruling Provides 'Open Housing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has turned a long-obscure civil rights law into a far-reaching ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Beyond that, the 7-2 decision Monday hinted that the 13th Amendment banning slavery gave Congress the power to strike at private acts of discrimination generally, if it wants to use the power.

The ruling, one of several stunners dealt out at term's end, said housing discrimination—private or officially sanctioned—is a "relic of slavery" that was outlawed in 1866.

The Reconstruction law, an outgrowth of the 13th Amendment, "bars all racial discrimination, private as well as public, in the sale or rental of property," Justice Potter Stewart declared.

His majority opinion, opposed only by two justices, goes far beyond the 1968 civil rights law signed by President Johnson in April. This year's law exempted many small residential units and would not have a major impact until next year.

The court's ruling spoke of no exceptions. And while the 1866 law has no specific federal enforcement machinery, Stewart's opinion means Negroes can go to court now to assert their rights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Abe Fortas and Thurgood Marshall comprised the majority with Stewart.

Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White dissented, saying the finding that the old law applies to purely private actions "is almost surely wrong and at the least is open to serious doubt."

Because the court prefers to announce its holdings in bunches instead of spacing them out, the housing decision overshadowed other big rulings.

Among trem were:

1. Sanction for police to keep jailing chronic drunks found on the city streets.

2. A ban on denying welfare to needy children solely because of

Council Clears Way

July Bidding Set For Street Work

The administration may be able to open contractors' bids in July on a $100,000 program calling for improvement of lower St. Clair Ave., the River Rd. and a short stretch of Washington St.

Council approved the call for bids in a resolution enacted Monday night. It was the second legislative step to make the project a reality, as an ordinance calling for a $100,000 bond issue to cover the cost was approved several weeks ago.

THE PROJECT calls for resurfacing and related minor improvements on:

St. Clair Ave. between 6th St. and Princeton Ave., linking up with the new three - lane concrete pavement that runs to the city limits.

The River Rd. from Broadway to St. George St. As part of the work, Broadway also will be resurfaced between E. 3rd St. and the River Rd., a distance of a few hundred feet.

Washington St. between E. 3rd and E. 4th St., a stretch now covered with bricks in a washboard pattern.

Plans for the major street program have been under way since early this year. In mid-March, Council was given an estimate of $43,176 for the St. Clair Ave. phase and was told that the River Rd. job would run about $45,000. The Washington St. stretch was added to the program later.

St. Clair will get a new surface of blacktop three inches thick, tapering off to 1½ inches at the edges. The price also is slated to include 1,000 feet of curb and a gutter section on the west side, where none exists now; a new sewer catchbasin above Grant St. to improve storm water runoff, and possibly removal of a stone retaining wall near North St.

THE CITY also contemplates improvement in the drainage adjacent to the River Rd. to

Hearing Set For June 27 In Bid To Extradite Ray

LONDON (AP) — A British magistrate today scheduled a hearing on June 27 on the U.S. government's application to return James Earl Ray to Tennessee for trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray's British attorney, Roger Frisby, indicated in Bow Street Magistrate's Court that the 40-year-old escaped convict would fight extradition. The lawyer asked Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton for as much time as possible to prepare his case.

Milton said he wanted to hold the hearing as soon as possible, and they compromised on Thursday of next week.

British extradition hearings usually last a day or two, and the magistrate generally gives

British Transplant Patient Dies At 45

LONDON (AP) — British heart transplant patient Frederick West died Monday night, reducing the number of surviving transplant recipients to five.

Doctors said West's death was caused by an "overwhelming infection." The end came 45 days after the 45-year-old building contractor received the heart of an Irish laborer.

New Board To Sift Any Complaints

Fines Established By Legislation If Violations Occur

Council enacted unanimously and without comment Monday night a lengthy ordinance outlawing discrimination in rental or sale of housing or commercial property in East Liverpool "solely because of race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin. . ."

The so-called fair housing legislation bans discrimination on the part of individuals, real estate agents or brokers and financial institutions which provide mortgage money for real estate purchases. It also makes unlawful new restrictive covenants in deeds — clauses which limit transfer, rental, lease or other use of property because of discrimination.

NO MEMBER commented on the legislation, which allowed it to move through the legislative mill quickly. However, the ordinance had been available for study by the members for a month, as advance copies were prepared by Solicitor J. Michael Kapp.

The vote was 6-0 on all motions for enactment of the legislation. Councilman Floyd Murray was absent. The affirmative votes were cast by Councilmen John Wilson, James Lowe, Edward Massey, Donal L. Burch-

Verdict Due Today In Car Death Trial

LISBON — William K. Betteridge, 57, of Lisbon St. Ext., East Liverpool, told a Common Pleas Court jury Monday he was traveling about 45 miles an hour when a boy ran in front of his car April 27, 1967, in Glenmoor.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, corner, testified yesterday that the boy — Carl W. Smith, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Glenmoor, died of a crushed chest and skull fracture. Both legs were broken, the doctor said.

Patrolman W. C. Muckelroy of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon testified Betteridge's car left approximately 160 feet of skidmarks on Route 267 at the ice house near Rambo's Service Station.

The patrolman said he made a test braking skid with his cruiser at 30 miles an hour on the same section of highway to determine the road's coefficient of friction. Then with these two figures — speed and friction — he was able to determine Betteridge's speed by nomograph and by algebraic formula at approximately 60 miles an hour.

The only known witness to the accident other than the defendant was the boy's father, who was in his apartment above the ice house. He said he heard the screech of brakes and looked out the window just as the car struck the boy.

Betteridge testified he set his brakes when he saw the boy start across the road, then let up on them when the boy stopped. The boy started onto the road a second time. Betteridge said he could not swerve to the left because a car was coming from the opposite direction. He said the right front fender of his car struck the child.

Closing arguments and the charge were made this morning. A verdict is expected today.

Enemy Still Strong

Neither Side Able To Get Upper Hand In DMZ Area

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

DONG HA, Vietnam (AP) — Despite the bloodbath in the demilitarized zone area so far this year, neither side has been able to get the upper hand.

Like weary fighters, American and North Vietnamese battalions continue to slug it out in a fight that has a seemingly unlimited number of rounds.

"The DMZ has become a pawn of the Paris peace talks," one senior U.S. officer said.

Reds Are Pushing

He said the Communists are pushing for a major victory that would give their negotiators in Paris leverage to pry concessions out of the United States and later South Vietnam.

Looking back across five and a half months of fighting this year, another U.S. officer said: "In January I would never have believed they could have kept up the pace or that we would ever suffer so many casualties."

The coming months are expected to dwarf the fighting so far this year that the U.S. Command says has cost about 20,000 enemy dead.

Troop Ratio The Same

For all the death along the DMZ and recent U.S. reinforcements, the enemy is still said to have as many combat troops as the allies, the same ratio Hanoi was able to maintain last year.

Propaganda fed to North Vietnamese troops clearly shows Hanoi's thinking. As reported by prisoners the line is:

"We must keep up the fight. The outcome of the talks in Paris depends on how well we do in the battlefield."

Intelligence reports say newly arrived troops have been told they are "to complete mopping up operations against the U.S. aggressors who have been defeated for all intents and purposes."

U.S. intelligence believes an indication of how seriously Hanoi's DMZ divisions have been hammered is that in some cases entire replacement regiments have moved into position intact instead of groups of replacements being divided up among several units.

Bombing Halt Hurts

Some U.S. officers blame the partial bombing halt ordered by Washington to get preliminary peace talks off the ground with increasing the danger to U.S. troops in the northern line.

"Hell, they get a running start all the way from Hanoi to within 120 miles of the frontier before the bombers can go to work on them," one said. "Sure they are getting plenty of replacements, weapons and all the rest of it through. Our job is a hell of a lot tougher and more dangerous."

North Vietnam's potential for seriously mauling a specific U.S. unit is nowhere higher than along the DMZ. Defenses against U.S. aircraft are greater there and North Vietnamese troops have artillery to back them up, something they don't enjoy in large quantities anywhere else in the country.

In addition, North Vietnam's supply routes are shortest at the DMZ while those of the Marines and other allied forces are longest. The U.S. situation is somewhat more serious than it might be because of the comparitively smaller number of helicopters available to keep the Leathernecks mobile.

Despite the tremendous casualties claimed by the U.S. command for North Vietnamese regiments working in the DMZ area, the American side has suffered, too.

One American battalion of just over 600 men lost more than 400 killed and wounded in one engagement. Most of the wounded were returned to duty after short treatment and recovery periods. But the battalion effectively was knocked out of action for a number of days.

The Marine command weathered a 77-day siege by two North Vietnamese division at Khe Sanh and broke the ring in April with a division-plus operation launched overland from the coastal lowlands.

The Marines have since doubled their battalions in the area to eight but report North Vietnamese strength is about the same as it was when the siege started.

Board To Air 5 Offers For City Supplies

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey took under advisement Monday afternoon bids received from five firms on a year's supply of materials for the street, incinerator, police and fire departments.

The officials opened sealed bids on: 15.000 gallons of gasoline, 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel, 200 gallons of hydraulic oil, 50,000 gallons of road oil and 300 tons of salt for snow removal. Offers also had been sought on 3,000 tons of cinders for snow control, but no bids were filed.

Tht Huth Oil Co. of Cleveland submitted the only bid on the road oil, which is used annually to lay dust on unimproved streets. Huth offered the material at 8 cents a gallon, delivered to the city's tanks.

The Standard Oil Co.'s Cleveland office submitted the lone bid on gasoline and oil and related items. It offered regular gasoline at 16.1 cents a gallon, plus 7 cents state tax; high test gas at 20.1 a gallon, plus state tax; No. 2 diesel fuel at 14.9 cents a gallon; a better grade of diesel fuel at 15.4 cents a gallon.

Nitron motor oil at 89 cents a gallon in drums and $1.08 a gallon in cases of 24 quarts; Octron motor oil at 64 cents a gallon in drums and 83 cents a gallon in case lots of quarts, and hydraulic oil in three classifications ranging from 67 to 70 cents a gallon, all in drums.

Three firms submitted bids on road salt. The Diamond Crystal Salt Co. of St. Clair, Mich., offered the material for bulk pickup at $12 a ton, FOB city trucks.

The Morton Salt Co. at Wadsworth offered similar salt at $13 a ton delivered and $8.40 a ton if picked up by city trucks at Fairport, Ohio. The International Salt Co. of Clark Summit, Pa., offered the salt at $14.60 a ton delivered in 14-ton lots and $13.70 a ton delivered in minimum loads of 21 tons.

On Eve Of Big March

Poor Campaign Appears Far From Reaching Goal

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just a little more than five weeks ago, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy drove a symbolic stake into a grassy mall to mark the beginning of his campaign to "end poverty in this nation of plenty."

That original spot has long since been obscured by sticky mud and the trappings of Resurrection City, just as the original goals have been somewhat obscured by the enormous problems developed in running the campaign.

Today, on the eve of a big march he had planned to use as a demonstration of national support, the Poor People's Campaign seems as far from reaching its ambitious goal as when it started.

Despite a generally sympathetic reception from government agencies, the hundreds of pages of detailed answers they gave to campaign demands added up to few real concessions.

And despite Abernathy's promise to "rain plague after plague on the pharoahs of this nation," campaign leaders have themselves been visited with plague after unexpected plague, leaving them little time to devote to their original objectives.

While Southern Christian Leadership Conference staff members argue over what the campaign has become, most agree it isn't what they started out to make it.

"We've had a little trouble," conceded Hosea Williams, director of nonviolent demonstrations, last week.

Congress was the announced focal point, but almost all of the demonstrations so far have focused on government agencies.

Both Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before his April 4 assassination, and Abernathy, his successor, promised nonviolent civil disobedience that would jail thousands.

But despite repeated public pronouncements at rallies that the day for mass arrests was close at hand, no more than two dozen participants have been jailed.

Resurrection City was intended to be a kind of "model shantytown," a city of tolerance and love that would serve as home for the 3,000 "basic" Washington officialdom.

But the wettest spring in decades has brought almost daily downpours, driving more than two-thirds of the 3,000 who were once in the nation's capital to seek shelter with friendly families, or else return home.

Perhaps most important, as Abernathy made clear repeatedly early in May, the campaign was to publicize what life in poverty is all about, to expose usually hidden conditions of life in America so that the people would demand that congress act.

King called it a last chance to prove that nonviolence worked, and Abernathy again and again voiced fears that if it failed, violent elements would come forth to further split the races, with drastic consequences for the nation.

Wednesday's Day of Support was originally planned to demonstrate to Congress how Americans would flock to Washington to support the things the campaign stood for.

But now, even that aim is clouded by the resignation of march organizer Bayard Rustin, who left his successor, Sterling Tucker, only 10 days to make nearly all the arrangements that took three months of planning in the 1963 March on Washington.

In many ways, the future of the campaign hinges on what happens Wednesday. Sagging spirits at Resurrection City could be revived by a strong show of support, perhaps even to the point where people and money would begin to flow back in.

On the other hand, a turnout considerably under the 40,000 predicted Monday by Tucker might make moot the question of whether the campers stay beyond the June 23 expiration date of their permit.

There simply wouldn't be enough people left in the Lincoln Memorial campground to make keeping it up worthwhile.

Area Youth Hurt In Cycle Mishap

A 14-year-old Hammondsville area youth was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a motorbike mishap near his home Monday.

Thomas Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of Hammondsville RD 1, suffered concussion, abrasions of a shoulder, knees, hands and arms, a cut of the forehead and bruises of the abdomen.

The family said the youth was injured when the motorcycle, owned by a companion, overturned when an effort was made to avoid hitting a dog on Pine Grove Ridge. It was not certain who was driving, the family said.

Police said Chester and Newell buses will make their stops on W. 6th St. at Market St. (alongside the Village Green) and on W. 5th St. at Market St. (alongside Dairyland). The charges will take effect at 5 p. m. Wednesday and continue through the three days of the festival.

Officials To Confer

William Roshon of the new Ohio Department of Urban Affairs at Columbus is scheduled to visit East Liverpool today to confer on planning functions with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Don Eckert, planning coordinator.

Roshon will be accompanied by Carroll V. Hill, head of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates. The Hill concern holds the contract for preparation of the "master plan" for East Liverpool development.

Command Post Shifted

Top Leadership Of Poor Campaign In Seclusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top leadership of the Poor People's Campaign were in seclusion today with aides insisting they do not know where the campaign command post shifted after vacating a Negro-owned motel.

While newsmen tried to locate the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the campaign-sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, demonstrators fanned out Monday to three government agencies and were rebuffed at all three.

A long - delayed mule train also arrived in the area in preparation for Wednesday's mass demonstration in support of the campaign.

Abernathy and other leaders of the campaign, who have been under fire from some demonstrators for not living at the Resurrection City shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial, checked out of the Pitts Motel Sunday and cancelled 28 of 30 rooms they had occupied.

Twenty-seven mules, four horses and 13 wagons that had started out from Marks, Miss., 36 days ago were unloaded from a freight train in suburban Alexandria, Va., Monday night, after a day-long trip from Atlanta.

They are scheduled to participate in Solidarity Day ceremonies Wednesday.

About 150 campaigners were rebuffed at the Agriculture Department, their request to see Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman denied, aides said, because they had no appointment.

A group of Mexican-Americans who had an appointment with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on their claims to land under a treaty refused to meet with Undersecretary Nicholas Katzenbach when they learned Rusk had been hospitalized for tests.

A group of welfare mothers conducting their own hearing at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare protested when Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., did not appear to discuss limits on aid to dependent children.

Disappointed playgoers, some of whom had bought their tickets months ago, lined up at box offices to get their money back or to trade their tickets for future performances.

The strike brought the first Broadway blackout since 1960 when Equity struck for nine days over pensions. Actor Ralph Bellamy headed the union during that walkout in which only 19 of 22 productions survived to reopen.

A brief Equity strike in 1964 ended after two matinee performances were canceled.

Equity seeks to have the $130-a-week minimum increased to $200, a shorter contract, retention of choruses for the full run of shows, premium pay for road shows and control over appearances of alien actors, chiefly British, on the New York stage.

The union has about 15,000 members but only about 800 of them worked in the affected shows. The strike affects thousands of others including members of 10 theatrical unions.

Merrick, speaking for the League of New York Theaters, accused Equity of reneging on a contract agreed upon two weeks ago by the union negotiating committee which included an eight per cent wage hike.

He said the dispute was mainly with chorus members, whom he described as "teen-agers" with no responsibilities."

Merrick said the Equity demands would raise the cost of bringing a musical to Broadway from the present $600,000 average to $900,000 and added that "would eliminate musical productions."

On Eve Of Big March

Poor Campaign Appears Far From Reaching Goal

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just a little more than five weeks ago, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy drove a symbolic stake into a grassy mall to mark the beginning of his campaign to "end poverty in this nation of plenty."

That original spot has long since been obscured by sticky mud and the trappings of Resurrection City, just as the original goals have been somewhat obscured by the enormous problems developed in running the campaign.

Today, on the eve of a big march he had planned to use as a demonstration of national support, the Poor People's Campaign seems as far from reaching its ambitious goal as when it started.

Despite a generally sympathetic reception from government agencies, the hundreds of pages of detailed answers they gave to campaign demands added up to few real concessions.

And despite Abernathy's promise to "rain plague after plague on the pharoahs of this nation," campaign leaders have themselves been visited with plague after unexpected plague, leaving them little time to devote to their original objectives.

While Southern Christian Leadership Conference staff members argue over what the campaign has become, most agree it isn't what they started out to make it.

"We've had a little trouble," conceded Hosea Williams, director of nonviolent demonstrations, last week.

Congress was the announced focal point, but almost all of the demonstrations so far have focused on government agencies.

Both Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before his April 4 assassination, and Abernathy, his successor, promised nonviolent civil disobedience that would jail thousands.

But despite repeated public pronouncements at rallies that the day for mass arrests was close at hand, no more than two dozen participants have been jailed.

Resurrection City was intended to be a kind of "model shantytown," a city of tolerance and love that would serve as home for the 3,000 "basic" Washington officialdom.

But the wettest spring in decades has brought almost daily downpours, driving more than two-thirds of the 3,000 who were once in the nation's capital to seek shelter with friendly families, or else return home.

Perhaps most important, as Abernathy made clear repeatedly early in May, the campaign was to publicize what life in poverty is all about, to expose usually hidden conditions of life in America so that the people would demand that congress act.

King called it a last chance to prove that nonviolence worked, and Abernathy again and again voiced fears that if it failed, violent elements would come forth to further split the races, with drastic consequences for the nation.

Wednesday's Day of Support was originally planned to demonstrate to Congress how Americans would flock to Washington to support the things the campaign stood for.

But now, even that aim is clouded by the resignation of march organizer Bayard Rustin, who left his successor, Sterling Tucker, only 10 days to make nearly all the arrangements that took three months of planning in the 1963 March on Washington.

In many ways, the future of the campaign hinges on what happens Wednesday. Sagging spirits at Resurrection City could be revived by a strong show of support, perhaps even to the point where people and money would begin to flow back in.

On the other hand, a turnout considerably under the 40,000 predicted Monday by Tucker might make moot the question of whether the campers stay beyond the June 23 expiration date of their permit.

There simply wouldn't be enough people left in the Lincoln Memorial campground to make keeping it up worthwhile.

mer Laughlin, Harker, Taylor, Smith & Taylor, Hall and Sterling potteries will participate. Some 1,000 pieces of "disposble" ware will be provided by the firms for use in the cup tosses, plate throws and races.

Prizes will be awarded visitors throughout the three - day event.

Parking will be available at Westgate School lot from where a shuttle bus will carry visitors to the downtown area for 20 cents. Parking also will be available on a lot along Walnut St. donated by Mike Turk.

Area Youth Hurt In Cycle Mishap

A 14-year-old Hammondsville area youth was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injurjes suffered in a motorbike mishap near his home Monday.

Thomas Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of Hammondsville RD 1, suffered concussion, abrasions of a shoulder, knees, hands and arms, a cut of the forehead and bruises of the abdomen.

The family said the youth was injured when the motorcycle, owned by a companion, overturned when an effort was made to avoid hitting a dog on Pine Grove Ridge. It was not certain who was driving, the family said.

was heard against the police occupation Sunday of the Sorbonne, the main building of the University of Paris and the symbol of the student revolt. Sorbonne teachers, students and administrative personnel announced they would have nothing further to do with the university as long as the police remained there. A number of newspapers also condemned the government's action.

Rebellious University of Paris students were still occupying the faculties of medicine and science and the schools of fine arts and political science, but they eaid they expected police moves to dislodge them at any time. They would not say whether they planned to resist or would go quietly, as the Sorbonne students did.

Instead of traveling 5th St., the westbound buses will be routed on Broadway, 4th St. and Market St. The eastbound buses will not be affected, as they travel E. and W. 6th St.

Police said Chester and Newell buses will make their stops on W. 6th St. at Market St. (alongside the Village Green) and on W. 5th St. at Market St. (alongside Dairyland). The charges will take effect at 5 p. m. Wednesday and continue through the three days of the festival.

Officials To Confer

William Roshon of the new Ohio Department of Urban Affairs at Columbus is scheduled to visit East Liverpool today to confer on planning functions with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Don Eckert, planning coordinator.

Roshon will be accompanied by Carroll V. Hill, head of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates. The Hill concern holds the contract for preparation of the "master plan" for East Liverpool development.

Command Post Shifted

Top Leadership Of Poor Campaign In Seclusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top leadership of the Poor People's Campaign were in seclusion today with aides insisting they do not know where the campaign command post shifted after vacating a Negro-owned motel.

While newsmen tried to locate the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the campaign-sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, demonstrators fanned out Monday to three government agencies and were rebuffed at all three.

A long - delayed mule train also arrived in the area in preparation for Wednesday's mass demonstration in support of the campaign.

Abernathy and other leaders of the campaign, who have been under fire from some demonstrators for not living at the Resurrection City shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial, checked out of the Pitts Motel Sunday and cancelled 28 of 30 rooms they had occupied.

Twenty-seven mules, four horses and 13 wagons that had started out from Marks, Miss., 36 days ago were unloaded from a freight train in suburban Alexandria, Va., Monday night, after a day-long trip from Atlanta.

They are scheduled to participate in Solidarity Day ceremonies Wednesday.

About 150 campaigners were rebuffed at the Agriculture Department, their request to see Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman denied, aides said, because they had no appointment.

A group of Mexican-Americans who had an appointment with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on their claims to land under a treaty refused to meet with Undersecretary Nicholas Katzenbach when they learned Rusk had been hospitalized for tests.

A group of welfare mothers conducting their own hearing at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare protested when Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., did not appear to discuss limits on aid to dependent children.

Justice Has Been Done

Perhaps the trial of baby doctor Benjamin Spock and his codefendants on federal charges of conspiracy to violate the draft laws has served to focus the "protest" syndrome for Americans.

U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford made it perfectly clear that Dr. Spock has been tried only on a charge of violating a federal law. He said the court was not "trying the morality, legality or constitutionality of the Selective Service Act or the war in Vietnam, or the right of a person to protest the war on these grounds."

IT WAS in the belief that the war is "illegal, immoral, unwinnable and against the best interests of the United States" that Dr. Spock opposed the drafting of youths and incitel them to "avoid the military."

We believe that the doctor is sincere in his position and even courageous in advocating it. Possibly he has obtained a major part of his goal by receiving national and international publicity for his cause.

He has indicated all along his willingness to go to jail for his defiance of the law and, having been found guilty, it is only fitting that he do so.

Probably most Amercans, with an introspective look, will say to themselves. "I couldn't get away with that." And they will find satisfaction in the jury's sentencing of Dr. Spock and his codefendants. They will be reassured that the law is being upheld.

They will know in their hearts that there are other ways to fight for a cause than to preach to the youth of the land defiance of the law.

Dr. Spock and his attorneys were clever in their choice of a defense. The accused testified that he based his activities on the "Nuremberg decision" which found that Nazi war criminals should have refused to obey the orders they felt unjust.

But there are dissimilarities in the two cases which must have become obvious in the trial.

Somehow there seems a link between Dr. Spock's position of doing as he wants to do in spite of laws prohibiting such behavior, and his preachments of permissiveness in the training and handling of babies.

HIS PHILOSOPHY tends to point in the general direction of anarchy in which each individual acts to suit himself in defiance of democratically imposed laws purposed for the best interests of society as a whole.

Some may look on Dr. Spock as a martyr to his cause.

We believe most Americans feel that justice has been done.

Go, Bengals

There is quite a bit more required than looks, exuberance, stamina and coordination to produce an accomplished cheerleader squad. That's why the joint victory of the Wellsville High School varsity and reserve units in competition at Kent Saturday is an unusual tribute to their talents and training.

With such skilled and spirited stimulation from the sidelines, the prospects of the Bengals could be much brighter the coming year.

Victory May Be Only Answer

One of the most important Communist prisoners captured to date in the Vietnam War is talking freely. A Viet Cong lieutenant colonel, he was a political commissar with access to top military secrets.

Nabbed on the outskirts of Saigon by a U.S. trained Vietnamese intelligence unit, he is being questioned on tactical matters relating to the current Communist offensive against Saigon.

SULLEN AND SILENT at first, he talked freely after he finally was convinced that he would not be tortured or killed.

What he is saying about Hanoi's tactics and objectives substantiates the view of observers who have a pessimistic outlook on the Paris peace talks rather than that of the optimists.

He revealed that the Paris talks and the current military pressure on Saigon constitute a twin struggle to force the United States to withdraw. The plan, he says, is to win a military victory in Saigon which Hanoi can use as a club to force the Americans to capitulate at Paris.

The captured officer says Hanoi hopes to exploit the antiwar movement and economic unrest in the United States to make America withdraw from Vietnam.

ACCORDING TO the former commissar, the only solution acceptable to the Communists is for the United States to negotiate with Hanoi for reunification of the country under Communist rule.

If we assume the prisoner is telling the truth, it makes the Paris talks a farce. Unless the United States and its allies are prepared to surrender, it seems victory on the battlefield is the only way to make the talks meaningful.

Letters To The Editor

Violence Criticized

I am presently serving with the 36th Engineer Battalion in Vung Tau, South Vietnam, and even though I have been here for just a little over one month, I am wondering if it would not be better to stay here than return to the United States.

Word has just come through about the Shooting of Sen. Robert Kennedy. It seems the people of our country seem to feel that it is no longer possible to defeat a man by the use of the secret ballot so they have decided to do it with the bullet. Our country is said to be free and each citizen has a right to make his views known at any time. I wonder if this is really true anymore.

Here in Viet Nam we are fighting against an enemy whose ideas are said to be quite different than ours, but the question is, are they so different? The VC believe in using rocks, clubs, fire and bullets to get what they want. In all reality, is not this exactly what we are doing in our own country?

In the race riots fire, rocks, clubs, and bullets were the weapons used by the people involved. Millions of dollars of damage was the result of all this, and what was gained? Nothing. These people did nothing but actually hurt themselves, and got nowhere toward improving their plight.

Since we have been in Viet Nam, every time "Charlie" wants something he moves in to simply take it. The American GI is always there to try and stop him, and for the most part does. Of course, this American action has cost the lives of many, many men. These men fight their way through mud, filth and many times, human bodies, to try to help the people over here, and for what? If we are here so that the American people can start to act like the enemy we are fighting, it is just a waste of effort.

I believe it is time for our people to wake up and do some real soul-searching before it is too late. The people in our country seem to think they have it so bad with taxes, riots, and anti-war marches. I just wish that some of those people could be over here to see just what it is really like. These people have nothing, but one thing is sure, they can live together. The people in the United States could stand a few lessons in human relations from some of these people.

It is now time to wake up and think America, or one day you may wake up to find out that someone else is doing your thinking for you.

Piping Hot!

Both Barrels!

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Wallaby Cartridge, the president of the National Gun Lovers of America and Bugle Corps, was enraged the other day when I saw him in a restaurant spoon-feeding an Old Fashioned into the mouth of a U.S. senator.

Art Buchwald

"Americans are behaving like children," Wallaby said, "parroting nonsense, and trying to bring pressure on Congress to pass antigun legislation."

"But that's lobbying," I said in a shocked voice.

"You're damn right it's lobbying, and the National Gun Lovers of America, through its lobby, is officially protesting. There's a conspiracy going on to take guns away from the American people and we won't stand for it; not after all the money and time we've spent preventing it. Senator, can I order you some caviar?"

THE SENATOR nodded his head.

"What I don't understand, Wallaby, is why the American people just won't take your word that guns don't kill people, people kill people."

"Because the American people are being brainwashed. They think they can prevent crime and keep guns out of the hands of criminals and adolescents and disturbed people by making Americans register their guns. But at the same time they don't realize how much inconvenience they would be causing the sincere hunter and marksman."

"Nobody wants to inconvenience people who hunt," I agreed.

"How about a nice steak, Senator?" Wallaby said.

He then continued. "Do you know one of the things they want to do? They want to pass a law forbidding the sale of long guns and shotguns through the mail. Do you realize what this would do to hunters? They'd have to go down to a store and buy the gun over the counter and give their names to the sales clerk."

"BUT THAT'S OUTRAGEOUS. Hunters shouldn't be forced to go to a store to buy their guns. They've got enough to do getting up at three in the morning and sitting in a duck blind for four hours in the mud, to find time to go to a store."

"I'm glad you understand it," Wallby said. "But there's more to it than that. They want to take our guns away from us."

"Who does?"

"They do," Wallaby said, ominously.

"Then it's a conspiracy," I cried.

"Of course it's a conspiracy," Wallaby said. "Who do you think is behind all those letters being sent to congressmen and senators this week?"

"The American people?"

"You fool. The conspiracy's behind it. They know if they can get a list of the people in the United States who own guns they'll be able to take over."

"And the only thing standing between they and us is you."

I thought Wallaby was going to burst into tears.

"Everything was going so well. We had Congress in our pocket. Our mail campaign for guns outnumbered the antigun mail by six to none. We had the thing in the bag. But now the mail is running against us and everyone's blaming me. I've been a good lobbyist, a loyal lobbyist, a free-spending lobbyist. If they pass a strong antigun law, who would have me?"

MY HEART was breaking. "Maybe people will stop writing letters against guns," I said hopefully.

"It's too late." Wallaby shook his head.

"Then why are you entertaining this senator?" I asked.

"I can't help it. It's the only thing I know how to do."

Wallaby shoved a cigar into the senator's mouth and started to pour some brandy down his throat.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

With the world apparently in more turmoil than usual, one bright ray of sanity is the conferences the presidential candidates are having with President Johnson to be briefed on Vietnam and other foreign affairs.

Most of the candidates are basing their campaigns largely on opposition to Johnson's policies and may be able to use some of the information he gives them to clobber him all the more in the coming months.

This makes it all the more impressive that he invited them to the White House to be brought up to date on how U.S. policy looks from the pinnacle of the presidency which the various candidates would like to attain.

JOHNSON'S INVITING his political opponents to be briefed on the nation's problems and their accepting his invitation can be taken as a classic example of the strength and viability of the American political system.

The President and most of the candidates give each other what-for when stumping for votes but fundamentally they all have the best interests of the nation at heart and are willing to pick each other's brains privately to try to arrive at the best solutions to the nation's problems.

What makes these White House conferences so comforting is to know that the door is open even to political leaders devoting their lives to defeat of many of the President's policies and the defeat of each other.

It isn't stretching things too far to say that this is a good example of the maximum that the bigger the man the wider open his office door is to complainants. Meanwhile, back on the campuses, the battlefields and city streets the barricades are rising and rocks and bullets are flying.

What a year this has been. More university and ghetto riots than you can name. Rome, Paris, Berlin, Columbia, Ohio State, Northwestern, Washington, Denver, Berkeley and on and on.

Assassinations of Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy. And the President unable to travel freely because of mobs.

WE ARE FOND of looking down our noses at political violence in Latin America but the chances are no Latin American country has lost four heads of state by assassination. In Latin America, the leaders go into exile and hope to return to take power another day.

With all of the discussion about why President Johnson refused to be a candidate again it is interesting to note that a historian has listed many other U.S. presidents who would have accepted another term but decided not to use their awesome political leverage to achieve it because of the tension and possible anarchy this would have caused.

The list includes Jefferson, Van Buren, Tyler, Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Arthur, Cleveland, Wilson and Coolidge.

Closer to home, a half-grown rabbit in the backyard provided a parallel to some of the examples around the world and in this country of the defiance of established power.

The young rabbit, obviously on one of its first explorations, gave the doghouse a good looking over and even hopped into and out of this den of its mortal enemy.

Had the dog returned at that moment, it would have been curtains for the rabbit.

Whether you're a rabbit or a dog depends on whose ox is being gored, to mix a metaphor.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

DAVID LAWRENCE

Time?

In an election year, there is always talk about the votes of young people, of various ethnic and economic groups, and of the disadvantaged whites or Negroes.

This time, it isn't just a matter of "left wing" or "right wing" or which candidate makes a better appearance on television. The real guide of what's going to happen in the national election is to be found in the grassroots conversations that are being held today.

This is a time when voters can hardly be classified in any particular group. For they have a common grievance. The average discussion between one family and the next-door neighbor isn't much different from what's being said wherever groups gather. Perhaps the key to the mood of a majority of the more than 70 million voters is in a simple conversation, which, again and again, runs about like this:

"Q. Who are you going to vote for this year?

"A. I don't know. Who's running?

Q. Are you a Republican or Democrat?

Q. I've been a Democrat for a long time, but with all that's happening now—a man can't take his family out at night for fear of assault or robbery—the government ought to do something about it. But it hasn't got the guts.

"Q. Do you know anything about the Republican candidates—who they are and whether they would do any better?

"A. I haven't the faintest idea. I hear a lot about their speeches, but when I go to the polls I'm not going to think about any names.

"Q. How will you vote, then?

"A. I'll just look for the Republican party list on the ballot and vote for everybody on it from the president down—just as I voted four years ago for the names listed for the Democratic party.

"Q. What you're saying is that you want a change?

"A. Yes. And if the guys we vote into office, both for president and Congress, don't do a good job, we'll switch again next time and hope that the Democrats will have learned that it doesn't pay to ignore the millions of voters who have put them into office right along.

"Q. What's the real trouble?

"A. The same that it's always been—people get elected and are afraid to do their duty. Just think of it! A bunch of demonstrators went to the attorney general's office the other day and made a lot of demands. He was apparently afraid to tell them to get out and to write him a letter.

Everybody seems to be afraid, and the more people threatened our government, the more government officials sit by silent and seem scared to death themselves. We're going to vote for somebody with enough guts to stand up to threats.

"Q. But there are lots of Democrats who have done this. What's going to happen to them?

"A. They're just going to be hurt, too. All I know is that a party with courage is better than a party without it. People want to see a party elected that will do something for them. You've got to wipe the slate clean and start over with somebody new to run the country—at least for four years."

This kind of conversation is being repeated all over the country—in cities and small towns, in suburban and rural areas. It expresses a reaction which has come again and again whenever there is widespread discontent.

There is no great reliance on platforms and pronouncements, and it doesn't much matter who the nominees are. The people have lost confidence in their government. They are tired of what is happening, and they want something done to give them safety and security.

A miracle could occur in the five months before election day. The Democrats could see their own weaknesses and realize they are going to be soundly defeated unless they stop raggling about who is responsible for the disorder and taking no action for fear of antagonizing this or that group.

The people want a new setup and they have been told that the "people rule." As many as can get to the polls this year will be voting to get rid of the riots and disturbances and to bring safety back to their homes and streets.

They will not accept the alibis public men continue to make about why they can't do the things the people want them to do.

So on election day there will be millions of Americans who will not have heard a campaign speech or read a platform but who will simply vote for a change.

Enemy Still Strong

Neither Side Able To Get Upper Hand In DMZ Area

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

DONG HA, Vietnam (AP) — Despite the bloodbath in the demilitarized zone area so far this year, neither side has been able to get the upper hand.

Like weary fighters, American and North Vietnamese battalions continue to slug it out in a fight that has a seemingly unlimited number of rounds.

"The DMZ has become a pawn of the Paris peace talks," one senior U.S. officer said.

Reds Are Pushing

He said the Communists are pushing for a major victory that would give their negotiators in Paris leverage to pry concessions out of the United States and later South Vietnam.

Looking back across five and a half months of fighting this year, another U.S. officer said: "In January I would never have believed they could have kept up the pace or that we would ever suffer so many casualties."

The coming months are expected to dwarf the fighting so far this year that the U.S. Command says has cost about 20,000 enemy dead.

Troop Ratio The Same

For all the death along the DMZ and recent U.S. reinforcements, the enemy is still said to have as many combat troops as the allies, the same ratio Hanoi was able to maintain last year.

Propaganda fed to North Vietnamese troops clearly shows Hanoi's thinking. As reported by prisoners the line is:

"We must keep up the fight. The outcome of the talks in Paris depends on how well we do in the battlefield."

Intelligence reports say newly arrived troops have been told they are "to complete mopping up operations against the U.S. aggressors who have been defeated for all intents and purposes."

U.S. intelligence believes an indication of how seriously Hanoi's DMZ divisions have been hammered is that in some cases entire replacement regiments have moved into position intact instead of groups of replacements being divided up among several units.

Bombing Halt Hurts

Some U.S. officers blame the partial bombing halt ordered by Washington to get preliminary peace talks off the ground with increasing the danger to U.S. troops in the northern line.

"Hell, they get a running start all the way from Hanoi to within 120 miles of the frontier before the bombers can go to work on them," one said. "Sure they are getting plenty of replacements, weapons and all the rest of it through. Our job is a hell of a lot tougher and more dangerous."

North Vietnam's potential for seriously mauling a specific U.S. unit is nowhere higher than along the DMZ. Defenses against U.S. aircraft are greater there and North Vietnamese troops have artillery to back them up, something they don't enjoy in large quantities anywhere else in the country.

In addition, North Vietnam's supply routes are shortest at the DMZ while those of the Marines and other allied forces are longest. The U.S. situation is somewhat more serious than it might be because of the comparitively smaller number of helicopters available to keep the Leathernecks mobile.

Despite the tremendous casualties claimed by the U.S. command for North Vietnamese regiments working in the DMZ area, the American side has suffered, too.

One American battalion of just over 600 men lost more than 400 killed and wounded in one engagement. Most of the wounded were returned to duty after short treatment and recovery periods. But the battalion effectively was knocked out of action for a number of days.

The Marine command weathered a 77-day siege by two North Vietnamese division at Khe Sanh and broke the ring in April with a division-plus operation launched overland from the coastal lowlands.

The Marines have since doubled their battalions in the area to eight but report North Vietnamese strength is about the same as it was when the siege started.

Board To Air 5 Offers For City Supplies

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey took under advisement Monday afternoon bids received from five firms on a year's supply of materials for the street, incinerator, police and fire departments.

The officials opened sealed bids on: 15,000 gallons of gasoline, 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel, 200 gallons of hydraulic oil, 50,000 gallons of road oil and 300 tons of salt for snow removal. Offers also had been sought on 3,000 tons of cinders for snow control, but no bids were filed.

Tht Huth Oil Co. of Cleveland submitted the only bid on the road oil, which is used annually to lay dust on unimproved streets. Huth offered the material at 8 cents a gallon, delivered to the city's tanks.

The Standard Oil Co.'s Cleveland office submitted the lone bid on gasoline and oil and related items. It offered regular gasoline at 16.1 cents a gallon, plus 7 cents state tax; high test gas at 20.1 a gallon, plus state tax; No. 2 diesel fuel at 14.9 cents a gallon; a better grade of diesel fuel at 15.4 cents a gallon.

Nitron motor oil at 89 cents a gallon in drums and $1.08 a gallon in cases of 24 quarts; Octron motor oil at 64 cents a gallon in drums and 83 cents a gallon in case lots of quarts, and hydraulic oil in three classifications ranging from 67 to 70 cents a gallon, all in drums.

Three firms submitted bids on road salt. The Diamond Crystal Salt Co. of St. Clair, Mich., offered the material for bulk pickup at $12 a ton, FOB city trucks.

The Morton Salt Co. at Wadsworth offered similar salt at $13 a ton delivered and $8.40 a ton if picked up by city trucks at Fairport, Ohio. The International Salt Co. of Clark Summit, Pa., offered the salt at $14.60 a ton delivered in 14-ton lots and $13.70 a ton delivered in minimum loads of 21 tons.

Rhodes Plans Lower Voting Age Measure

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes was a big hit at Buckeye Boys State Monday night when he told the youthful citizens he would introduce a bill in the legislature to lower the voting age in Ohio.

Rhodes was wildly cheered and received a standing ovation.

"I believe in all sincerity if the 11 million people of Ohio could see its operation here and see the effort and enthusiasm and understanding of government they too would want you to vote and play a most important role in the great state of Ohio," Rhodes said.

The governor did not mention any specific age. The present voting age is 21.

Earlier Monday, Boys State Senate elected Nationalist Walter M. Cummings, 16, Columbus as president pro-tem, and chose Federalist John M. Russell, 16, Cuyahoga Falls, as minority leader.

Ron J. Meyer, 16, Hamilton, a Federalist, was elected House speaker and James D. Rosenberger, 17, Canal Fulton, was chosen speaker pro-tem.

John D. Nutte of Canton was named secretary of state by Boys State Gov. Gregory R. Huth of Seven Hills.

Beaver College To Seek Support

A move has been started by some of the sponsoring districts of the Beaver County Community College to have the county commissioners take over the sole sponsorship of the institution.

Representatives of the school districts that sponsor the college met Monday night at Freedom Area High School.

Although a quorum was not present, the delegates moved the commissioners sponsor the college. A mail vote will be conducted of all the districts.

Commissioners today had no comment on the move.

The college is sponsored by 27 county school districts. Seventeen were represented, but only nine had a quorum of their representatives. There must be a quorum from 14 districts for official action.

The nominating committee announced a list of candidates for trustees. It includes Maurice Newman of Midland. The committee also recommends increasing the trustees to 15 members.

Assessment Cleared For Downtown Lights

City Council approved legislation Monday night setting the annual assessment against property owners to pay the cost of improved street lighting installed in the central business district in 1963.

The assessment will be $1.36 per front foot to be applied toward the cost of operating the fluorescent lighting system, the legislation provides. Owners of business property signed a petition in 1963 agreeing to pay the difference in cost between the former incandescent lights and the new fixtures.

Property owners may pay the assessments in cash until July 30 at the office of City Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger. Then they will be certified to County Auditor Kenneth Bell for collection on the real estate tax duplicate.

Deaths and Funerals

Wilmer W. Pugh

Wilmer W. Pugh, 60, of Grandview, Chester RD 1, a caster at the Taylor Smith & Taylor Co., was pronounced dead on arrival Monday at 6:45 p.m. at City Hospital. He had taken ill earlier at the home.

He was born in Chester Jan. 9, 1908, a son of the late Robert Pugh and Harriet H. Pugh. He had resided in the Chester area his lifetime. He belonged to Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 and the IBOP.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Doris Pugh, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Roy (Delores) Love of Chilhowie, Va., Mrs. Victor (Marion) Reed of Grandview and Mrs. James (Barbara) Torrence of Aliquippa; three sons, Wilmer W. Pugh Jr. and Ronald Pugh, both at home, and Gary Pugh of Chester, and 11 grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the chapel Wednesday.

Mary Taylor

Mary Taylor, 3, daughter of William and Jacqueline Taylor of 408 Grant St., died this morning at the emergency room at City Hospital where she had been taken a short time before by the family suffering from an illness.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Michalski

A former Hammondsville resident, Mrs. Corrine Peoples Michalski, 70, died Monday at St. John's Hospital in Cleveland after a brief illness.

A resident of Cleveland, she was the wife of Atty. Charles Michalski.

She was the daughter of the late Jasper Peoples and Alice Houge Peoples. She attended school in Hammondsville.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Betty Wolf of Madison, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Mabel Gillis of San Diego, Calif.; a brother, Leroy Peoples of Cleveland, and a grandson.

Services and burial will be in Cleveland.

Lloyd B. Stewart

Services for Lloyd Byron Stewart, 67, of Ranch Rd., East Palestine, were held last Thursday at the Van Dyke Funeral Home, East Palestine.

He died June 11 at his farm home after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. Burial was in Grandview Cemetery, Salem.

He was born Sept. 11, 1900, at Franklin Square, Ohio, a son of the late Jacob and Matilda Horn Stewart. He received his education at Chain's Rural School and attended the Koch Lutheran Church. He was a former member of the Unity Grange.

He is survived by two sisters, Miss Iva Stewart and Miss Effie Stewart, both at home. A brother, Charles Stewart, died in 1962.

Charles Trautman

Services for Charles A. Trautmann of Substation RD 2, who died Monday, will be held Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

He was the son of the late Charles Trautman and Lula Caine Trautman.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and tonight.

Barron Bribery Trial Probably To Start July 8

CHARLESTON (AP) — The trial of former Gov. W. W. Barron and five co-defendants on charges of bribery and conspiracy may begin here July 8, the U.S. attorney's office said Monday.

Besides Barron, the federal indictment returned last February names former State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers, former deputy Road Commissioner Vincent Johnkoski, former State Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore, Elkins attorney Bonn Brown and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath.

Brown and Schroath are accused of telling certain companies they could obtain state government contracts in return for payments to several firms allegedly created by Schroath. Barron and the others allegedly conspired to direct business to those companies making payment by letting state contracts without requiring competitive bids, the indictment charges.

All six men have been freed on bond.

Inmates Refuse Work Assignments At Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Warden Ernie Maxwell said 51 inmates refused work assignments at the Ohio Penitentiary Monday afternoon, protesting the court treatment of a man sentenced to 1-7 years for grand larceny.

Maxwell said the stoppage lasted about four hours and there were no incidents. He said the inmates were later placed in their cells and interviewed about grievances.

Action Slated On Gas Rates At Wellsville

A revised gas rate proposal will be one of the matters facing Wellsville Council tonight at City Hall.

Representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. are to submit a decision on a counter - proposal submitted by Council's franchise committee during a special meeting June 10.

In other business, Council will act on legislation authorized June 10 to borrow $25,000 for a treasury investment to meet current expenses.

Action is also due on a proposed levy for new fire apparatus.

On Eve Of Big March

Poor Campaign Appears Far From Reaching Goal

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just a little more than five weeks ago, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy drove a symbolic stake into a grassy mall to mark the beginning of his campaign to "end poverty in this nation of plenty."

That original spot has long since been obscured by sticky mud and the trappings of Resurrection City, just as the original goals have been somewhat obscured by the enormous problems developed in running the campaign.

Today, on the eve of a big march he had planned to use as a demonstration of national support, the Poor People's Campaign seems as far from reaching its ambitious goal as when it started.

Despite a generally sympathetic reception from government agencies, the hundreds of pages of detailed answers they gave to campaign demands added up to few real concessions.

And despite Abernathy's promise to "rain plague after plague on the pharoahs of this nation," campaign leaders have themselves been visited with plague after unexpected plague, leaving them little time to devote to their original objectives.

While Southern Christian Leadership Conference staff members argue over what the campaign has become, most agree it isn't what they started out to make it.

"We've had a little trouble," conceded Hosea Williams, director of nonviolent demonstrations, last week.

Congress was the announced focal point, but almost all of the demonstrations so far have focused on government agencies.

Both Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before his April 4 assassination, and Abernathy, his successor, promised nonviolent civil disobedience that would jail thousands.

But despite repeated public pronouncements at rallies that the day for mass arrests was close at hand, no more than two dozen participants have been jailed.

Resurrection City was intended to be a kind of "model shantytown," a city of tolerance and love that would serve as home for the 3,000 "basic" Washington officialdom.

But the wettest spring in decades has brought almost daily downpours, driving more than two-thirds of the 3,000 who were once in the nation's capital to seek shelter with friendly families, or else return home.

Perhaps most important, as Abernathy made clear repeatedly early in May, the campaign was to publicize what life in poverty is all about, to expose usually hidden conditions of life in America so that the people would demand that congress act.

King called it a last chance to prove that nonviolence worked, and Abernathy again and again voiced fears that if it failed, violent elements would come forth to further split the races, with drastic consequences for the nation.

Wednesday's Day of Support was originally planned to demonstrate to Congress how Americans would flock to Washington to support the things the campaign stood for.

But now, even that aim is clouded by the resignation of march organizer Bayard Rustin, who left his successor, Sterling Tucker, only 10 days to make nearly all the arrangements that took three months of planning in the 1963 March on Washington.

In many ways, the future of the campaign hinges on what happens Wednesday. Sagging spirits at Resurrection City could be revived by a strong show of support, perhaps even to the point where people and money would begin to flow back in.

On the other hand, a turnout considerably under the 40,000 predicted Monday by Tucker might make moot the question of whether the campers stay beyond the June 23 expiration date of their permit.

There simply wouldn't be enough people left in the Lincoln Memorial campground to make keeping it up worthwhile.

mer Laughlin, Harker, Taylor, Smith & Taylor, Hall and Sterling potteries will participate. Some 1,000 pieces of "disposble" ware will be provided by the firms for use in the cup tosses, plate throws and races.

Prizes will be awarded visitors throughout the three - day event.

Parking will be available at Westgate School lot from where a shuttle bus will carry visitors to the downtown area for 20 cents. Parking also will be available on a lot along Walnut St. donated by Mike Turk.

Area Youth Hurt In Cycle Mishap

A 14-year-old Hammondsville area youth was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a motorbike mishap near his home Monday.

Thomas Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of Hammondsville RD 1, suffered concussion, abrasions of a shoulder, knees, hands and arms, a cut of the forehead and bruises of the abdomen.

The family said the youth was injured when the motorcycle, owned by a companion, overturned when an effort was made to avoid hitting a dog on Pine Grove Ridge. It was not certain who was driving, the family said.

was heard against the police occupation Sunday of the Sorbonne, the main building of the University of Paris and the symbol of the student revolt. Sorbonne teachers, students and administrative personnel announced they would have nothing further to do with the university as long as the police remained there. A number of newspapers also condemned the government's action.

Rebellious University of Paris students were still occupying the faculties of medicine and science and the schools of fine arts and political science, but they eaid they expected police moves to dislodge them at any time. They would not say whether they planned to resist or would go quietly, as the Sorbonne students did.

Instead of traveling 5th St., the westbound buses will be routed on Broadway, 4th St. and Market St. The eastbound buses will not be affected, as they travel E. and W. 6th St.

Police said Chester and Newell buses will make their stops on W. 6th St. at Market St. (alongside the Village Green) and on W. 5th St. at Market St. (alongside Dairyland). The charges will take effect at 5 p. m. Wednesday and continue through the three days of the festival.

Officials To Confer

William Roshon of the new Ohio Department of Urban Affairs at Columbus is scheduled to visit East Liverpool today to confer on planning functions with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Don Eckert, planning coordinator.

Roshon will be accompanied by Carroll V. Hill, head of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates. The Hill concern holds the contract for preparation of the "master plan" for East Liverpool development.

Command Post Shifted

Top Leadership Of Poor Campaign In Seclusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top leadership of the Poor People's Campaign were in seclusion today with aides insisting they do not know where the campaign command post shifted after vacating a Negro-owned motel.

While newsmen tried to locate the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the campaign-sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, demonstrators fanned out Monday to three government agencies and were rebuffed at all three.

A long - delayed mule train also arrived in the area in preparation for Wednesday's mass demonstration in support of the campaign.

Abernathy and other leaders of the campaign, who have been under fire from some demonstrators for not living at the Resurrection City shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial, checked out of the Pitts Motel Sunday and cancelled 28 of 30 rooms they had occupied.

Twenty-seven mules, four horses and 13 wagons that had started out from Marks, Miss., 36 days ago were unloaded from a freight train in suburban Alexandria, Va., Monday night, after a day-long trip from Atlanta.

They are scheduled to participate in Solidarity Day ceremonies Wednesday.

About 150 campaigners were rebuffed at the Agriculture Department, their request to see Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman denied, aides said, because they had no appointment.

A group of Mexican-Americans who had an appointment with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on their claims to land under a treaty refused to meet with Undersecretary Nicholas Katzenbach when they learned Rusk had been hospitalized for tests.

A group of welfare mothers conducting their own hearing at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare protested when Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., did not appear to discuss limits on aid to dependent children.

Lions Hear Ohio Aide And Install Officers

Ted Ivancheck, junior deputy governor of Ohio Lions Clubs, was guest speaker and newly-elected officers assumed their duties during the local Lions installation dinner Saturday at the Travelers Hotel.

Ivanchek, a Niles attorney, told the 72 members and guests that Lionism is in its infancy with a lot of room to expand. "The best place to apply this expansion right now is in the Leo (junior) Clubs," he pointed out.

Fred Cane officially became president when he was presented the gavel by last year's president Charles Haugh. Haugh also gave the president's pin to Cane.

Other officers are: Fred Yonz, first vice president; Ralph Compa, second vice president; Robert Harris, third vice president; Ed Vallor, secretary; Don Wolfe, treasurer; Pete Todd, tailtwister; Jerry Rose, lion tamer, and Richard Allison, James McKinnon and James Sigler, board of directors.

The Lion of the Year award was presented Allison by Ed Custer, past president.

Walter Jones, of 1817 Michigan Ave., manager at the Milliron Co., was enrolled as a new member.

Entertainment included accordion selections by Miss Tana Carli of Marlboro.

Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Wolfe were in charge of decorations.

Strike

mally thronged sidewalks in the area were largely empty, restaurant maitre d's presided over deserted tables and taxicabs were available for the asking.

Playgoers Disappointed

Disappointed playgoers, some of whom had bought their tickets months ago, lined up at box offices to get their money back or to trade their tickets for future performances.

The strike brought the first Broadway blackout since 1960 when Equity struck for nine days over pensions. Actor Ralph Bellamy headed the union during that walkout in which only 19 of 22 productions survived to reopen.

A brief Equity strike in 1964 ended after two matinee performances were canceled.

There was no sign of a quick end to the present dispute. The sides met separately at City Hall Monday evening to "explor the issues" with Deputy Mayor Robert Sweet and Vincent D. McDonnell, chairman of the state mediation board.

Equity seeks to have the $130-a-week minimum increased to $200, a shorter contract, retention of choruses for the full run of shows, premium pay for road shows and control over appearances of alien actors, chiefly British, on the New York stage.

The union has about 15,000 members but only about 800 of them worked in the affected shows. The strike affects thousands of others including members of 10 theatrical unions.

Merrick, speaking for the League of New York Theaters, accused Equity of reneging on a contract agreed upon two weeks ago by the union negotiating committee which included an eight per cent wage hike.

He said the dispute was mainly with chorus members, whom he described as "teen-agers" with no responsibilities."

Merrick said the Equity demands would raise the cost of bringing a musical to Broadway from the present $600,000 average to $900,000 and added that "would eliminate musical productions."

He announced the closing of his shows, "I Do! I Do!" and "How Now, Dow Jones."

Among the Broadway stars the mood was generally one of frustration and regret.

Crews Find Bridge Floor 'Pulverized'

BEAVER — Further deterioration has been found in the Ambridge - Aliquippa Bridge, already under repairs, and the reopening of the structure has been pushed back to at least mid-August.

Workmen Monday afternoon ripped off the blacktop surface, and found the original concrete base had "pulverized." The concrete had deteriorated and turned to dust. It was poured about 40 years ago.

The bridge was closed more than three weeks ago for structural repairs ordered by the Beaver County Commissioners following an inspection.

The Conn Welding Co. of New Castle is doing the substructure and deck welding.

Commissioners said emergency bids will be sought to make the added repairs.

Water 'Safe' Despite Odor In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council, which has reported complaints about the odor of city water in recent weeks, was advised by Safety - Service Director George McGuckin Monday night tests show the water is safe for drinking.

He said seven tests are taken monthly by the Ohio Department of Health and these, along with other tests, show the water, despite its smell, to be safe.

Councilman Elber Seagel of the First Ward had reported odor complaints from residents of his ward, which is in a lower level section of the city.

McGuckin has been requesting authority to have another well drilled, but no action has been taken. The flow of water is considered adequate.

Council went into a caucus session for an hour after the brief regular

New Courses For WAC, Aircraft Maintenance Set

New opportunities for Women's Army Corps enlistees and men interested in aircraft maintenance have been announced by Staff Sgt. Robert Dusock, local Army recruiter.

The sergeant pointed out that applications are available for a WAC officer basic course.

NEW educational opportunities for the WAC include: Telephone switchboard operator, postal operations, map compiling, ADPS programming, meteorological observations, transportation movements control, pharmacy specialist and flight simulator operation and maintenance.

The quotas for the schools are limited, so interested women between the ages of 18 and 34 must apply immediately, Dusock said. The enlistee must be a high school graduate or a senior, unmarried and able to pass the aptitude tests for the chosen school.

Applications will be accepted until late June for the WAC officer basic course beginning Aug. 6. Women must be between the ages of 20 and 32 and have received a college degree. They then would be eligible to apply for a direct appointment as an officer and attend the course.

Following the 18-week course at Ft. McClellan, Ala., the graduates will be appointed as either first or second lieutenants and be eligible for stations throughout the continental United States, Hawaii, Alaska, several European countries, Panama and the Orient, Dusock said.

AREA MEN interested in the aircraft maintenance field have an opportunity to experience on-the-job training in addition to several courses leading to specialization.

Courses in helicopter repair and airframe repair are given at the Army Transportation School at Ft. Eustis, Va. Other courses include aircraft maintenance entry and single rotor turbine utility helicopter maintenance at the Army Aviation School at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

High school graduates will be tested by the Army and, if qualified, receive a written guarantee of training in the field before they enlist.

The Army Recruiting office is located in the Post Office Building on Broadway.

County Board Delays Action On Pay Boosts

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Monday night told its three specialists it will consider salary increases for them, but not until the money is available. That may be next spring, they said.

The specialists are the elementary and high school supervisors and the school psychologist.

They are Peter Marra, high school supervisor; Lorin Ruff, elementary consultant, and Hubert Lawrence, psychologist.

Beginning July 1 under provisions of Senate Bill 483, the state will pay $1,195 per year toward retirement of each of the three. The county board has been paying this.

The specialists suggested that this money, appropriated but unneeded with the state payment, be distributed among them as salary increases.

THEY SAID their salaries are no higher proportionately than those of master's degree teachers who work only 36 weeks a year compared with their 48.

A review of finances given by Mrs. June Ingraham, secretary, showed that the board is approximately $4,000 in the red because appropriated funds are coming in slower than they are being spent.

She said state payments under S.B. 483 will reverse this trend so that by the end of the fiscal year next June the board should have a balance of $2,992.

Donald Elliott, Rogers attorney, said he would not consider distributing funds before they are available. The supervisors suggested, as an alternative, that the board reduce their contracts from 12 to 11 months if raises are not granted next year.

James L. McBride, county superintendent, reported that John A. McKnight, chief of the Ohio Department of Education's division on school district reorganization, will meet with the county board and the four local boards at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Crestview High School.

McKnight also will meet with the boards of Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Fairfield - Waterford concerning a proposed merger of those districts.

The county board is opposed to the five district merger since Fairfield - Waterford is part of the county system.

BOARD members accepted four - year textbook adoptions for foreign languages and commercial subjects. They were presented by Peter Marra, high school supervisor, after conferences with teachers of the various subjects.

Vernon A. Walrath, supervisor of the cooperative vocational education program, submitted a written report covering the past year. In this program, cooperating schools offer certain vocational subjects and students travel between schools to get the courses they want.

Concluding his report, Walrath wrote:

"I had hoped to see more substantial progress made toward a jointure that could better save all students in the area, but this will not become a reality until the various factions in the concerned districts can settle upon a plan that will do the job and then follow through and implement it.

"We have gone almost as far as we can with our present types of programs. What is now needed are more in-school programs which represent physical facilities and equipment not available at present. We need to look towarl providing these. A way must be found to pool human and financial resources sufficient to accomplish the job to be faced in providing adequate vocational education for the youth and adults of the county community."

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Joseph A Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) says he will seek an agreement with the Bell Telephone System to require all employes to pay dues to the union.

"When CWA members go out on the picket line to win a package that amounts to thousands of dollars for a person," he told a union convention Monday, "I hate to see all those benefits going to a free loader."

By "free loader" he meant nonunion members who receive benefits negotiated by the union. Federal labor law requires unions to bargain for all employes covered by a contract, including nonunion members.

Beirne's union, which won its biggest wage and benefit increase ever last month after an 18-day nationwide strike, would not be able to seek the proposed dues agreement until the present contract expires in 1971.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department, acting under the new Wholesome Meat Act of 1967, has designated 20 processing plants as "endangering public health."

The department said Monday four of the plants—in Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut and Delaware—had been closed by state officials and fifth, in Nevada, was closed temporarily for a clean up.

Corrective action has been started in the other 15 plants to remedy the federal charges, the department said. It did not disclose the names of the companies involved or the specific location of the plants.

Reasons cited for the "endangering public health" designation included lack of sanitation, unsanitary handling of products, lack of insect and vermin control and improper control of inedible, diseased and condemned carcasses.

Capital Footnote

The Agriculture Department says a survey in six major cities shows little variation in supermarket chains' food prices between high and low-income neighborhoods. The survey did not list the cities but a source identified them as Philadelphia, San Francisco, Denver, Detroit, Chicago and Dallas.

The measure was requested early in 1968 by the East Liverpool Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Following the enactment, two NAACP members in the audience commended Council for its action.

"We appreciate the action taken by Council on this ordinance," Caesar Peters said. "I believe it states the attitude of the people of East Liverpool."

"I believe this shows the strength of the community, when a problem is recognized and steps are taken to correct it," Alonzo Spencer told Council. "I thank Council for its action. We have found negativism in many areas, but it does not exist here."

THE LEGISLATION covers four and a half typewritten pages on legal size paper. In substance, it says that all persons must be treated equally in the sale, lease or rental of commercial property or housing units and that there shall be no discrimination because of "race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin."

In addition to the other provisions, it bans real estate advertisements for sale or rental of property "which indicate any preference, limitation, specification or discrimination. . ."

The ordinance also outlaws a practice which is known as "block-busting" in major cities. On this question, the legislation says it is unlawful to "induce or solicit any or all housing listings, sale or transaction by representing that a change has occurred or may occur with respect to the racial, religious or ethnic composition. . . which may result in any of the following: The lowering of poperty values; a change in the racial religious or ethnic composition of the area; an increase in criminal or anti-social behavior in the area, or a decline in the quality of the schools serving are area."

The ordinance calls for appointment of a nine - member board to listen to complaints and determine if a violation has occurred. If the board acts affirmatively, it is required to certify its findings to the city solicitor to commence prosecution.

The ordinance provides a minimum penalty of $100 for a first violation, but the fine may range as high as $250. For each subsequent offense, the fine would range from $250 to $500, plus a six-month jail term, the legislation provides.

The ordinance contains an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

Before the new legislation was presented for consideration, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp pointed out to Council that the U. S. Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the validity of an 1866 civil rights law including a fair housing statute that prohibits racial discrimination in all sales and rentals of property. The law was passed in the Reconstruction era immediately after the Civil War.

Kapp said he had not had an opportunity to make a full study of the 102-year-old law, but added: "Our ordinance may be stronger."

U.S. Plans Reconstruction Of Aircraft Shelters In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has ordered urgent reconstruction of shelters for its aircraft in South Vietnam to protect against intensified Viet Cong rocket and mortar attacks.

"Recent attacks on Air Force bases in Vietnam have demonstrated the need for better protection of aircraft" than the current roofless shelters now in use, the Air Force said Monday in response to questions.

At present, the aircraft, most costing at least $1 million each, are parked on bases in South Vietnam in roofless revetements made from earth-filled steel walls five feet wide and 12 feet high.

The first steps taken to carry out the program are now under way in the form of tests to determine the best material to use in building roofs for the current shelters. When the tests are finished in the near future, construction will start.

Because the enemy hasn't made air raids against the bases these shelters were thought adequate, at least until the Tet offensive early this year showed them vulnerable to rocket and mortar fire.

When the damage from the offensive was tallied, it was found that 192 aircraft were either destroyed or badly damaged from the bombardment.

Justice Has Been Done

Perhaps the trial of baby doctor Benjamin Spock and his codefendants on federal charges of conspiracy to violate the draft laws has served to focus the "protest" syndrome for Americans.

U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford made it perfectly clear that Dr. Spock has been tried only on a charge of violating a federal law. He said the court was not "trying the morality, legality or constitutionality of the Selective Service Act or the war in Vietnam, or the right of a person to protest the war on these grounds."

IT WAS in the belief that the war is "illegal, immoral, unwinnable and against the best interests of the United States" that Dr. Spock opposed the drafting of youths and incitel them to "avoid the military."

We believe that the doctor is sincere in his position and even courageous in advocating it. Possibly he has obtained a major part of his goal by receiving national and international publicity for his cause.

He has indicated all along his willingness to go to jail for his defiance of the law and, having been found guilty, it is only fitting that he do so.

Probably most Amercans, with an introspective look, will say to themselves, "I couldn't get away with that." And they will find satisfaction in the jury's sentencing of Dr. Spock and his codefendants. They will be reassured that the law is being upheld.

They will know in their hearts that there are other ways to fight for a cause than to preach to the youth of the land defiance of the law.

Dr. Spock and his attorneys were clever in their choice of a defense. The accused testified that he based his activities on the "Nuremberg decision" which found that Nazi war criminals should have refused to obey the orders they felt unjust.

But there are dissimilarities in the two cases which must have become obvious in the trial.

Somehow there seems a link between Dr. Spock's position of doing as he wants to do in spite of laws prohibiting such behavior, and his preachments of permissiveness in the training and handling of babies.

HIS PHILOSOPHY tends to point in the general direction of anarchy in which each individual acts to suit himself in defiance of democratically imposed laws purposed for the best interests of society as a whole.

Some may look on Dr. Spock as a martyr to his cause.

We believe most Americans feel that justice has been done.

Go, Bengals

There is quite a bit more required than looks, exuberance, stamina and coordination to produce an accomplished cheerleader squad. That's why the joint victory of the Wellsville High School varsity and reserve units in competition at Kent Saturday is an unusual tribute to their talents and training.

With such skilled and spirited stimulation from the sidelines, the prospects of the Bengals could be much brighter the coming year.

Victory May Be Only Answer

One of the most important Communist prisoners captured to date in the Vietnam War is talking freely. A Viet Cong lieutenant colonel, he was a political commissar with access to top military secrets.

Nabbed on the outskirts of Saigon by a U.S. trained Vietnamese intelligence unit, he is being questioned on tactical matters relating to the current Communist offensive against Saigon.

SULLEN AND SILENT at first, he talked freely after he finally was convinced that he would not be tortured or killed.

What he is saying about Hanoi's tactics and objectives substantiates the view of observers who have a pessimistic outlook on the Paris peace talks rather than that of the optimists.

He revealed that the Paris talks and the current military pressure on Saigon constitute a twin struggle to force the United States to withdraw. The plan, he says, is to win a military victory in Saigon which Hanoi can use as a club to force the Americans to capitulate at Paris.

The captured officer says Hanoi hopes to exploit the antiwar movement and economic unrest in the United States to make America withdraw from Vietnam.

ACCORDING TO the former commissar, the only solution acceptable to the Communists is for the United States to negotiate with Hanoi for reunification of the country under Communist rule.

If we assume the prisoner is telling the truth, it makes the Paris talks a farce. Unless the United States and its allies are prepared to surrender, it seems victory on the battlefield is the only way to make the talks meaningful.

Letters To The Editor

Violence Criticized

I am presently serving with the 36th Engineer Battalion in Vung Tau, South Vietnam, and even though I have been here for just a little over one month, I am wondering if it would not be better to stay here than return to the United States.

Word has just come through about the Shooting of Sen. Robert Kennedy. It seems the people of our country seem to feel that it is no longer possible to defeat a man by the use of the secret ballot so they have decided to do it with the bullet. Our country is said to be free and each citizen has a right to make his views known at any time. I wonder if this is really true anymore.

Here in Viet Nam we are fighting against an enemy whose ideas are said to be quite different than ours, but the question is, are they so different? The VC believe in using rocks, clubs, fire and bullets to get what they want. In all reality, is not this exactly what we are doing in our own country?

In the race riots fire, rocks, clubs, and bullets were the weapons used by the people involved. Millions of dollars of damage was the result of all this, and what was gained? Nothing. These people did nothing but actually hurt themselves, and got nowhere toward improving their plight.

Since we have been in Viet Nam, every time "Charlie" wants something he moves in to simply take it. The American GI is always there to try and stop him, and for the most part does. Of course, this American action has cost the lives of many, many men. These men fight their way through mud, filth and many times, human bodies, to try to help the people over here, and for what? If we are here so that the American people can start to act like the enemy we are fighting, it is just a waste of effort.

I believe it is time for our people to wake up and do some real soul-searching before it is too late. The people in our country seem to think they have it so bad with taxes, riots, and anti-war marches. I just wish that some of those people could be over here to see just what it is really like. These people have nothing, but one thing is sure, they can live together. The people in the United States could stand a few lessons in human relations from some of these people.

It is now time to wake up and think America, or one day you may wake up to find out that someone else is doing your thinking for you.

Piping Hot!

Both Barrels!

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Wallaby Cartridge, the president of the National Gun Lovers of America and Bugle Corps, was enraged the other day when I saw him in a restaurant spoon-feeding an Old Fashioned into the mouth of a U.S. senator.

Art Buchwald

"Americans are behaving like children," Wallaby said, "parroting nonsense, and trying to bring pressure on Congress to pass antigun legislation."

"But that's lobbying," I said in a shocked voice.

"You're damn right it's lobbying, and the National Gun Lovers of America, through its lobby, is officially protesting. There's a conspiracy going on to take guns away from the American people and we won't stand for it; not after all the money and time we've spent preventing it. Senator, can I order you some caviar?"

THE SENATOR nodded his head.

"What I don't understand, Wallaby, is why the American people just won't take your word that guns don't kill people, people kill people."

"Because the American people are being brainwashed. They think they can prevent crime and keep guns out of the hands of criminals and adolescents and disturbed people by making Americans register their guns. But at the same time they don't realize how much inconvenience they would be causing the sincere hunter and marksman."

"Nobody wants to inconvenience people who hunt," I agreed.

"How about a nice steak, Senator?" Wallaby said.

He then continued. "Do you know one of the things they want to do? They want to pass a law forbidding the sale of long guns and shotguns through the mail. Do you realize what this would do to hunters? They'd have to go down to a store and buy the gun over the counter and give their names to the sales clerk."

"BUT THAT'S OUTRAGEOUS. Hunters shouldn't be forced to go to a store to buy their guns. They've got enough to do getting up at three in the morning and sitting in a duck blind for four hours in the mud, to find time to go to a store."

"I'm glad you understand it," Wallby said. "But there's more to it than that. They want to take our guns away from us."

"Who does?"

"They do," Wallaby said, ominously.

"Then it's a conspiracy," I cried.

"Of course it's a conspiracy," Wallaby said. "Who do you think is behind all those letters being sent to congressmen and senators this week?"

"The American people?"

"You fool. The conspiracy's behind it. They know if they can get a list of the people in the United States who own guns they'll be able to take over."

"And the only thing standing between they and us is you."

I thought Wallaby was going to burst into tears.

"Everything was going so well. We had Congress in our pocket. Our mail campaign for guns outnumbered the antigun mail by six to none. We had the thing in the bag. But now the mail is running against us and everyone's blaming me. I've been a good lobbyist, a loyal lobbyist, a free-spending lobbyist. If they pass a strong antigun law, who would have me?"

MY HEART was breaking. "Maybe people will stop writing letters against guns," I said hopefully.

"It's too late." Wallaby shook his head.

"Then why are you entertaining this senator?" I asked.

"I can't help it. It's the only thing I know how to do."

Wallaby shoved a cigar into the senator's mouth and started to pour some brandy down his throat.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

With the world apparently in more turmoil than usual, one bright ray of sanity is the conferences the presidential candidates are having with President Johnson to be briefed on Vietnam and other foreign affairs.

Most of the candidates are basing their campaigns largely on opposition to Johnson's policies and may be able to use some of the information he gives them to clobber him all the more in the coming months.

This makes it all the more impressive that he invited them to the White House to be brought up to date on how U.S. policy looks from the pinnacle of the presidency which the various candidates would like to attain.

JOHNSON'S INVITING his political opponents to be briefed on the nation's problems and their accepting his invitation can be taken as a classic example of the strength and viability of the American political system.

The President and most of the candidates give each other what-for when stumping for votes but fundamentally they all have the best interests of the nation at heart and are willing to pick each other's brains privately to try to arrive at the best solutions to the nation's problems.

What makes these White House conferences so comforting is to know that the door is open even to political leaders devoting their lives to defeat of many of the President's policies and the defeat of each other.

It isn't stretching things too far to say that this is a good example of the maximum that the bigger the man the wider open his office door is to complainants. Meanwhile, back on the campuses, the battlefields and city streets the barricades are rising and rocks and bullets are flying.

What a year this has been. More university and ghetto riots than you can name. Rome, Paris, Berlin, Columbia, Ohio State, Northwestern, Washington, Denver, Berkeley and on and on.

Assassinations of Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy. And the President unable to travel freely because of mobs.

WE ARE FOND of looking down our noses at political violence in Latin America but the chances are no Latin American country has lost four heads of state by assassination. In Latin America, the leaders go into exile and hope to return to take power another day.

With all of the discussion about why President Johnson refused to be a candidate again it is interesting to note that a historian has listed many other U.S. presidents who would have accepted another term but decided not to use their awesome political leverage to achieve it because of the tension and possible anarchy this would have caused.

The list includes Jefferson, Van Buren, Tyler, Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Arthur, Cleveland, Wilson and Coolidge.

Closer to home, a half-grown rabbit in the backyard provided a parallel to some of the examples around the world and in this country of the defiance of established power.

The young rabbit, obviously on one of its first explorations, gave the doghouse a good looking over and even hopped into and out of this den of its mortal enemy.

Had the dog returned at that moment, it would have been curtains for the rabbit.

Whether you're a rabbit or a dog depends on whose ox is being gored, to mix a metaphor.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

DAVID LAWRENCE

Time?

In an election year, there is always talk about the votes of young people, of various ethnic and economic groups, and of the disadvantaged whites or Negroes.

This time, it isn't just a matter of "left wing" or "right wing" or which candidate makes a better appearance on television. The real guide of what's going to happen in the national election is to be found in the grassroots conversations that are being held today.

This is a time when voters can hardly be classified in any particular group. For they have a common grievance. The average discussion between one family and the next-door neighbor isn't much different from what's being said wherever groups gather. Perhaps the key to the mood of a majority of the more than 70 million voters is in a simple conversation, which, again and again, runs about like this:

"Q. Who are you going to vote for this year?

"A. I don't know. Who's running?

Q. Are you a Republican or Democrat?

Q. I've been a Democrat for a long time, but with all that's happening now—a man can't take his family out at night for fear of assault or robbery—the government ought to do something about it. But it hasn't got the guts.

"Q. Do you know anything about the Republican candidates—who they are and whether they would do any better?

"A. I haven't the faintest idea. I hear a lot about their speeches, but when I go to the polls I'm not going to think about any names.

"Q. How will you vote, then?

"A. I'll just look for the Republican party list on the ballot and vote for everybody on it from the president down—just as I voted four years ago for the names listed for the Democratic party.

"Q. What you're saying is that you want a change?

"A. Yes. And if the guys we vote into office, both for president and Congress, don't do a good job, we'll switch again next time and hope that the Democrats will have learned that it doesn't pay to ignore the millions of voters who have put them into office right along.

"Q. What's the real trouble?

"A. The same that it's always been—people get elected and are afraid to do their duty. Just think of it! A bunch of demonstrators went to the attorney general's office the other day and made a lot of demands. He was apparently afraid to tell them to get out and to write him a letter.

Everybody seems to be afraid, and the more people threatened our government, the more government officials sit by silent and seem scared to death themselves. We're going to vote for somebody with enough guts to stand up to threats.

"Q. But there are lots of Democrats who have done this. What's going to happen to them?

"A. They're just going to be hurt, too. All I know is that a party with courage is better than a party without it. People want to see a party elected that will do something for them. You've got to wipe the slate clean and start over with somebody new to run the country—at least for four years."

This kind of conversation is being repeated all over the country—in cities and small towns, in suburban and rural areas. It expresses a reaction which has come again and again whenever there is widespread discontent.

There is no great reliance on platforms and pronouncements, and it doesn't much matter who the nominees are. The people have lost confidence in their government. They are tired of what is happening, and they want something done to give them safety and security.

A miracle could occur in the five months before election day. The Democrats could see their own weaknesses and realize they are going to be soundly defeated unless they stop raggling about who is responsible for the disorder and taking no action for fear of antagonizing this or that group.

The people want a new setup and they have been told that the "people rule." As many as can get to the polls this year will be voting to get rid of the riots and disturbances and to bring safety back to their homes and streets.

They will not accept the alibis public men continue to make about why they can't do the things the people want them to do.

So on election day there will be millions of Americans who will not have heard a campaign speech or read a platform but who will simply vote for a change.

SPEC. HOUSEHOLDER

Spec. 5 Robert M. Householder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Householder of Glenmoor, has received a Soldier's Medal for heroism for "distinguishing himself Sept. 9, 1967, while serving with the 56th Engineer Co. USARAL Support Command at Ft. Richardson, Alaska."

Householder was driving a lead vehicle in a three - truck convoy carrying construction equipment to Valdez, Alaska, proceeding down a six - mile grade when he noticed that the convoy's second unit was rapidly gaining speed and closing in on his truck.

Realizing the second vehicle was unable to stop, he matched speeds with his own truck and allowed the runaway to make contact with the back of his trailer. Gradually he slowed both vehicles and, after traveling over two miles, finally halted them.

Householder was credited with saving several lives and thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

Rockefeller Takes Bid To Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his delegate hunting to Capitol Hill today, hoping to drum up support from Republican senators and congressmen in his drive for the presidential nomination.

The principal factors in his maneuver in Washington are:

1. Coat-tails. Rockefeller will try to convince the GOP legislators who are up for re-election that he is more likely to help them win in November than Richard M. Nixon, front-runner for the nomination.

2. Delegates. Some 50 members of the House may be delegates to the nominating convention in Miami Beach in August. Forty-three already have been chosen and six or eight more are expected to be named. In the Senate, 21 are delegates.

3. Favorite sons. As of today, five senators are regarded as favorite sons. Hiram Fong of Hawaii, Frank Carlson of Kansas, Clifford Case of New Jersey, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and John Tower of Texas. Most of them are regarded as favorable to Nixon.

The governor scheduled meetings with all the House Republicans, 187 in all.

Rockefeller's argument—perhaps his strongest—is that he has proven his ability draw votes from Democrats and independents.

He loses no opportunity to point out to Republicans that they are the minority party, in third place behind these two groups. He says they have 27 per cent of the registered vote, nationally.

Thus, he continues, if the GOP is to elect a president, the party must nominate a man who can attract Democratic and independent voters.

"There is another factor," says Robert R. Douglass, the governor's campaign manager. "The congressmen especially are in close touch with the sentiment of people in their own districts. They are in position to influence delegations from their home states. They will be for the man who can help them win."

Douglass said he thinks endorsements of Rockefeller will be announced after the Washington meetings. "He's not asking for endorsements," Douglass said. "But he won't be unhappy if he gets some."

If a visitor stands with his back to a fountain in Rome and throws a coin into it over his shoulder, he is said to be assured a return visit to the Eternal City.

Study Sought On Gas Rates

Council voted Monday night to request the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to make an "informal survey" of new gas rates proposed for East Liverpool by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and determine whether the offer constitutes "a fair return" for the company.

The action was taken after Harold Sneddon, district manager of the utility, appeared in a caucus session to ask if there was any possibility of Council and the firm resuming negotiations on a new contract or whether the utility should file a bid for a rate increase with the PUCO.

Councilman Donal I. Burcham suggested the informal survey by the PUCO as an alternative to either step proposed by Sneddon. Sneddon said the company is prepared to file its application with the state agency but wanted to know "if there was any possibility of working anything out with Council without going into the expense of a hearing" before the PUCO.

Burcham said he knows of other communities which have sought "informal surveys" by the PUCO to determine the relative fairness of a utility's offer. Council approved his suggestion for requesting a survey and asked Solicitor J. Michael Kapp to prepare the required enabling resolution. The vote was 5-1, with Councilman Frank Duffy dissenting.

The company's negotiations with Council began a year ago. A 12.3 per cent rate increase approved in December 1967 was rescinded in January. Another proposed ordinance that would have given the company an 11.88 per cent boost was voted down shortly afterward.

"I think by the time the PUCO finally settles this, the rate will be a good deal higher," Councilman Robert W. Sample said. "I believe the public should be aware of that fact and remember it later."

Scalded Man, Nine Others Are Treated

A Wellsville man scalded early today by water was treated at City Hospital, where nine others were treated Monday.

Frank McIntosh II, son of Frank McIntosh of Salineville RD 1, abrasions of the back and laceration of the scalp and right elbow in a fall from a bicycle; Kathleen Peterson, daughter of Thomas Peterson of 1121 White St., Wellsville, a laceration of the left foot on a mirror.

Thomas G. Wilson, son of James Wilson of 108 Pink Alley, a dog bite on the lip; Walter Landis of Calcutta, lacerations of the front and back of the head in a fall down steps at home.

Single Clue Did It

NEW DELHI (AP) — A merchant left his bag containing 35,000 rupees ($4,900) in the tonga (a horse-drawn carriage) in which he rode to work. The only clue he could give detectives was that the driver kept murmuring a Hindu - Moslem unity slogan. Two detectives went to a few major tonga stands with that clue, and the tonga was soon located, along with the money bag, which the tonga driver had not noticed.

Auto Strikes Area Girl, 14

LISBON — A 14-year-old area girl received only bruises when struck by an auto Monday afternoon, police reported. The volunteer firemen's ambulance was damaged in a mishap later in the afternoon.

Jessica Marchbanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Marchbanks of Lisbon RD 5, came home from Salem City Hospital yesterday after X-rays revealed no fractures.

She was struck by a car driven by Charles E. Pelley, 34, of Rogers RD 1 about 2:30 on N. Market St. (Route 45) 150 feet north of the Square.

Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt said witnesses reported the girl stepped from behind a truck into the path of the northbound car.

Police said the ambulance accident occurred at 4:10 p.m. while enroute to the county home with a Chestnut St. woman.

The emergency vehicle continued on its run and the crew reported the mishap on return.

Police said the ambulance, driven by Thomas Senanefes, 45, of Thomas Rd., collided with a 1966 station wagon driven by Sue E. Taylor, 16, of 416 E. Lincoln Way.

Both vehicles were traveling west on Lincoln Way (Route 30) and the ambulance driver attempted to pass the station wagon as the driver was turning left into the post office driveway.

Witnesses told police the ambulance siren was not on and the girl driving the station wagon was not at fault. There was damage to the left front of her vehicle and the right side of the ambulance.

Council purchased the 1960 ambulance for $1,350 May 22 to replace a 1963 amnulance demolished April 15 in a collision near East Fairfield.

Reminder Given In Expense Lists For Candidates

Persons who sought nomination or election in the May 5 primaries and have not filed campaign expenses with the County Election Board have only three days remaining in which to comply with the law, Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, reminded today.

The reports are due at the Election Board's office by Friday at 4 p. m.

Fifteen persons have not complied with the law, which requires the statements from all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees and individuals which supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The list includes three successful candidates, but the board cannot issue them certificates of nomination unless they comply with the reporting law, Miss Resnick said.

Streets

eliminate one of the major causes of the pavement deterioration.

There is a possibility concrete surfacing will be placed underneath the short stretch of Ralston's Crossing which connects State St. with the River Rd. Engineer George Bloomgren told Council in March the existing surface is "constantly churned up by traffic" and added "blacktop will not last in a spot like that."

Council also enacted several pieces of minor legislation that would:

Boost the annual uniform allowance of the "Meter Maid" force from $100 to $150.

Raise the salaries of the three members of the Municipal Civil Service Commission from $100 to $150 annually, confirming a previous decision. The members are H. A. Tullis, chairman, A. A. Fiorello and Tom Phillips.

Rezone a West End tract north of W. 9th St. to permit erection of a "high rise" apartment building for housing for the elderly by the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Amend the zoning ordinance to provide for changes in regulations on advertising signs recommended by the City Planning Commission after conferences with representatives of the sign industry.

The original zoning ordinance did not permit so-called "high rise" structures such as the housing authority proposes to build with a federally-guaranteed loan. The change in zoning, covering the immediate area of the housing project, clears the way for erection of the multi-storied 130-unit structure.

THE CHANGE in sign regulations covers various technical points which were raised by advertising companies after enactment of the zoning regulations. The changes were worked out in a series of conferences between sign company representatives and the planning commission dating back nearly six months.

In other business, Council authorized Solicitor J. Michael Kapp to prepare legislation calling for construction of three new vault-type latrines in Thompson Park. The action was taken after Council was given a copy of a letter written to the Thompson Park Board by Health Commissioner Jack Bonner asserting that the present privies in the park are in need of replacement.

The claims committee was given a $145.99 bill against the city from Mae Varian for alleged water damage in the basement of a building at 105 E. 6th St. The claim said the damage was caused by a blocked sewer.

Councilman Edward Massey of the Fourth Ward was given copies of a notice from the State Liquor Control Board citing two applications for licenses. The board said Salvatore Fricano, operator of Sam's Market at 255 W. 9th St., has applied for a carry-out beer license and Richard and Glenda Wilk, doing business as Wilk's at 606 Dresden Ave., have applied for a night club license. Council is required to advise the state agency whether it has any objections to issuance of the permits.

THE STREET committee was given a request for a change in a location of a streetlight at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. Councilman John Wilson was given a complaint from College St. residents asserting there is a weed-grown lot in the neighborhood on the site of a razed house.

Merl McSwegin, realtor, advised Council the former American Poolroom building on E. 6th St. is for sale for $29,500 if the city is interested in the tract as a site for off-street parking. The lot is 43-x-130 feet, the letter said. The street committee was asked to investigate.

F. R. DeLonzo, legislative representative of Riverview Lodge 298 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Wellsville, sent Council a letter complaining that vandals have hurled objects at Penn Central trains passing through East Liverpool. The complaint was referred to the police department "for immediate attention."

Council received a letter from Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne explaining that officers of the fire department wish to confer with Council on wages and working conditions. President Norman Bucher said a special session will be scheduled soon and Council will confer then with the officers.

Kapp told Council he has received a letter from the State Board of Tax Appeals advising that the city's case against the County Budget Commission will be argued before the state agency at Columbus June 27 at 10 a.m.

The city seeks to compel the county agency to authorize immediate allocation of new revenue expected from a boost in the city income tax. The county agency said the money could not be appropriated until it actually had been received.

Councilman Robert W. Sample issued a reminder that property owners should keep weeds cut, particularly on vacant lots.

Driver Hospitalized After He 'Passes Out'

A LaGrange (Ill.) man who passed out in his auto while halted at a stoplight is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a concussion.

Daniel Joseph Moody of 1030 S. Stone Ave. told hospital authorities he had been in an accident about two weeks ago in New York. He said he became dizzy while waiting for a traffic light to change, but didn't mention where the incident occurred.

A passerby brought Moody to the hospital Monday.

Fracas Site Remains Unclear, Officers Say

Hancock County Sheriffs Deputies said today two youths injured in a fracus near Chester Friday night have not disclosed where the incident occurred.

Davis Moore of 103 Railroad St., Chester, and David Dugan of 583 Virginia Ave., were treated at City Hospital where they told authorities they were hurt in a fight at Terrance Lanes.

However, an official of the Route 30 business place said no such incident took place there, and that there was evidence it occurred on a farm north of the Route 30 intersection with Route 8.

Rhodes Plans Lower Voting Age Measure

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes was a big hit at Buckeye Boys State Monday night when he told the youthful citizens he would introduce a bill in the legislature to lower the voting age in Ohio.

Rhodes was wildly cheered and received a standing ovation.

"I believe in all sincerity if the 11 million people of Ohio could see its operation here and see the effort and enthusiasm and understanding of government they too would want you to vote and play a most important role in the great state of Ohio," Rhodes said.

The governor did not mention any specific age. The present voting age is 21.

Earlier Monday, Boys State Senate elected Nationalist Walter M. Cummings, 16, Columbus as president pro-tem, and chose Federalist John M. Russell, 16, Cuyahoga Falls, as minority leader.

Ron J. Meyer, 16, Hamilton, a Federalist, was elected House speaker and James D. Rosenberger, 17, Canal Fulton, was chosen speaker pro-tem.

John D. Nutte of Canton was named secretary of state by Boys State Gov. Gregory R. Huth of Seven Hills.

Beaver College To Seek Support

A move has been started by some of the sponsoring districts of the Beaver County Community College to have the county commissioners take over the sole sponsorship of the institution.

Representatives of the school districts that sponsor the college met Monday night at Freedom Area High School.

Although a quorum was not present, the delegates moved the commissioners sponsor the college. A mail vote will be conducted of all the districts.

Commissioners today had no comment on the move.

The college is sponsored by 27 county school districts. Seventeen were represented, but only nine had a quorum of their representatives. There must be a quorum from 14 districts for official action.

The nominating committee announced a list of candidates for trustees. It includes Maurice Newman of Midland. The committee also recommends increasing the trustees to 15 members.

Assessment Cleared For Downtown Lights

City Council approved legislation Monday night setting the annual assessment against property owners to pay the cost of improved street lighting installed in the central business district in 1963.

The assessment will be $1.36 per front foot to be applied toward the cost of operating the fluorescent lighting system, the legislation provides. Owners of business property signed a petition in 1963 agreeing to pay the difference in cost between the former incandescent lights and the new fixtures.

Property owners may pay the assessments in cash until July 30 at the office of City Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger. Then they will be certified to County Auditor Kenneth Bell for collection on the real estate tax duplicate.

Deaths and Funerals

Wilmer W. Pugh

Wilmer W. Pugh, 60, of Grandview, Chester RD 1, a caster at the Taylor Smith & Taylor Co., was pronounced dead on arrival Monday at 6:45 p.m. at City Hospital. He had taken ill earlier at the home.

He was born in Chester Jan. 9, 1908, a son of the late Robert Pugh and Harriet H. Pugh. He had resided in the Chester area his lifetime. He belonged to Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 and the IBOP.

Friends may call at the chapel Wednesday.

Mary Taylor

Mary Taylor, 3, daughter of William and Jacqueline Taylor of 408 Grant St., died this morning at the emergency room at City Hospital where she had been taken a short time before by the family suffering from an illness.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Michalski

A former Hammondsville resident, Mrs. Corrine Peoples Michalski, 70, died Monday at St. John's Hospital in Cleveland after a brief illness.

A resident of Cleveland, she was the wife of Atty. Charles Michalski.

She was the daughter of the late Jasper Peoples and Alice Houge Peoples. She attended school in Hammondsville.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Betty Wolf of Madison, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Mabel Gillis of San Diego, Calif.; a brother, Leroy Peoples of Cleveland, and a grandson.

Services and burial will be in Cleveland.

Lloyd B. Stewart

Services for Lloyd Byron Stewart, 67, of Ranch Rd., East Palestine, were held last Thursday at the Van Dyke Funeral Home, East Palestine.

He died June 11 at his farm home after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. Burial was in Grandview Cemetery, Salem.

He was born Sept. 11, 1900, at Franklin Square, Ohio, a son of the late Jacob and Matilda Horn Stewart. He received his education at Chain's Rural School and attended the Koch Lutheran Church. He was a former member of the Unity Grange.

He is survived by two sisters, Miss Iva Stewart and Miss Effie Stewart, both at home. A brother, Charles Stewart, died in 1962.

Charles Trautman

Services for Charles A. Trautmann of Substation RD 2, who died Monday, will be held Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

He was the son of the late Charles Trautman and Lula Louise Caine Trautman.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and tonight.

Barron Bribery Trial Probably To Start July 8

CHARLESTON (AP) — The trial of former Gov. W. W. Barron and five co-defendants on charges of bribery and conspiracy may begin here July 8, the U.S. attorney's office said Monday.

Besides Barron, the federal indictment returned last February names former State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers, former deputy Road Commissioner Vincent Johnkoski, former State Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore, Elkins attorney Bonn Brown and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath.

Brown and Schroath are accused of telling certain companies they could obtain state government contracts in return for payments to several firms allegedly created by Schroath. Barron and the others allegedly conspired to direct business to those companies making payment by letting state contracts without requiring competitive bids, the indictment charges.

All six men have been freed on bond.

Inmates Refuse Work Assignments At Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Warden Ernie Maxwell said 51 inmates refused work assignments at the Ohio Penitentiary Monday afternoon, protesting the court treatment of a man sentenced to 1-7 years for grand larceny.

Maxwell said the stoppage lasted about four hours and there were no incidents. He said the inmates were later placed in their cells and interviewed about grievances.

Action Slated On Gas Rates At Wellsville

A revised gas rate proposal will be one of the matters facing Wellsville Council tonight at City Hall.

Representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. are to submit a decision on a counter - proposal submitted by Council's franchise committee during a special meeting June 10.

In other business, Council will act on legislation authorized June 10 to borrow $25,000 for a treasury investment to meet current expenses.

Action is also due on a proposed levy for new fire apparatus.

Methodists Note Dip In Membership

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Total membership of the 774 churches of the North-East Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Church declined about one per cent last year, but per capita giving increased.

This was reported Monday at the opening session of the conference's 30th annual meeting.

The Rev. Harry J. Young of McConnelsville, the conference statistician, told the 1,200 delegates that the conference—one of Methodism's five largest—now has 273,959 members, down 3,434 from a year ago.

The conference treasurer, the Rev. Harold T. Wintermute of Akron, said per capita giving was up $1.17 to $66.61. Contributions in the conference totaled more than $18 million last year, a gain of $148,000 over the previous year, he reported.

"Our nation and our world are sick," Dr. William H. Phillips, Canton district superintendent, said in his state-of-the-church address. "The assassinations of Martin Luther King, Robert Francis Kennedy and other civil rights leaders are but symptons of our illness."

He said that if the church is to fulfill its role in changing the world for the better. "The individual Christian will have to commit far more of his time, talents and income in an expansion of love and concern for others."

Miss Pamela Barker Wed In Ceremony At Toronto

Miss Pamela Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Onel A. Barker Jr. of Toronto RD 2 became the bride of William T. Young Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Young of Hammondsville, June 8 at 2:30 p.m. in the Toronto First Church of the Nazarene.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stephen Bender of the Stratton Nazarene Church.

Yellow satin bows centered with daisies marked the pews along the bridal aisle leading to the altar, which was arrayed by arrangements of greenery, bouquets of yellow daisies, roses, baby breath and lighted candelabra.

—:—

MISS KAREN Steele, organist, a niece of the bridegroom, presented a half - hour of organ music. Ray Lautzenheiser and William Carlisle were soloists. "O Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest" were sung by Carlisle and a duet, "One Hand, One Heart," was sung by the two.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a slipper-length cage-style gown of silk organza adorned with motifs of lace. It was designed with long sleeves and a banded circle neckline with lace, which was also carried out in the hemline of the gown. Attached to the back was a chapel train studded with motifs of lace. She wore a chapel-length Mantilla banded with matching Venice lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses, daisies and baby breath. In observing the traditions, she wore a blue garter, a sixpence and carried a handkerchief given to her by her grandmother. She also wore a diamond pendant necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

FOR HER honeymoon to the Pocono Mountains, the bride chose a navy and white dress and coat ensemble with navy accessories and a red, white and blue corsage of daisies.

Mrs. Bonnie Fraley, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Deborah Glenn and Colleen Flanagan, cousins of the bride, and Miss Barbara Guhl and Miss Mary Ann Bigler, sorority sisters of the bride. The matron of honor wore a mint green karate floor - length gown and her headpiece was a daisy cluster with a miniature bouffant veil.

The bridesmaids were attired in maize gowns and headpieces designed on the same lines as the matron of honor. They carried bouquets of daisies, roses and baby breath with matching velvet streamers.

Leisa Ferry, niece of the bridegroom, and Christine Flanagan, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore mint green gowns. Carla Lawrence and Susan Heiney, both nieces of the bridegroom, wore maize gowns made and designed by Mrs. Betty Beadnell. They carried wicker baskets of daisy petals.

The bride's mother chose a mint green dress with matching lace coat and accessories and a corsage of yellow daisies, yellow roses and baby breath. The bridegroom's mother wore a yellow dress with matching lace coat and white accessories and a corsage of white roses, daisies and baby breath.

MRS. WILLIAM YOUNG
Residing In Hammondsville.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Onel Barker, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Eva Cronin, both wore corsages of white daisies.

Lonnie Fraley, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and Joseph Urich, Dr. A. D. Steele and Kenneth Rose, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, and Ross Flanagan Jr., uncle of the bride, were ushers. Gregg Rose, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

A RECEPTION was held at St. Joseph Byzantine Church after the ceremony. The five-tier wedding cake centered the bridal table, which was encircled with fresh daisies and greenery, as were the punch bowls. Fresh flower arrangements of yellow daisies and baby breath with lighted candles completed the setting.

The buffet table was decorated with lighted silver candelabra and yellow daisies and the tables were covered with white satin cloths overlaid with white net. The hall was decorated with colors of the wedding party and accented with white wedding bells and daisy garlands.

THE BRIDE, a 1966 graduate of Stanton Local High School, is attending West Liberty College. She is majoring in dental hygiene and is a member of the Delta Zeta sorority.

Her husband is a 1961 graduate of Irondale High School and served with the armed forces and is now an engineer at the Ohio Edison Co. in Stratton.

The couple will reside with the bridegroom's parents in Hammondsville.

The rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Jane Lawrence, sister of the bridegroom, at her home. Gifts were presented to the wedding party.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cronin of St. Louis, Mo., uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Jayne Morgan of Yorba Linda, Calif., aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn Jr. and family of Whittier, Calif., cousins of the bride, and Cindy Bond of Florida, a sorority sister of the bride.

New Courses For WAC, Aircraft Maintenance Set

New opportunities for Woman's Army Corps enlistees and men interested in aircraft maintenance have been announced by Staff Sgt. Robert Dusock, local Army recruiter.

The sergeant pointed out that applications are available for a WAC officer basic course.

NEW educational opportunities for the WAC include: Telephone switchboard operator, postal operations, map compiling, ADPS programming, meteorological observations, transportation movements control, pharmacy specialist and flight simulator operation and maintenance.

The quotas for the schools are limited, so interested women between the ages of 18 and 34 must apply immediately, Dusock said. The enlistee must be a high school graduate or a senior, unmarried and able to pass the aptitude tests for the chosen school.

Applications will be accepted until late June for the WAC officer basic course beginning Aug. 6. Women must be between the ages of 20 and 32 and have received a college degree. They then would be eligible to apply for a direct appointment as an officer and attend the course.

Following the 18-week course at Ft. McClellan, Ala., the graduates will be appointed as either first or second lieutenants and be eligible for stations throughout the continental United States, Hawaii, Alaska, several European countries, Panama and the Orient, Dusock said.

AREA MEN interested in the aircraft maintenance field have an opportunity to experience on-the-job training in addition to several courses leading to specialization.

Courses in helicopter repair and airframe repair are given at the Army Transportation School at Ft. Eustis, Va. Other courses include aircraft maintenance entry and single rotor turbine utility helicopter maintenance at the Army Aviation School at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

High school graduates will be tested by the Army and, if qualified, receive a written guarantee of training in the field before they enlist.

The Army Recruiting office is located in the Post Office Building on Broadway.

County Board Delays Action On Pay Boosts

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education Monday night told its three specialists it will consider salary increases for them, but not until the money is available. That may be next spring, they said.

The specialists are the elementary and high school supervisors and the school psychologist.

They are Peter Marra, high school supervisor; Lorin Ruff, elementary consultant, and Hubert Lawrence, psychologist.

Beginning July 1 under provisions of Senate Bill 483, the state will pay $1,195 per year toward retirement of each of the three. The county board has been paying this.

The specialists suggested that this money, appropriated but unneeded with the state payment, be distributed among them as salary increases.

THEY SAID their salaries are no higher proportionately than those of master's degree teachers who work only 36 weeks a year compared with their 48.

A review of finances given by Mrs. June Ingraham, secretary, showed that the board is approximately $4,000 in the red because appropriated funds are coming in slower than they are being spent.

She said state payments under S.B. 483 will reverse this trend so that by the end of the fiscal year next June the board should have a balance of $2,992.

Donald Elliott, Rogers attorney, said he would not consider distributing funds before they are available. The supervisors suggested, as an alternative, that the board reduce their contracts from 12 to 11 months if raises are not granted next year.

James L. McBride, county superintendent, reported that John A. McKnight, chief of the Ohio Department of Education's division on school district reorganization, will meet with the county board and the four local boards at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Crestview High School.

McKnight also will meet with the boards of Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Fairfield - Waterford concerning a proposed merger of those districts.

The county board is opposed to the five district merger since Fairfield - Waterford is part of the county system.

BOARD members accepted four - year textbook adoptions for foreign languages and commercial subjects. They were presented by Peter Marra, high school supervisor, after conferences with teachers of the various subjects.

Vernon A. Walrath, supervisor of the cooperative vocational education program, submitted a written report covering the past year. In this program, cooperating schools offer certain vocational subjects and students travel between schools to get the courses they want.

Concluding his report, Walrath wrote:

"I had hoped to see more substantial progress made toward a jointure that could better save all students in the area, but this will not become a reality until the various factions in the concerned districts can settle upon a plan that will do the job and then follow through and implement it.

"We have gone almost as far as we can with our present types of programs. What is now needed are more in-school programs which represent physical facilities and equipment not available at present. We need to look towarl providing these. A way must be found to pool human and financial resources sufficient to accomplish the job to be faced in providing adequate vocational education for the youth and adults of the county community."

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Joseph A Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) says he will seek an agreement with the Bell Telephone System to require all employes to pay dues to the union.

"When CWA members go out on the picket line to win a package that amounts to thousands of dollars for a person," he told a union convention Monday, "I hate to see all those benefits going to a free loader."

By "free loader" he meant nonunion members who receive benefits negotiated by the union. Federal labor law requires unions to bargain for all employes covered by a contract, including nonunion members.

Beirne's union, which won its biggest wage and benefit increase ever last month after an 18-day nationwide strike, would not be able to seek the proposed dues agreement until the present contract expires in 1971.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department, acting under the new Wholesome Meat Act of 1967, has designated 20 processing plants as "endangering public health."

The department said Monday four of the plants—in Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut and Delaware—had been closed by state officials and fifth, in Nevada, was closed temporarily for a clean up.

Corrective action has been started in the other 15 plants to remedy the federal charges, the department said. It did not disclose the names of the companies involved or the specific location of the plants.

Reasons cited for the "endangering public health" designation included lack of sanitation, unsanitary handling of products, lack of insect and vermin control and improper control of inedible, diseased and condemned carcasses.

Capital Footnote

The Agriculture Department says a survey in six major cities shows little variation in supermarket chains' food prices between high and low-income neighborhoods. The survey did not list the cities but a source identified them as Philadelphia, San Francisco, Denver, Detroit, Chicago and Dallas.

Housing

am, Robert W. Sample and Frank Duffy.

The measure was requested early in 1968 by the East Liverpool Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Following the enactment, two NAACP members in the audience commended Council for its action.

"We appreciate the action taken by Council on this ordinance," Caesar Peters said. "I believe it states the attitude of the people of East Liverpool."

"I believe this shows the strength of the community, when a problem is recognized and steps are taken to correct it," Alonzo Spencer told Council. "I thank Council for its action. We have found negativism in many areas, but it does not exist here."

THE LEGISLATION covers four and a half typewritten pages on legal size paper. In substance, it says that all persons must be treated equally in the sale, lease or rental of commercial property or housing units and that there shall be no discrimination because of "race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin."

In addition to the other provisions, it bans real estate advertisements for sale or rental of property "which indicate any preference, limitation, specification or discrimination. . ."

The ordinance also outlaws a practice which is known as "block-busting" in major cities. On this question, the legislation says it is unlawful to "induce or solicit any or all housing listings, sale or transaction by representing that a change has occurred or may occur with respect to the racial, religious or ethnic composition. . . which may result in any of the following: The lowering of poperty values; a change in the racial religious or ethnic composition of the area; an increase in criminal or anti-social behavior in the area, or a decline in the quality of the schools serving are area."

The ordinance calls for appointment of a nine - member board to listen to complaints and determine if a violation has occurred. If the board acts affirmatively, it is required to certify its findings to the city solicitor to commence prosecution.

The ordinance provides a minimum penalty of $100 for a first violation, but the fine may range as high as $250. For each subsequent offense, the fine would range from $250 to $500, plus a six-month jail term, the legislation provides.

The ordinance contains an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

Before the new legislation was presented for consideration, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp pointed out to Council that the U. S. Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the validity of an 1866 civil rights law including a fair housing statute that prohibits racial discrimination in all sales and rentals of property. The law was passed in the Reconstruction era immediately after the Civil War.

Kapp said he had not had an opportunity to make a full study of the 102-year-old law, but added: "Our ordinance may be stronger."

Fined At Wellsville

John Steiner of Chicago was fined $10 and costs in acting mayor Wayne Rose's court at Wellsville today on a reckless operation charge.

Steiner pleaded not guilty to the charge issued after his car rammed the rear of another, driven by Paul L. Jarvis of 302½ Broadway, Wellsville, stopped at a traffic light Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Unusual Meats

SKUKUZA, South Africa (AP) —Gourmets with a yen for gnu steak, elephant trunk and other delicacies will be able to satisfy their taste in Kruger National Park. A meat processing plant for game which are shot to control their numbers opens this month. Carcasses will be available for the table only when it was necessary to thin out herds, an official said.

U.S. Plans Reconstruction Of Aircraft Shelters In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has ordered urgent reconstruction of shelters for its aircraft in South Vietnam to protect against intensified Viet Cong rocket and mortar attacks.

"Recent attacks on Air Force bases in Vietnam have demonstrated the need for better protection of aircraft" than the current roofless shelters now in use, the Air Force said Monday in response to questions.

At present, the aircraft, most costing at least $1 million each, are parked on bases in South Vietnam in roofless revetements made from earth-filled steel walls five feet wide and 12 feet high.

The first steps taken to carry out the program are now under way in the form of tests to determine the best material to use in building roofs for the current shelters. When the tests are finished in the near future, construction will start.

Because the enemy hasn't made air raids against the bases these shelters were thought adequate, at least until the Tet offensive early this year showed them vulnerable to rocket and mortar fire.

When the damage from the offensive was tallied, it was found that 192 aircraft were either destroyed or badly damaged from the bombardment.

Eye Western Trip

Betsy Welker and Martha Rogers, members of Horizon Club 39 of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., are making final arrangements for the "Conservation Be-In," the national Horizon Club conference which they will attend July 8-27 at Estes Park, Colo.

Some 1,000 girls from all over the country will participate in "Adventure 68" event, staying four days at the park and then fan out into groups of 30 girls for 12 days for various phases of the program.

MISS WELKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Welker of 901 Orchard Grove Ave., has been a member of Camp Fire Girls for six years, participating in activities of Camp Fire Girls, the Junior High Group and at present Horizon Club 39, of which Mrs. Charles Lang is adviser.

She attended day and overnight camping at Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville, day and overnight camping at Echo Dell, where she also participated in primitive resident camping. She was a member of the delegation which attended the regional conference last October in Grand Rapids, Mich. Miss Welker is serving her second term as president of her unit.

Her travelcade adventure will include the Southern Canadian Rockies, the Bob Marshall Wilderness, Glacier National Park and the Garden Wall. She will hike across the Canadian border, visit the Blackfeet Indians, meet naturalists, hikers and hunters, engineers, ranchers and Canadian officials.

MISS ROGERS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Rogers of 614 Louisiana Ave., Chester, has been active in elementary Camp Fire Girls, the Junior High Group and Horizon Club 39. She attended primitive camping at Echo Dell and other phases of camping in her six-year membership. She assisted with programs at the Elkton School for Retarded Children, packed Christmas kits for Vietnam and participated in various programs.

Her itinerary will include the Oregon Dunes and the California Redwoods, beginning with a cable car swing through San Francisco and ending in Oregon's capital at Salem. She will travel a special narrow gauge railroad into the forest land of the giant redwoods. Along the route will be a visit to Ft. Bragg, Point Reyes National Seashore, Gold Beach, Harris Beach State Park, Siuslaw National Park, the Marine Laboratory and the Coast Guard lighthouse.

Board Given Staff Reports

Harold West, attendance officer for the East Liverpool School District, reported a total of 1,949 student absences investigated during the 1967-1968 school year.

Personal illness accounted for 449; family illness, 27; death in the family, 20; moving of residence, 55 poverty and school aid, 16, and truancy, 468.

He reported 189 were kept out by parents, 58 were erroneously reported, 89 were working and miscellaneous absences accounted for 75 more. Absence to appear in court accounted for 76 cases.

West reported that 77 conferences were held with parents, 182 legal notices were sent to parents, 29 police conferences were held, 22 informal hearings were held and 117 conferences on attendance conducted.

Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, reported that the health department provided first aid 1,410 times and gave 2,014 physical exams and 405 partial physical exams. She said 750 home calls and 921 visits to schools were made and 1,091 conferences held.

There were 240 students checked for lice and five cases found. TB tests were given to 3,181 with 15 ruled positive. Mrs. Jones said there were 378 cases of rashes and allergy, 191 cases of impetago; 1,733 of colds and flu; 416 of measles, 329 of mumps, 70 of poison ivy, four of scarlet fever, 31 of pink eye and 249 of chicken pox.

Other programs of the health office included clothing collected and distributed for needy pupils, first aid supplies ordered for schools, immunization records checked, dental program held, assistance at Christmas for needy families and parties, and aid at St. Aloysius School with physical exams, TB testing and immunization records.

Nancy Standley Marries In Rites At Trinity U. P.

The Trinity United Presbyterian Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Nancy June Standley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Standley of 306 Vine St., and R. M. (Monty) Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waite of Sturgess Ave., June 8 at 10:30 a. m.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Gene Toot before an altar arrangement of palms and ferns. Mrs. Rowland Kaufman was organist.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a full-length white lace over taffeta gown, styled with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and a detachable chapel train. Her brief three-tier veil of nylon net was held in place with white ribbon and small flowers. She carried a corsage of daisies and ivy. For traveling, she wore a two-piece blue and white suit.

Dolores Adkins, maid of honor, was attired in a full-length pale green chiffon gown with powder blue accessories and a brief blue nylon veil. She wore a daisy corsage.

The bride's mother chose a beige and white ensemble and the bridegroom's mother a pink outfit. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Lester Abrams was best man.

A RECEPTION followed at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered with a two-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Aides were Miss Marsha Standley, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Helen Polen, aunt of the bride, who also wore an orchid corsage.

MRS. R. M. WAITE
Residing In Cleveland.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of East Liverpool High School and the Ohio Valley Business College. She was a dental assistant to Dr. Norman Birnbaum. Her husband, a 1963 graduate of the same high school, attended Kent State University. He is a production manager at the Cleveland Steel Co.

Following a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the couple is residing in Cleveland.

The bridegroom's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner.

Patrol Lists Four Mishaps

A city woman and a Dover man were injured in one of four traffic mishaps investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Monday.

Treated at City Hospital was Mrs. Lynn Baughman, 42, of Thompson Ave., for a laceration of the lip. Suffering noticible injuries were James M. Wilson, 22, driver of the auto, who made his own medical arrangements, officers reported.

The one-car mishap occurred on County RD. 427 about a mile west of here when the westbound 1966 coach, operated by Wilson went out of control on a curve, veered off the south side of the road and crashed into a ditch.

Wilson was cited by the patrol for speeding in view of conditions as the aftermath of the 8:20 p.m. accident.

The car was damaged badly, officers added.

A 1929 station wagon, driven by Lee Cockovich, 43, of 142 Broad St. was involved in a second one-car mishap yesterday.

Cockovich told officers his car was heading south on County Rd. 435, near East End, when the brakes failed and the car crashed into an embankment.

The mishap was timed at 11:35 a. m.

A Girard woman was injured as the result of a mishap on Route 7, two miles north of Route 30 at 11:20 p. m.

"Fairly good" at City Hospital is Mrs. Mary Jane Corsale, 35, of Girard, with an injury to the right shoulder as the result of a one-car mishap involving a 1965 sedan.

Patrolmen reported the sedan, operated by Gene L. Hilston, 61, also from Girard, crashed into a ditch after it failed to make a left turn while northbound on Route 7.

Three trucks were involved in a mishap at 12:55 p. m. on Route 30 about a half-mile from West Point.

John R. Ralston, 20, of Wellsburg, W. Va., said his tractor-trailer was unable to stop in time when two trucks in front slowed. Ralston said to avoid a collision, he veered his truck to the left to overtake the other vehicles just as the lead truck made a left turn.

Patrolmen said the Ralston truck then rammed into the side of the van-type truck driven by Francis Zalac, 31, of Lowellville.

The driver of the third truck was unidentified, ofificers said.

his decision as soon as he hears all the evidence.

Ray was brought to Bow Street today for the second time since his arrest 10 days ago. The magistrate ordered him returned to Wandsworth Prison.

Two attorneys from Birmingham, Ala., Arthur J. Hanes and his son, Arthur Jr., are expected in London Wednesday to assist Ray's British attorney.

The hearing today was the customary two - minute session when a court has decided on a postponement.

Ray, wearing a blue checked suit and glasses, sat impassively in the dock while attorneys and the magistrate discussed details.

Attorneys for the U.S. government told the magistrate that Ray is wanted on a charge of murdering Dr. King in Memphis April 4 and also on a charge of escaping from Missouri State Prison while serving an armed robbery sentence.

Documentary evidence already has been produced in London, the American lawyers told the court, and a fingerprint expert will be flown over to testify at the extradition hearing.

Ray was arrested at London airport June 8 and charged then with entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicesed loaded gun.

After preliminary hearing before Milton June 10 on the passport and gun charges, he has been held under round-the-clock guard at Wandsworth Prison while Scotland Yard tried to reconstruct his movements and contacts during the three weeks he is believed to have spent in London before his arrest.

The U.S. Embassy forwarded the request for his extradition to the British government last Wednesday.

Under the 1931 extradition treaty between Britain and the United States, British courts can grant extradition only if U.S. authorities present evidence suffcient to send Ray to trial under British law.

Extradition of Ray was also asked because he is wanted by Missouri to complete a prison term for armed robbery. While extradition on this charge would be almost automatic, the U.S.-British treaty specifies that a suspect can only be tried on the charges for which he has been specifically extradited. Therefore unless he is extradited for the murder of the Negro civil rights leader, he cannot be prosecuted on that charge in the United States.

Australia, with just under three people per square mile, is the world's least - populated continent.

namese, most carried weapons and most were wounded.

The new governor of Saigon, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, said he expected new Viet Cong infantry attacks on the capital soon but doubted the enemy would carry out the 100-round-a-day rocket shelling it had threatened would start this week.

"Experience has shown us that the Communists never do what they say they will do," he told a news conference. "Expect them to do what they don't say."

For the second straight day, no rockets hit Saigon.

Minh, former commander of an infantry division in the Mekong Delta said he believed the Viet Cong attack Saigon for two reasons. "The first is to establish their infrastructure, the second to create an anxiety state among the population," he said.

Reports on enemy aerial activity along the demilitarized zone last weekend differed, with Vietnamese reports saying anywhere from 2 to 12 helicopters were shot down.

The U.S. Command said Monday that radar showed unidentified aircraft at the eastern end of the DMZ.

"The low-flying aircraft were suspected to be enemy helicopters and were taken under fire by naval vessels and U.S. aircraft in the area," a command statement said. It said daylight reconnaissance flights were made Monday but results were not yet available.

In roughly the same time period as the reported helicopter action, a 50-foot U.S. Navy Swift boat was shelled and sunk off the coast of the DMZ, the U.S. cruiser Boston was shot at three times in the same area, and the Australian destroyer Hobart was hit by an American missile, presumably from an American plane.

In the missile attack on the Australian destroyer, the Australian navy said in Canberra:

"On present indications the weapon was a United States air-to-air missile called Sparrow fired by a friendly aircraft. Formal investigations are being conducted." The navy said the missile was believed to have misfired.

A U. S. Command statement said "initial reports indicate that the weapon may have been a ..Sparrow."

In the air war, the MIG21 and the American F4 Phantom from the carrier America clashed northwest of Vinh, the panhandle's chief city 145 miles north of the DMZ.

It was the second American plane shot down by a MIG since President Johnson restricted U.S. bombing of North Vietnam to the area south of the 19th parallel and the 853rd U.S. warplane reported lost over North Vietnam.

Elsewhere in the air war, U.S. B52 bombers marked the third anniversary of their entry into the war with eight raids on enemy positions 27 to 53 miles from Saigon, including three raids in the same general area as the first B52 strike on June 18, 1965.

their mother's sex conduct.

3. Freedom for community antenna television operators to pick up copyrighted movies and cartoons from TV stations without having to pay for them.

The 5-4 decision on drunks was surprising, particularly since the court six years ago said California could not make it a crime for a person to be addicted to narcotics.

Justice Marshall, in the court's judgment, stressed that facilities for treating impoverished alcoholics "are woefully lacking throughout the country."

"It would be tragic," he said, "to return large numbers of helpless, sometimes dangerous and frequently unsanitary inebriates to the streets of our cities without even the opportunity to sober up adequately which a brief jail term provides."

Stewart, who in several instances this term showed new liberal leanings, dissented with Fortas, Douglas and Brennan.

The welfare decision, a unanimous ruling given by Warren, struck down Alabama's version of the "man-in-the-house" rule and could knock out similar rules in 17 other states.

Alabama, said Warren, violated the 1935 Social Security law and federal policy by barring assistance to needy children solely because their mothers had extramarital sex relations.

juveniles and nonresidents of a state.

Dodd also has offered a bill providing compulsory federal registration of all firearms and prohibiting sale of ammunition to anyone unable to furnish proof that his firearm is registered.

The evenstricter measure has been offered by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md. It not only would require the registration of all firearms but a license for their purchase or possession.

The states would be given a chance to enact their own registration and licensing laws under Tydings' bill, but the proposed federal legislation would control in states that failed to act.

South Side Events

Mrs. Caroline Wright, Hookstown, 573-9762
Mrs. L. H. Wagner, Georgetown, 573-9329
Mrs. Raymond Scott, Shippingport 643-8329

HOOKSTOWN — A display and dedication of the sewing project of the Womens Association of the Mill Creek Church featured the meeting Thursday evening in the church.

Mrs. Grace Laughlin led the prayer of dedication. There were more than twice as many articles donated as were requested, the officers said.

Mrs. Kay Blair of Midland discussed retarded children, including work at the Institute in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Rita Pursifull described her work with the Welcome Wagon in Aliquippa and presented a "Welcome Kit" to each person present.

New officers for 1969 were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Marie Elliott, vice president, Mrs. Sue Johnson, secretary, Mrs. Helen Snyder, and treasurer, Mrs. Jean Soisson.

A report was given on the progress of the South Side Senior Citizens Club, which is being sponsored by the association.

Refreshments were served 34 by the hostesses, Mrs. Elsie McElhaney and Mrs. Dorothy Lyons.

Personalities In The News

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. (AP) — A pretty, 21-year-old coed from San Jose State College in California today ruled as National College Queen, she is the first Negro to win the 14-year-old pageant.

Valerie Laverne Dickerson, 5-feet-3 and 111 pounds, won the title and $10,000 in prizes Monday night in competition with 49 other girls representing U.S. colleges.

Miss Dickerson is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William C. Dickerson of Riverside, Calif.

"I feel my winning was a help to Negroes," she said. "I think it added a small bit in their fight for dignity. I suddenly became an extension of so many people."

—:—

LONDON (AP) — Charles, Prince of Wales, has become a Knight of the Garter under his mother's sword.

Queen Elizabeth II tapped her 19-year-old, lanky first-born son on the shoulder Monday, ordered him to tie the garter to his leg and presented him with a kingfisher blue riband to wear over his left shoulder and the Garter star.

Charles, heir to the throne, underwent the ceremony in St. George's Chapel in London with the dignity of a monarch-to-be.

Charles, standing firm, took the knight's oath to be courageous, "and having underaken a just war thou mayest stand firm, valiantly fight, courageously and successfully conquer."

NEW YORK (AP) — Frederick M. Bohen, a former White House aide, has been named to the newly created position of executive editor of the Public Broadcast Laboratory in a reorganization of the Sunday night series of experimental telecasts.

Bohen, of Washington, D.C., joined the PBL May 1 as deputy director of programming. In his new job, he will be "responsible for the internal planning and management of PBL's programming efforts," an announcement said.

Bohen, 31, assisted in developing President Johnson's legislative programs for two years.

questions submitted by The Associated Press that:

"The early period following any heart attack is the most critical. The general's response so far has been favorable."

In a formal medical bulletin issued just prior to the release of answers to the AP's queries, the doctors said Eisenhower had remained "comfortable during the past 24 hours" and that "there has been no further recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15. No signs of heart failure have appeared."

Although the Walter Reed doctors did not immediately define the duration of the early period they said is "most critical" following any heart attack, doctors at March Air Force Base, Calif., where Eisenhower initially was treated for his April 29 attack, said at that time:

"The most critical period for any patient with a heart attack is during the first three to four days. The danger progressively diminishes during the subsequent weeks, through the period of convalescence."

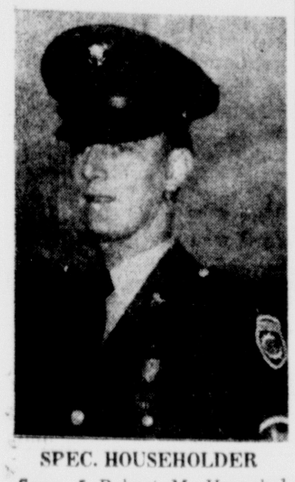
News Of Area Residents In Armed Forces



SPEC. HOUSEHOLDER

Spec. 5 Robert M. Householder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Householder of Glenmoor, has received a Soldier's Medal for heroism for "distinguishing himself Sept. 9, 1967, while serving with the 56th Engineer Co. USARAL Support Command at Ft. Richardson, Alaska."

Householder was driving a lead vehicle in a three - truck convoy carrying construction equipment to Valdez, Alaska, proceeding down a six - mile grade when he noticed that the convoy's second unit was rapidly gaining speed and closing in on his truck.

Realizing the second vehicle was unable to stop, he matched speeds with his own truck and allowed the runaway to make contact with the back of his trailer. Gradually he slowed both vehicles and, after traveling over two miles, finally halted them.

Householder was credited with saving several lives and thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

Army Pvt. 1C Michael A. Conn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Conn of Lisbon, has been assigned to the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea.

Seaman App. James W. Hale, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hale of 405 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, has completed basic training at Great Lakes, Ill.

NEW EMERGENCY TRUCK. The Wellsville volunteer fire department's new emergency vehicle delivered last week is given the once over by Miss Meanie Kinsey of 1401 Smithfield St., East Liverpool. The volunteer department also owns a pumper truck and squad car.

Rockefeller Takes Bid To Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his delegate hunting to Capitol Hill today, hoping to drum up support from Republican senators and congressmen in his drive for the presidential nomination.

The principal factors in his maneuver in Washington are:

1. Coat-tails. Rockefeller will try to convince the GOP legislators who are up for re-election that he is more likely to help them win in November than Richard M. Nixon, front-runner for the nomination.

2. Delegates. Some 50 members of the House may be delegates to the nominating convention in Miami Beach in August. Forty-three already have been chosen and six or eight more are expected to be named. In the Senate, 21 are delegates.

3. Favorite sons. As of today, five senators are regarded as favorite sons, Hiram Fong of Hawaii, Frank Carlson of Kansas, Clifford Case of New Jersey, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and John Tower of Texas. Most of them are regarded as favorable to Nixon.

The governor scheduled meetings with all the House Republicans, 187 in all.

Rockefeller's argument—perhaps his strongest—is that he has proven his ability draw votes from Democrats and independents.

He loses no opportunity to point out to Republicans that they are the minority party, in third place behind these two groups. He says they have 27 per cent of the registered vote, nationally.

Thus, he continues, if the GOP is to elect a president, the party must nominate a man who can attract Democratic and independent voters.

"There is another factor," says Robert R. Douglass, the governor's campaign manager. "The congressmen especially are in close touch with the sentiment of people in their own districts. They are in position to influence delegations from their home states. They will be for the man who can help them win."

Douglass said he thinks endorsements of Rockefeller will be announced after the Washington meetings. "He's not asking for endorsements," Douglass said. "But he won't be unhappy if he gets some."

If a visitor stands with his back to a fountain in Rome and throws a coin into it over his shoulder, he is said to be assured a return visit to the Eternal City.

Study Sought On Gas Rates

Council voted Monday night to request the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to make an "informal survey" of new gas rates proposed for East Liverpool by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and determine whether the offer constitutes "a fair return" for the company.

The action was taken after Harold Sneddon, district manager of the utility, appeared in a caucus session to ask if there was any possibility of Council and the firm resuming negotiations on a new contract or whether the utility should file a bid for a rate increase with the PUCO.

Councilman Donal I. Burcham suggested the informal survey by the PUCO as an alternative to either step proposed by Sneddon. Sneddon said the company is prepared to file its application with the state agency but wanted to know "if there was any possibility of working anything out with Council without going into the expense of a hearing" before the PUCO.

Burcham said he knows of other communities which have sought "informal surveys" by the PUCO to determine the relative fairness of a utility's offer. Council approved his suggestion for requesting a survey and asked Solicitor J. Michael Kapp to prepare the required enabling resolution. The vote was 5-1, with Councilman Frank Duffy dissenting.

The company's negotiations with Council began a year ago. A 12.3 per cent rate increase approved in December 1967 was rescinded in January. Another proposed ordinance that would have given the company an 11.88 per cent boost was voted down shortly afterward.

"I think by the time the PUCO finally settles this, the rate will be a good deal higher," Councilman Robert W. Sample said. "I believe the public should be aware of that fact and remember it later."

Generous Solons

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The 1968 Kentucky Legislature has voted itself a bonus — doubling expense allowances between biennial sessions from $150 to $300 a month.

Scalded Man, Nine Others Are Treated

A Wellsville man scalded early today by water was treated at City Hospital, where nine others were treated Monday.

Kenneth Mushrush of 1035½ Main St., Wellsville, suffered scalds of the right hand.

Frank McIntosh II, son of Frank McIntosh of Salineville RD 1, abrasions of the back and laceration of the scalp and right elbow in a fall from a bicycle; Kathleen Peterson, daughter of Thomas Peterson of 1121 White St., Wellsville, a laceration of the left foot on a mirror.

Thomas G. Wilson, son of James Wilson of 108 Pink Alley, a dog bite on the lip; Walter Landis of Calcutta, lacerations of the front and back of the head in a fall down steps at home.

Mrs. Joseph Imburgia of 1350 Parshall Ave., Wellsville, abrasions of the right elbow and a bruised right foot in a mishap when she stepped from a curb; Robert C. Wilson of 426 Jefferson St., Newell, an employe of the Ohio Brass Co., a contusion of the left wrist while lifting clay.

Larry B. Marshall of 684½ Lincoln Ave., an employe of the American Vitrified Products Co., a laceration of the scalp at work.

Single Clue Did It

NEW DELHI (AP) — A merchant left his bag containing 35,000 rupees ($4,900) in the tonga (a horse-drawn carriage) in which he rode to work. The only clue he could give detectives was that the driver kept murmuring a Hindu - Moslem unity slogan. Two detectives went to a few major tonga stands with that clue, and the tonga was soon located, along with the money bag, which the tonga driver had not noticed.

Auto Strikes Area Girl, 14

LISBON — A 14-year-old area girl received only bruises when struck by an auto Monday afternoon, police reported. The volunteer firemen's ambulance was damaged in a mishap later in the afternoon.

Jessica Marchbanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Marchbanks of Lisbon RD 5, came home from Salem City Hospital yesterday after X-rays revealed no fractures.

She was struck by a car driven by Charles E. Pelley, 34, of Rogers RD 1 about 2:30 on N. Market St. (Route 45) 150 feet north of the Square.

Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt said witnesses reported the girl stepped from behind a truck into the path of the northbound car.

Police said the ambulance accident occurred at 4:10 p.m. while enroute to the county home with a Chestnut St. woman.

The emergency vehicle continued on its run and the crew reported the mishap on return.

Police said the ambulance, driven by Thomas Senanefes, 45, of Thomas Rd., collided with a 1966 station wagon driven by Sue E. Taylor, 16, of 416 E. Lincoln Way.

Both vehicles were traveling west on Lincoln Way (Route 30) and the ambulance driver attempted to pass the station wagon as the driver was turning left into the post office driveway.

Witnesses told police the ambulance siren was not on and the girl driving the station wagon was not at fault. There was damage to the left front of her vehicle and the right side of the ambulance.

Council purchased the 1960 ambulance for $1,350 May 22 to replace a 1963 amnulance demolished April 15 in a collision near East Fairfield.

Reminder Given In Expense Lists For Candidates

Persons who sought nomination or election in the May 5 primaries and have not filed campaign expenses with the County Election Board have only three days remaining in which to comply with the law, Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, reminded today.

The reports are due at the Election Board's office by Friday at 4 p. m.

Fifteen persons have not complied with the law, which requires the statements from all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees and individuals which supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The list includes three successful candidates, but the board cannot issue them certificates of nomination unless they comply with the reporting law, Miss Resnick said.

Streets

eliminate one of the major causes of the pavement deterioration.

There is a possibility concrete surfacing will be placed underneath the short stretch of Ralston's Crossing which connects State St. with the River Rd. Engineer George Bloomgren told Council in March the existing surface is "constantly churned up by traffic" and added "blacktop will not last in a spot like that."

Council also enacted several pieces of minor legislation that would:

Boost the annual uniform allowance of the "Meter Maid" force from $100 to $150.

Raise the salaries of the three members of the Municipal Civil Service Commission from $100 to $150 annually, confirming a previous decision. The members are H. A. Tullis, chairman, A. A. Fiorello and Tom Phillips.

Rezone a West End tract north of W. 9th St. to permit erection of a "high rise" apartment building for housing for the elderly by the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Amend the zoning ordinance to provide for changes in regulations on advertising signs recommended by the City Planning Commission after conferences with representatives of the sign industry.

The original zoning ordinance did not permit so-called "high rise" structures such as the housing authority proposes to build with a federally-guaranteed loan. The change in zoning, covering the immediate area of the housing project, clears the way for erection of the multi-storied 130-unit structure.

THE CHANGE in sign regulations covers various technical points which were raised by advertising companies after enactment of the zoning regulations. The changes were worked out in a series of conferences between sign company representatives and the planning commission dating back nearly six months.

In other business, Council authorized Solicitor J. Michael Kapp to prepare legislation calling for construction of three new vault-type latrines in Thompson Park. The action was taken after Council was given a copy of a letter written to the Thompson Park Board by Health Commissioner Jack Bonner asserting that the present privies in the park are in need of replacement.

The claims committee was given a $145.99 bill against the city from Mae Varian for alleged water damage in the basement of a building at 105 E. 6th St. The claim said the damage was caused by a blocked sewer.

Councilman Edward Massey of the Fourth Ward was given copies of a notice from the State Liquor Control Board citing two applications for licenses. The board said Salvatore Fricano, operator of Sam's Market at 255 W. 9th St., has applied for a carry-out beer license and Richard and Glenda Wilk, doing business as Wilk's at 606 Dresden Ave., have applied for a night club license. Council is required to advise the state agency whether it has any objections to issuance of the permits.

THE STREET committee was given a request for a change in a location of a streetlight at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. Councilman John Wilson was given a complaint from College St. residents asserting there is a weed-grown lot in the neighborhood on the site of a razed house.

Merl McSwegin, realtor, advised Council the former American Poolroom building on E. 6th St. is for sale for $29,500 if the city is interested in the tract as a site for off-street parking. The lot is 43-x-130 feet, the letter said. The street committee was asked to investigate.

F. R. DeLonzo, legislative representative of Riverview Lodge 298 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Wellsville, sent Council a letter complaining that vandals have hurled objects at Penn Central trains passing through East Liverpool. The complaint was referred to the police department "for immediate attention."

Council received a letter from Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne explaining that officers of the fire department wish to confer with Council on wages and working conditions. President Norman Bucher said a special session will be scheduled soon and Council will confer then with the officers.

Kapp told Council he has received a letter from the State Board of Tax Appeals advising that the city's case against the County Budget Commission will be argued before the state agency at Columbus June 27 at 10 a.m.

The city seeks to compel the county agency to authorize immediate allocation of new revenue expected from a boost in the city income tax. The county agency said the money could not be appropriated until it actually had been received.

Councilman Robert W. Sample issued a reminder that property owners should keep weeds cut, particularly on vacant lots.

Board Approves 2 More Contracts

Additional contracts for equipment for East Liverpool's new schools were awarded Monday night by the Board of Education, which also appointed eight instructors and accepted resignations from two others.

The board approved the purchase of 43 teacher podiums for $8,127 from the American Seating Co. of Strongsville, and fire extinguishers for $2,287 from Van's Extinguisher Service of East Liverpool.

Thomas Rodfong, a board member who previously had questioned the legality of a city official bidding on equipment he would subsequently be inspecting, said he had investigated the matter and could find no ruling against it. Van's is operated by Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne.

Rodfong also expressed his opinion more advertising should have been undertaken on equipment which did not require sealed bids, so that more than just one bid could have been studied by the board.

ON A VOTE to accept the bid, all members except Rodfong voted support.

The contract of Lt. Col. Stanley Brugh, director of the ROTC program, was renewed for three years effective Sept. 1 for 10 months each year.

Other faculty appointments included Harry Steinmetz of East Liverpool to the Vocational Auto Mechanics department and Harry M. Brown Jr. of Ellwood City for the Vocational Opportunity Work Experience program. Both programs have been approved by the Ohio Division of Vocational Education.

Steinmetz' one - year contract is on a 10-month basis and Browns is on a 12-month basis as required by the state. After the first year, this position then reverts to a 10-month basis. Brown received his training at Kent State University.

Emwood J. Ridenour of Fairmont, W. Va., was hired for the Vocational Industrial Drafting Program upon approval of the Division of Vocational Education. He is a brother of Charles Ridenour, whose contract was approved at the last meeting.

JOSEPH SMITH of East Liverpool was hired for the Vocational Distributive Education program and Miss Ruth Winland for Vocational Home Economics. Miss Winland has a certificate to teach vocational home economics and will attend a workshop at Miami University this summer for further training.

Fred Zechman and his wife Linda were hired by the board. Zechman will teach in the high school and serve as assistant high school football coach replacing James Render who is on a one - year leave of absence. Mrs. Zechman will teach in the elementary department. The Zechman's are from Columbus, where Mrs. Zechman taught one year.

Additional teachers approved for the Life Adjustment Curriculum federal program were Mrs. Lonna Wilson, Mrs. Frances Thomas, Mrs. Naomi Hendrickson, Mrs. Evelyn Bibbee, Mrs. Wanda Greenwood, Zechman and Robert Lorah. All but Zechman are presently teaching in the school system or recently hired for the new year.

Summer school teachers appointed for the high school were Milton Watson and Thomas Chema of East Liverpool and for the junior high program Robert McMahan, Donald Rogers, Susan Skidmore, Patricia Kapp and Jack Alpern, all of East Liverpool. These teachers are former summer school teachers.

THE RESIGNATIONS of Miss Marlene Laughlin and Mrs. Miriam Dunn of East Liverpool were accepted by the board. Miss Laughlin, an elementary teacher, did her student teaching here this past year. She will enter Ohio State University graduate school this fall to continue her studies. Mrs. Dunn has accepted a North Canton position. She taught junior high algebra.

Two change orders requested by Robert Beatty, architect for the new buildings, also were approved. The change order for the construction of the transformer pads at the new high school in accordance with the Ohio Power Co.'s revised requirements was approved for $2,930. The transformers will be larger than originally planned and handle a greater volume of electricity.

The second change order approved was for Conti Plumbing and Heating for labor and material required to replace and relocate two Bradley sinks in the Shop Building in Rooms 210 and 213 at a cost of $2,000. These are large round sinks operated with a foot pedal for washing off grime and grease. The order requires changing the sinks, soil, waste, vent, hot and cold water, and insulation of the piping.

THE TRI - STATE Promotion Club, through Mrs. Richard W. Carter, chairman, requested the use of the East Junior High Auditorium Aug. 18 for a concert to raise money for scholarships for two students for college. A community event, the action was approved for $37.50 plus custodial fees.

The board also approved, upon the recommendation of William Blair, building committee chairman, that the ground east of the driveway at Westgate be blacktopped as requested by the improvement and repair committee as part of the summer improvement program. The board voted to proceed with the repair and maintenance of the seating at Patterson Field. The committee will get estimates on seats for the reserve section.

Clifford Lynch, high school principal and president of the East Liverpool Administrators Association, requested the board recognize the organization as an official body. The board gave its approval to this group.

Lynch reported Al Hayes, faculty manager of Steubenville High School, requesteed that the Big 8 basketball preview tournament be held at the new high school gymnasium Nov. 23. It was scheduled for Steubenville Arena but the arena will not be available on that date. The board agreed to hold the tournament in the new gymnasium here.

Samuel Brown, board president, is attending a postmasters' convention and was not present at last night's meeting.

SFC. HILLIARD
Assumes New Position.

New Recruiter Begins Duties In Liverpool Area

Sfc. Raymond Hilliard, 33, formerly assigned to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., has begun duties as field recruiter in the East Liverpool district and Columbiana County.

Sfc. Hilliard, a native of New Castle, Pa., succeeds Edward Vallor, who recently retired.

He entered the Army in 1951, serving in Korea, Germany, Alaska, Vietnam and Japan in aviation assignments in flight operations.

He is married to the former Ursula Zimmerman of Germany. They have two daughters and a son and are residing on Center Rd. in the Shadyside area.

Sfc. Hilliard and Sgt. Robert J. Dusock are in charge of recruiting operations in the district.

Midland Firm Gets Contract

A contract for sidewalk replacement in the Springlane area was awarded Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland on a bid of $3,150 by the Midland Municipal Authority Monday night.

The Gingerella bid was identical to that submitted by George Studen Co. of Midland, but the authority said it met specifictions more accurately.

About 1,200 feet of sidewalk will be replaced on the south side of Springlane from the traffic signal to the west end of Midland.

Granville Kester of the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., recommended the authority accept two final contracts on the $342,000 water system expansion project. The work has been completed.

Contract 26 covers the laying of new pipeline by Peter Kukurin of East McKeesport, while Contract 28 is for the erection of two new reservoirs by the General American Tank Co. of Pittsburgh.

A final inspection of the entire project will be made today by officials of the Economic Development Agency, which granted $171,000 to help finance the expansion.

The inspectors will make up a punch list today of any jobs remaining to be completed on the four - phase program. A one-year guarantee is provided.

Bills paid included $32,630 for water, $3,651 for sewage and $131 for parking. The next meeting will be July 15 at 8 p. m.

Man Pleads Guilty

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Toledo man, accused of swindling the Ohio Citizens Trust Co. out of $48,000, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of larceny by trick.

Gary Shamas, 29, allegedly collected the money by presenting notes on nonexistent firms. Common Pleas Judge Frank Wiley postponed sentencing pending a probation report.

State Overseer Speaks

Mortgage-Burning Rites Held By Calcutta Grange

Harry Cook of Jefferson, state grange overseer, was guest speaker Sunday afternoon during the mortgage-burning ceremony of Calcutta Grange 1798.

He stressed the role of the grange in community life and pointed out how closely the state grange works with the Agricultural Department in Washington and its association with church activities.

—:—

THE PROGRAM was presented by Mrs. Faye Wright, master, who gave special recognition to three 50 - year members — Dwight Hickman, Lester Hickman and Mrs. Grace Thompson — and to Lester Hickman, only living charter member, who remains active in the movement.

Fred Kane sang, with Mrs. Dorothy Golba pianist.

The mortgage was read by Mrs. Wright and then placed on a tray at the altar, after which she lighted her candle from the candles on the altar and in turn lighted the candles of the past masters — Ellis Wright, Carl Kirkbride Sr., Wayne Thompson, Neil McIntosh, Lester Hickman and Dwight Highman. The group then burned the mortgage.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, chaplain. A brief history of the grange was presented by Mrs. Doris Thompson. Movies of the old grange and also the groundbreaking and building of the new grange were screened by Wayne Thompson.

REFRESHMENTS were served 50, including members of other county granges. The table was centered with a brandy snifter filled with yellow roses and daisies. A large sheet cake also decorated the table. Serving were Mrs. Barbara Thompson, Mrs. Doris Thompson, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds anl Mrs. Harrietta Heckman.

The next regular grange session will be held tonight at 8, followed with degree practice.

Man's Injury Seen Indirect Crash Result

A service station proprietor was injured Monday as the indirect result of a mishap in which a camping trailer was demolished when it struck the height barrier on the Ohio approach to the Chester Bridge, police reported.

Bumped by a side mirror on the car which was towing the trailer, Alfred C. Gloeckner, 32, suffered a bruise and bump on his back and said he would go to City Hospital for X-rays, police said.

The demolished camping trailer was owned by Lawrence Beadnell Jr. of Hanoverton. It was being towed by a 1966 sedan driven by Ferrell Lowe, 38, of Post Office Box 174, Hanoverton.

Lowe and his wife and two children were en route to Washington and the southeastern states on a vacation. Lowe told Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Orin Smith he did not know the height of the borrowed trailer. As he started under the barricade, the roof caught on the I-beam and literally tore the trailer in half, officers said. The car was undamaged.

Lowe unhooked his auto from the wreckage. Then he decided to proceed to Chester, turn around and come back to East Liverpool to file a report on the crash.

As Lowe was passing the trailer again, one of the side mirrors on his car bumped Gloeckner, who was working on the wreckage, officers said. Gloeckner is proprietor of a service station near the bridge approach.

Township Roads Get Seal Coating

SALINEVILLE — County crews have started to apply seal coating to the township's roads, Don Hirst, president, reported during a meeting of the Washington Township trustees Saturday.

The roads are scheduled to receive a blacktop blade mix later in the summer, he added.

In other business, township road crews were instructed to mow and "ditch" the roads ahead of the county work.

A hospitalization plan outlined by representatives of the Continental Insurance Co. for employes, trustees and the clerks was turned down because of lack of funds, Hirst said.

7th Man Charged In Beaver Case

A seventh man believed involved in the bizarre highway death of a Baden man early Sunday near Zelienople was arraigned Monday afternoon in Beaver County.

Robert (Abe) Larson of Fair Oaks was placed under $5,000 bond before Justice of the Peace Frank Storar of Baden in connection with the death of Daniel Mihalic, 21, of Baden who was knocked off a moving auto.

Pennsylvania State Police at Chippewa and Mihalic apparently was riding on the outside of a car operated by Nancy Stewart, 20, of Corapolis, his arms around the center post, and was swept off the side when his body struck a pole marking a culvert.

His right leg was severed and he was dragged 85 feet. The girl drove on to Coraopolis without stopping, officers say. An investigation showed the girl and Mihalic were a part of a midnight drinking party that included four females and 12 men.

The woman and six other Beaver County men were charged with hit and run and involuntary manslaughter, the same charges lodged against Larson. All bonds were set at $5,000.

Judge Jails Driver, Sets $1,000 Fine

A city man, charged with drunken driving and operating a vehicle while under suspension, was fined $1,000 and costs and sentenced to a year in jail Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson.

Francis W. Fetty of 834 Sophia St. was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to six months on each of the charges.

He was also fined $5 and costs for failure to have a muffler on his auto.

Judge Dickson pointed out Fetty has had some 15 traffic charges filed against him in the past several years.

Also fined during hearings yesterday was Joseph Wayne Sellers of 1201 Dresden Ave., charged with failure to apply for registration plates and driving without an operator's license.

A $100 fine and costs were suspended on the first charge, but Sellers was fined $25 and costs on the second.

Meter Maids' Long Memory Costs Former Resident $35

A former East Liverpool resident cited Monday night on a traffic charge learned about the long memory of the city's "Meter Maids" and the experience cost him a $35.50 forfeit on nine old parking tickets.

James M. Wilson., 23, of Dover, formerly of 1023 Edgewood Ave., first ran afoul of the law at 8:30 last night when he was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on a charge of driving too fast for existing road and weather conditions.

He posted a $27.50 bond on the patrol charge, which alleged his auto ran off County Rd. 426 and plunged into a ditch.

THEN HE was confronted with the "Meter Maid" affidavit alleging that he failed to pay the penalty for the nine tickets while residing here. He also posted a bond on the second charge. The two bonds totaling $63 were forfeited this morning by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when Wilson failed to appear for a hearing.

Keith Johnston, 18, of 1253 Croft St. was fined $50 and costs today on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance, the second of two counts growing out of a mishap Sunday in which his car struck a halted auto at E. 6th St. and Broadway. Johnston was fined $25 and costs Monday on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle.

Meanwhile, the court decreed a fine of $25 and costs for Herman Hoppel of RD 3 after convicting him of a charge of failure to display a license plate on the front of his vehicle. Hoppel had pleaded not guilty Monday. He was cited Saturday at 10:30 a. m. on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman K. J. Montgomery.

Hoppel produced two witnesses today to attempt to refute the officer's testimony. They were Charles Hoppel of Stagecoach Rd., a cousin, and Tom Possage of Glenmoor, a service station attendant.

After he was convicted, Hoppel asked the court to defer sentencing so that he could obtain counsel and seek a jury trial. The judge replied it was highly irregular for a defendant to take such action after he had learned he was convicted. He said the action should have been taken before the trial began.

THE COURT set a hearing Wednesday for Charles T. Landy, 27, of Valley Ave., charged with driving an auto without an operator's permit. Landy was cited this morning at 1:31 at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce Sts. by Patrolman James Buckley.

Walter R. Corbin, 18, of Salineville RD 1 was fined $15 and costs on a patrol charge of operating an auto with an "excessively loud exhaust." The patrol said he was cited Saturday at 10:45 p. m. in Wellsville.

Lawrence J. Thomas, 34, of 919 Bank St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 47 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Lisbon St. In another charge of operating an auto without a driver's license, Thomas was ordered to pay court costs after producing a permit. He was cited Sunday at 6:45 p. m.

Methodists Note Dip In Membership

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Total membership of the 774 churches of the North-East Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Church declined about one per cent last year, but per capita giving increased.

This was reported Monday at the opening session of the conference's 30th annual meeting.

The Rev. Harry J. Young of McConnelsville, the conference statistician, told the 1,200 delegates that the conference—one of Methodism's five largest—now has 273,959 members, down 3,434 from a year ago.

The conference treasurer, the Rev. Harold T. Wintermute of Akron, said per capita giving was up $1.17 to $66.61. Contributions in the conference totaled more than $18 million last year, a gain of $148,000 over the previous year, he reported.

"Our nation and our world are sick," Dr. William H. Phillips, Canton district superintendent, said in his state-of-the-church address. "The assassinations of Martin Luther King, Robert Francis Kennedy and other civil rights leaders are but symptons of our illness."

He said that if the church is to fulfill its role in changing the world for the better. "The individual Christian will have to commit far more of his time, talents and income in an expansion of love and concern for others."

Miss Pamela Barker Wed In Ceremony At Toronto

Miss Pamela Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Onel A. Barker Jr. of Toronto RD 2 became the bride of William T. Young Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Young of Hammondsville, June 8 at 2:30 p.m. in the Toronto First Church of the Nazarene.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stephen Bender of the Stratton Nazarene Church.

Yellow satin bows centered with daisies marked the pews along the bridal aisle leading to the altar, which was arrayed by arrangements of greenery, bouquets of yellow daisies, roses, baby breath and lighted candelabra.

—:—

MISS KAREN Steele, organist, a niece of the bridegroom, presented a half - hour of organ music. Ray Lautzenheiser and William Carlisle were soloists. "O Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest" were sung by Carlisle and a duet, "One Hand, One Heart," was sung by the two.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a slipper-length cage-style gown of silk organza adorned with motifs of lace. It was designed with long sleeves and a banded circle neckline with lace, which was also carried out in the hemline of the gown. Attached to the back was a chapel train studded with motifs of lace. She wore a chapel-length Mantilla banded with matching Venice lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses, daisies and baby breath. In observing the traditions, she wore a blue garter, a sixpence and carried a handkerchief given to her by her grandmother. She also wore a diamond pendant necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

FOR HER honeymoon to the Pocono Mountains, the bride chose a navy and white dress and coat ensemble with navy accessories and a red, white and blue corsage of daisies.

Mrs. Bonnie Fraley, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Deborah Glenn and Colleen Flanagan, cousins of the bride, and Miss Barbara Guhl and Miss Mary Ann Bigler, sorority sisters of the bride. The matron of honor wore a mint green karate floor - length gown and her headpiece was a daisy cluster with a miniature bouffant veil.

The bridesmaids were attired in maize gowns and headpieces designed on the same lines as the matron of honor. They carried bouquets of daisies, roses and baby breath with matching velvet streamers.

Leisa Ferry, niece of the bridegroom, and Christine Flanagan, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore mint green gowns. Carla Lawrence and Susan Heiney, both nieces of the bridegroom, wore maize gowns made and designed by Mrs. Betty Beadnell. They carried wicker baskets of daisy petals.

The bride's mother chose a mint green dress with matching lace coat and accessories and a corsage of yellow daisies, yellow roses and baby breath. The bridegroom's mother wore a yellow dress with matching lace coat and white accessories and a corsage of white roses, daisies and baby breath.

MRS. WILLIAM YOUNG
Residing In Hammondsville.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Onel Barker, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Eva Cronin, both wore corsages of white daisies.

Lonnie Fraley, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and Joseph Urich, Dr. A. D. Steele and Kenneth Rose, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, and Ross Flanagan Jr., uncle of the bride, were ushers. Gregg Rose, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

A RECEPTION was held at St. Joseph Byzantine Church after the ceremony. The five-tier wedding cake centered the bridal table, which was encircled with fresh daisies and greenery, as were the punch bowls. Fresh flower arrangements of yellow daisies and baby breath with lighted candles completed the setting.

The buffet table was decorated with lighted silver candelabra and yellow daisies and the tables were covered with white satin cloths overlaid with white net. The hall was decorated with colors of the wedding party and accented with white wedding bells and daisy garlands.

THE BRIDE, a 1966 graduate of Stanton Local High School, is attending West Liberty College. She is majoring in dental hygiene and is a member of the Delta Zeta sorority.

Her husband is a 1961 graduate of Irondale High School and served with the armed forces and is now an engineer at the Ohio Edison Co. in Stratton.

The couple will reside with the bridegroom's parents in Hammondsville.

The rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Jane Lawrence, sister of the bridegroom, at her home. Gifts were presented to the wedding party.

ANN LANDERS

'Jinx' Troubles Family

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Do you believe a place can be jinxed? I used to laugh at the idea but too many things have happened that make me suspect there might be something to it.

A certain corner in our city has been the scene of four accidents within 24 months involving members of my family. My father had a head-on collision with a truck and was critically injured. My wife was hit by a drunk driver at that same spot six months later. The following month my brother ran over a dog at the identical place.

Yesterday, a kid on roller skates appeared out of nowhere and I hit him. Thank God the boy got off with only a broken arm.

Can all of these accidents be coincidental? If there's a logical explanation, I'd like to hear it. — CURSE OF THE CORNER.

Dear Corner: You and your relatives ought to stay away from that place — not because it's jinxed, but because you think it is.

I can understand how you'd become unglued just approaching the scene of so many family accidents. Avoid that corner — even if it means going a mile out of you way.

Bookworm

Dear Ann: This is just a little thing but it could save a lot of trouble and money.

On my last birthday I received three beautiful, expensive books. In each book, the giver wrote a warm sentiment and signed his name.

Two books were duplicates of one I already had in my library. I don't mean to sound ungracious, but here I sit with three identical $27 books.

In one book is written, "I hope you will always hold this gift dear to your heart" etc., etc. The other book is inscribed: "Much love to a dear friend whose affection I cherish and whose dedication to the fine principles of humanity I hope to emulate."

If these well-meaning folks had not written in the books I could have returned them. How does this strike you? — PRACTICAL.

Dear Prac: It strikes me as incredible that a person who could rate such warm inscriptions could be so insensitive.

You've got duplicates — so what? The sentiments expressed by your friends should make the books priceless.

Poison Pen

Dear Ann: This morning the clunk I'm married to told me he wrote to you. Please, Ann, don't print his letter.

To begin with, he'd rather lie than tell the truth and he's awfully good at making himself look good and me look lousy, even if it means making up a story out of thin air.

I have been through so much hell with this ape and so many people know about it that any kind of publicity in the paper would be recognized at once. The jerk even signed his right name. He wrote the letter in green ink on our son's white notebook paper.

I'm begging you on my knees, Ann, please don't print his letter. — SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.

Dear Sleepless: Get off your knees, Lady. I have your husband's letter in my hands and it will not appear in print. You have my word for it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Project Eyed On Shadyside

Council conferred Monday night with a delegation of citizens on the need for widening and resurfacing of Shadyside Ave., a request that dates back at least five years.

The discussion ended with a promise the Council street committee will confer with City Engineer George Bloomgren to determine the city's next step in seeking to make the project a reality.

Council and the county commissioners have agreed in principle to cooperate in the project and share the costs, but the fine points of the agreement never have been worked out.

Lawrence Creel acted as spokesman for the Shadyside Ave. delegation, which was accompanied by County Commissioner James Boyd and Guy Digman and Richard Sanford, Liverpool Township trustees. Creel told Council some of the residents favor "going to court" if the project is not undertaken soon.

Citing the narrow width of the pavement, he said: "All we want is a safe route to haul our children to school." The delegation has contended repeatedly that school buses cannot pass safely on the narrow road and that children afoot are required to jump into ditches to avoid oncoming traffic.

Councilmen replied that on several occasions they believed a satisfactory agreement had been worked out for city-county cooperation in the work, but the job never materialized. Township trustees said they are willing to furnish machinery and labor for the project, but have no available funds.

Boyd recalled that the cost of the job once was estimated at $50,000 to $60,000, covering widening, resurfacing and installation of a sidewalk. The discussion ended with the promise the Council committee would confer with Bloomgren.

Bids Slated Aug. 6

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway Director P. E. Masheter said Monday bids will be opened Aug. 6 for relocation of a 4.4-mile section of Ohio 48 in Warren County. The cost was estimated at $3.1 million.

The project is south of Lebanon and U.S. 42 between Lebanon and Genntown. The relocation will bypass the east side of Lebanon and interchange with Ohio 123.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Son Gives 'Coupon Book'

DEAR HELOISE: I gave my Mom a gift on her birthday that she liked so well she said it was the nicest gift she had ever received.

Heloise

It was a "coupon book" of things I could do for her.

Whenever she wants me to do one of them, she just tears out that page and gives it to me.

Some of the things I wrote were:

I'll help with supper; I'll empty the trash; I'll sweep the front porch and steps; I'll read a book instead of watching TV; I'll spray wax the furniture; I'll clean my room; I'll do anything you tell me to. . . .

There were 10 things in all. I got the idea from my school teacher and have liked doing all of these things because it makes my Mom happy.

Of course, I also do other things when she asks me.

And since she liked this idea so much, I've decided to make another coupon book for next Mother's Day as well as on every birthday.

RANDY
AGE 7.

Randy, I think this is the sweetest idea I ever heard of. Yours is a lucky Mom and I'm sure she appreciates your gift much more because you thought of it yourself.

Wouldn't all of you Moms love to get a birthday present just like this? I sure would! ! Doesn't cost a penny out of either your pocket or your child's piggy bank. And what a joy to have this help offered without coaxing.

A big hug and squeeze to you, Randy, from the rest of us mothers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Please help me so I won't break a leg.

There are two steps in our stairs that make a loud squeak every time we go up or downstairs. I've even been taking two steps at a time to avoid the squeaky ones. I'm careful, but it probably will be my luck to fall someday.

Is there any easy way to stop those squeaks without going to the trouble and expense of replacing the boards?

Mrs. B, I know there must be ways to stop those squeaks. Maybe some of our friends will tell us how they managed to do it.

Come on, folks, how about it? Write to me in care of this paper and let us know. We'd love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure many others will be canning strawberries this summer, so would like to pass on a little tip I learned.

To prevent the berries from rising to the top of the jar, lay the jar on its side until it cools, after the jar has been sealed.

Then shake until the berries are distributed all through the syrup. The berries will neither rise nor settle, but stay evenly distributed.

HOME CANNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I tried detergent, turpentine, kerosene, window cleaner, dishwasher detergent, alcohol and household cleaner with ammonia to remove freezer tape we put on our windows prior to a storm.

So . . . I just decided to leave 'em plastered for next year! The draperies hide it from my side anyway.

VERNICE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband likes pajamas with a pull-over top, but the stores don't have many of them.

Now as soon as I buy a new pair, I sit down to my machine and with a zigzag stitch (because it lasts longer), I sew up the front along the open edge (through both thickness) and back down the other side of the buttons.

Then my husband just slips the top over his head and we never have to worry about ripped-off buttons or a torn front.

Sure saves my temper because I hate to sew buttons. How about you?

C.D.

Four Are Fined At Wellsville In Traffic Mishaps

Four were fined in acting mayor Wayne Rose's court at Wellsville Monday as the result of traffic accidents.

Clifford Shultz of 850 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, was assessed $250 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his car crashed into another owned by Verna Wilkenson of New Castle, parked at 9th and Main Sts.

Both cars received minor damage, officers reported.

Glen Kelly of Industry was fined on a reckless operation charge after his car crashed into a tree and fire hydrant. Kelly told officers he fell asleep.

Richard Pritt of Akron was found guilty on two charges by Rose. He was fined $10 and costs for public intoxication and $25 for indecent exposure.

John W. Nation Jr. of Alliance was fined $50 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance as the result of a three - car mishap at Wells Ave. and Legion St. Sunday.

A Chester woman was taken to City Hospital following the mishap.

Treated was Mrs. Reva Anderson of Chester RD 1 for contusions of both knees and the back.

Officers said the mishap occurred at 1:08 p.m. when a 1956 sedan operated by Nation crashed into the rear of the 1962 sedan driven by Mrs. Anderson. The Anderson car then was forced into the rear of a 1968 sedan driven by William T. Chaup of 811 Logans St., Toronto, which was attempting a left turn onto Legion St.

7 Tentatively Seated In Ohio Murder Trial

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Seven jurors were tentatively seated Monday during the first day of the trial of Mark D Hodges, 27, charged with shooting with intent to kill in the wounding of Denise Fortner, 17.

Hodges also is charged with first - degree murder in Wood County in the slaying of a suburban Toledo girl last summer.

She assisted with programs at the Elkton School for Retarded Children, packed Christmas kits for Vietnam and participated in various programs.

Her itinerary will include the Oregon Dunes and the California Redwoods, beginning with a cable car swing through San Francisco and ending in Oregon's capital at Salem. She will travel a special narrow gauge railroad into the forest land of the giant redwoods. Along the route will be a visit to Ft. Bragg, Point Reyes National Seashore, Gold Beach, Harris Beach State Park, Siuslaw National Park, the Marine Laboratory and the Coast Guard lighthouse.

Board Given Staff Reports

Harold West, attendance officer for the East Liverpool School District, reported a total of 1,949 student absences investigated during the 1967-1968 school year.

Personal illness accounted for 449; family illness, 27; death in the family, 20; moving of residence, 55 poverty and school aid, 16, and truancy, 468.

He reported 189 were kept out by parents, 58 were erroneously reported, 89 were working and miscellaneous absences accounted for 75 more. Absence to appear in court accounted for 76 cases.

West reported that 77 conferences were held with parents, 182 legal notices were sent to parents, 29 police conferences were held, 22 informal hearings were held and 117 conferences on attendance conducted.

Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, reported that the health department provided first aid 1,410 times and gave 2,014 physical exams and 405 partial physical exams. She said 750 home calls and 921 visits to schools were made and 1,091 conferences held.

There were 240 students checked for lice and five cases found. TB tests were given to 3,181 with 15 ruled positive. Mrs. Jones said there were 378 cases of rashes and allergy, 191 cases of impetago; 1,733 of colds and flu; 416 of measles, 329 of mumps, 70 of poison ivy, four of scarlet fever, 31 of pink eye and 249 of chicken pox.

Other programs of the health office included clothing collected and distributed for needy pupils, first aid supplies ordered for schools, immunization records checked, dental program held, assistance at Christmas for needy families and parties, and aid at St. Aloysius School with physical exams, TB testing and immunization records.

their mother's sex conduct.

3. Freedom for community antenna television operators to pick up copyrighted movies and cartoons from TV stations without having to pay for them.

The 5-4 decision on drunks was surprising, particularly since the court six years ago said California could not make it a crime for a person to be addicted to narcotics.

Justice Marshall, in the court's judgment, stressed that facilities for treating impoverished alcoholics "are woefully lacking throughout the country."

"It would be tragic," he said, "to return large numbers of helpless, sometimes dangerous and frequently unsanitary inebriates to the streets of our cities without even the opportunity to sober up adequately which a brief jail term provides."

Stewart, who in several instances this term showed new liberal leanings, dissented with Fortas, Douglas and Brennan.

The welfare decision, a unanimous ruling given by Warren, struck down Alabama's version of the "man-in-the-house" rule and could knock out similar rules in 17 other states.

Alabama, said Warren, violated the 1935 Social Security law and federal policy by barring assistance to needy children solely because their mothers had extramarital sex relations.

juveniles and nonresidents of a state.

Dodd also has offered a bill providing compulsory federal registration of all firearms and prohibiting sale of ammunition to anyone unable to furnish proof that his firearm is registered.

The evenstricter measure has been offered by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md. It not only would require the registration of all firearms but a license for their purchase or possession.

The states would be given a chance to enact their own registration and licensing laws under Tydings' bill, but the proposed federal legislation would control in states that failed to act.

Nancy Standley Marries In Rites At Trinity U. P.

The Trinity United Presbyterian Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Nancy June Standley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Standley of 306 Vine St., and R. M. (Monty) Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waite of Sturgess Ave., June 8 at 10:30 a. m.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Gene Toot before an altar arrangement of palms and ferns. Mrs. Rowland Kaufman was organist.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a full-length white lace over taffeta gown, styled with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and a detachable chapel train. Her brief three-tier veil of nylon net was held in place with white ribbon and small flowers. She carried a corsage of daisies and ivy. For traveling, she wore a two-piece blue and white suit.

Dolores Adkins, maid of honor, was attired in a full-length pale green chiffon gown with powder blue accessories and a brief blue nylon veil. She wore a daisy corsage.

The bride's mother chose a beige and white ensemble and the bridegroom's mother a pink outfit. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Lester Abrams was best man.

A RECEPTION followed at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered with a two-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Aides were Miss Marsha Standley, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Helen Polen, aunt of the bride, who also wore an orchid corsage.

MRS. R. M. WAITE
Residing In Cleveland.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of East Liverpool High School and the Ohio Valley Business College. She was a dental assistant to Dr. Norman Birnbaum. Her husband, a 1963 graduate of the same high school, attended Kent State University. He is a production manager at the Cleveland Steel Co.

Following a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the couple is residing in Cleveland.

The bridegroom's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner.

namese, most carried weapons and most were wounded.

The new governor of Saigon, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, said he expected new Viet Cong infantry attacks on the capital soon but doubted the enemy would carry out the 100-round-a-day rocket shelling it had threatened would start this week.

"Experience has shown us that the Communists never do what they say they will do," he told a news conference. "Expect them to do what they don't say."

For the second straight day, no rockets hit Saigon.

Minh, former commander of an infantry division in the Mekong Delta said he believed the Viet Cong attack Saigon for two reasons. "The first is to establish their infrastructure, the second to create an anxiety state among the population," he said.

Reports on enemy aerial activity along the demilitarized zone last weekend differed, with Vietnamese reports saying anywhere from 2 to 12 helicopters were shot down.

The U.S. Command said Monday that radar showed unidentified aircraft at the eastern end of the DMZ.

"The low-flying aircraft were suspected to be enemy helicopters and were taken under fire by naval vessels and U.S. aircraft in the area," a command statement said. It said daylight reconnaissance flights were made Monday but results were not yet available.

In roughly the same time period as the reported helicopter action, a 50-foot U.S. Navy Swift boat was shelled and sunk off the coast of the DMZ, the U.S. cruiser Boston was shot at three times in the same area, and the Australian destroyer Hobart was hit by an American missile, presumably from an American plane.

In the missile attack on the Australian destroyer, the Australian navy said in Canberra:

"On present indications the weapon was a United States air-to-air missile called Sparrow fired by a friendly aircraft. Formal investigations are being conducted." The navy said the missile was believed to have misfired.

A U. S. Command statement said "initial reports indicate that the weapon may have been a Sparrow."

In the air war, the MIG21 and the American F4 Phantom from the carrier America clashed northwest of Vinh, the panhandle's chief city 145 miles north of the DMZ.

It was the second American plane shot down by a MIG since President Johnson restricted U.S. bombing of North Vietnam to the area south of the 19th parallel and the 853rd U.S. warplane reported lost over North Vietnam.

Elsewhere in the air war, U.S. B52 bombers marked the third anniversary of their entry into the war with eight raids on enemy positions 27 to 53 miles from Saigon, including three raids in the same general area as the first B52 strike on June 18, 1965.

Patrol Lists Four Mishaps

A city woman and a Dover man were injured in one of four traffic mishaps investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Monday.

Treated at City Hospital was Mrs. Lynn Baughman, 42, of Thompson Ave., for a laceration of the lip. Suffering noticible injuries were James M. Wilson, 22, driver of the auto, who made his own medical arrangements, officers reported.

The one-car mishap occurred on County RD. 427 about a mile west of here when the westbound 1966 coach, operated by Wilson went out of control on a curve, veered off the south side of the road and crashed into a ditch.

Wilson was cited by the patrol for speeding in view of conditions as the aftermath of the 8:20 p.m. accident.

The car was damaged badly, officers added.

A 1929 station wagon, driven by Lee Cockovich, 43, of 142 Broad St. was involved in a second one-car mishap yesterday.

Cockovich told officers his car was heading south on County Rd. 435, near East End, when the brakes failed and the car crashed into an embankment.

The mishap was timed at 11:35 a. m.

A Girard woman was injured as the result of a mishap on Route 7, two miles north of Route 30 at 11:20 p. m.

"Fairly good" at City Hospital is Mrs. Mary Jane Corsale, 35, of Girard, with an injury to the right shoulder as the result of a one-car mishap involving a 1965 sedan.

Patrolmen reported the sedan, operated by Gene L. Hilston, 61, also from Girard, crashed into a ditch after it failed to make a left turn while northbound on Route 7.

Three trucks were involved in a mishap at 12:55 p. m. on Route 30 about a half-mile from West Point.

John R. Ralston, 20, of Wellsburg, W. Va., said his tractor-trailer was unable to stop in time when two trucks in front slowed. Ralston said to avoid a collision, he veered his truck to the left to overtake the other vehicles just as the lead truck made a left turn.

Patrolmen said the Ralston truck then rammed into the side of the van-type truck driven by Francis Zalac, 31, of Lowellville.

The driver of the third truck was unidentified, ofificers said.

Ray

his decision as soon as he hears all the evidence.

Ray was brought to Bow Street today for the second time since his arrest 10 days ago. The magistrate ordered him returned to Wandsworth Prison.

Two attorneys from Birmingham, Ala., Arthur J. Hanes and his son, Arthur Jr., are expected in London Wednesday to assist Ray's British attorney.

The hearing today was the customary two - minute session when a court has decided on a postponement.

Ray, wearing a blue checked suit and glasses, sat impassively in the dock while attorneys and the magistrate discussed details.

Attorneys for the U.S. government told the magistrate that Ray is wanted on a charge of murdering Dr. King in Memphis April 4 and also on a charge of escaping from Missouri State Prison while serving an armed robbery sentence.

Documentary evidence already has been produced in London, the American lawyers told the court, and a fingerprint expert will be flown over to testify at the extradition hearing.

Ray was arrested at London airport June 8 and charged then with entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicesed loaded gun.

After preliminary hearing before Milton June 10 on the passport and gun charges, he has been held under round-the-clock guard at Wandsworth Prison while Scotland Yard tried to reconstruct his movements and contacts during the three weeks he is believed to have spent in London before his arrest.

The U.S. Embassy forwarded the request for his extradition to the British government last Wednesday.

Under the 1931 extradition treaty between Britain and the United States, British courts can grant extradition only if U.S. authorities present evidence suffcient to send Ray to trial under British law.

Extradition of Ray was also asked because he is wanted by Missouri to complete a prison term for armed robbery. While extradition on this charge would be almost automatic, the U.S.-British treaty specifies that a suspect can only be tried on the charges for which he has been specifically extradited. Therefore unless he is extradited for the murder of the Negro civil rights leader, he cannot be prosecuted on that charge in the United States.

Australia, with just under three people per square mile, is the world's least - populated continent.

A report was given on the progress of the South Side Senior Citizens Club, which is being sponsored by the association.

Refreshments were served 34 by the hostesses, Mrs. Elsie McElhaney and Mrs. Dorothy Lyons.

Personalities In The News

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. (AP) — A pretty, 21-year-old coed from San Jose State College in California today ruled as National College Queen, she is the first Negro to win the 14-year-old pageant.

Valerie Laverne Dickerson, 5-feet-3 and 111 pounds, won the title and $10,000 in prizes Monday night in competition with 49 other girls representing U.S. colleges.

Miss Dickerson is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William C. Dickerson of Riverside, Calif.

"I feel my winning was a help to Negroes," she said. "I think it added a small bit in their fight for dignity. I suddenly became an extension of so many people."

—:—

LONDON (AP) — Charles, Prince of Wales, has become a Knight of the Garter under his mother's sword.

Queen Elizabeth II tapped her 19-year-old, lanky first-born son on the shoulder Monday, ordered him to tie the garter to his leg and presented him with a kingfisher blue riband to wear over his left shoulder and the Garter star.

Charles, heir to the throne, underwent the ceremony in St. George's Chapel in London with the dignity of a monarch-to-be.

Charles, standing firm, took the knight's oath to be courageous, "and having undertaken a just war thou mayest stand firm, valiantly fight, courageously and successfully conquer."

NEW YORK (AP) — Frederick M. Bohen, a former White House aide, has been named to the newly created position of executive editor of the Public Broadcast Laboratory in a reorganization of the Sunday night series of experimental telecasts.

Bohen, of Washington, D.C., joined the PBL May 1 as deputy director of programming. In his new job, he will be "responsible for the internal planning and management of PBL's programming efforts," an announcement said.

Bohen, 31, assisted in developing President Johnson's legislative programs for two years.

"The early period following any heart attack is the most critical. The general's response so far has been favorable."

In a formal medical bulletin issued just prior to the release of answers to the AP's queries, the doctors said Eisenhower had remained "comfortable during the past 24 hours" and that "there has been no further recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15. No signs of heart failure have appeared."

Although the Walter Reed doctors did not immediately define the duration of the early period they said is "most critical" following any heart attack, doctors at March Air Force Base, Calif., where Eisenhower initially was treated for his April 29 attack, said at that time:

"The most critical period for any patient with a heart attack is during the first three to four days. The danger progressively diminishes during the subsequent weeks, through the period of convalescence."

Ron Peden, three-sport star at South Side High School, has announced that he will attend Westminster College next season.

Peden was the MVP in Section 17 of the WPIAL and the MVP of the Blue and White Non-Pariel Club tournament here. He averaged 23.5 points a game and set 10 school records this past season. Westminster will be coached this winter by Ron Galbreath, former Wampum and Westminster star who has been an assistant at Geneva.

Other South Side hoopsters to announce college plans were Fran Nash and Dale Person, who will attend Pitt, and Dan Hartzell and Greg Trimble, who will attend the Beaver County Campus of Penn State in Center Twp.

HAP PALMER, who pitches for the Richmond entry in the local Colt League, is quite an impressive hurler. Only 16, Palmer is 6-4 and attends Steubenville Central. He is a 10-0 this season and has five career no-hitters. Richmond has not lost a game against the local teams, and this team, which draws from several high schools, plays in other leagues also. Dave Grimm is the manager.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Bernie Allen has slumped to a .305 batting average, and has been sharing second base for the Washington Senators with Frank Coggins. Allen came off the bench Saturday to get a bases-loaded pinch-hit double, however.

JOE SMITH, East Liverpool High School cross-country coach, is seeking opponents for his harriers this fall. The Potters ran a brief schedule in 1967 after not having the sport in 1966. Cross-counrty was influential in the development of Ted Hoffman as a star two-miler.

PRO-SOCCER gets very little notice in this area, but in the San Francisco area it must be different. A recent soccer doubleheader in Oakland drew 25,000, while the Giants, playing at the same time in Candlestick Park, drew 22,000.

PITT SOPHOMRE Jerry Richey finished fifth in the NCAA 1,500 meter rave over the weekend, right behind Sam Bair of Kent State. The top six finishers go to the Olympic trials.

JIMMY SMITH, star center on the 25- 1 Steubenville College basketball team of 1957-58, was the subject of a nice write-up in Sunday's Pittsburgh Press. Smith, a native of Homestead, Pa., is now involved in getting Negro workers into trade unions that recently have ceased discrimination.

WEST VIRGINIA U. basketball star Ron Williams was married over the weekend.

THE GREATER Pittsburgh Speedway at Clinton is scheduled to open Saturday, June 29.

Stargell's Homer Provides Margin

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

What kind of host is it who locks his guests in the cellar?

The Houston Astros, who obviously overstayed their visit to Pittsburgh, have some idea today after the Pirates slammed the basement door on them.

The Pirates, stuck in the National League cellar themselves last Thursday, completed a five-game sweep of the Astros with a 4-3 victory Monday night that shoved Houston deep into last place.

Pittsburgh, tied for eighth, has won six straight.

The Atlanta Braves also took a step up the stairs, moving into second place with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati in the only other game played.

Los Angeles was rained out at Philadelphia.

The Pirates, the biggest disappontment in the league this season, started their series in Forbes Field against Houston only one game ahead of the Astros after climbing out of the cellar with a victory over San Francisco last Thursday. They kept Houston in the dark by outscoring them 34-8 in the five games, extending the Astros' losing string to six.

Willie Stargell supplied a big shove Monday night by slamming his 11th homer in the fifth inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Reliever Roy Face gave the final push, striking out Jimmy Wynn with two on and two out in the ninth.

Others who joined in the attack on the visitors included Matty Alou, who staked Pittsburgh to a 3-0 lead with a bases-clearing double in the first inning, and Al McBean, who held off the Astros until Face arrived.

McBean raised his record to 6-5, beating Dave Giusti, 4-8, who singled in Houston's tying two runs in the fourth.

The victory, putting Pittsburgh six steps ahead of Houston, left the Pirates still eight games behind league-leading St. Louis, but only 3½ games behind the runner-up Braves.

Atlanta needed an unearned run in the last of the ninth to beat the Reds and moved ahead of San Francisco by one percentage point, each 4½ lengths behind the Cardinals.

Felipe Alou started the winning rally with a two-out double off reliever Ted Abernathy, 1-1. Felix Millan then bounced a grounder to the left of third baseman Tony Perez and it bounded off his glove and rolled behind second base as Alou scampered home.

Hank Aaron of the Braves and Reds' starter Jim Maloney traded earlier home runs and Millan and Pete Rose of Cincinnati singled in the other runs.

The homer by Aaron, his 12th of the season, was the 493rd of his career, tying him with Lou Gehlig for eighth place on the all-time list.

Pat Jarvis, 7-4, yielded six hits for the Braves' third straight victory. Cincinnati, dropping into a tie with the Pirates, lost for the third time in a row.

New Stadium Studied In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A three-month study is under way to gather details on a proposed 65,000 domed stadium to handle all major sports in Cleveland.

Estimated cost of the stadium without the dome is $26 million and $45 million to $50 million with the dome.

A working model of the stadium was shown Monday by Charles Luckman, New York architect who designed the new Madison Square Garden in New York and the Forum in Los Angeles.

The Ogden Corp. of New York City built the working model and Luckman said the firm is "prepared to finance it entirely or if it went to a public bond arrangement we would be willing to buy up the bonds."

Cleveland, Cuyahoga County and the state agreed to share the cost ($40,000 each) to make the $120,000 survey.

The survey will find a site, decide on financing and the physical makeup, along with setting a target date for construction. Gov. James A. Rhodes attended the model presentation.

Luckman said it would take two years to build the complex, which would be used by the Cleveland Indians, Cleveland Browns, Cleveland Barons and Cleveland Stokers.

Bando's Hit In Ninth Beats Orioles Again

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sal Bando suddenly has found Baltimore pitching to be a soft touch and the Oakland Athletics are driving the battered Orioles to ground.

Bando, who drilled three hits and drove in three runs as Oakland completed a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Sunday, beat the fading Orioles 3-2 Monday night with a two-out run-scoring single in the ninth inning.

The loss, fifth in a row for the second-place Orioles, dropped them eight games behind front-running Detroit—closer to the bottom of the American League than the top.

The A's, who have beaten Baltimore six times in their last seven meetings, moved into a fifth-place tie with Boston—9½ games off the pace.

Jim Fregosi's 12th-inning homer gave California a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 2-1 on a two-run pinch triple by rookie Bill Voss and Minnesota downed Washington 4-1 behind southpaw Jim Kaat in other AL games. The Tigers and Red Sox were idle.

Bando drove in Oakland's first run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored in the sixth after poking a one-out single. Right-hander John "Blue Moon" Odom protected the 2-0 edge until the eighth, when the Orioles tied it on Don Buford's single, Fred Valentine's triple and Boog Powell's single off reliever Paul Lindblad.

With two out in the ninth, John Donaldson clipped Moe Drabowsky for a single, Rick Monday walked and Bando broke the deadlock with a single to right.

The husky third baseman, whose batting average dipped to .238 after an 0-for-4 collar in the first game of Sunday's twin bill, has since collected four singles and a double in eight trips to the plate for a .250 season mark.

Fregosi led off the 12th with a homer off New York reliever Joe Verbanic, ending the Yankees' three-game winning string and overshadowing a brilliant pitching performance by the losers' Stan Bahnsen.

Bahnsen held the Angels hitless until Bobby Knoop's double and a single by recently acquired Vic Davalillo tied the game 1-1 in the sixth, and allowed only one more hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the 12th.

The Yankees pushed over a run in the sixth after filling the bases with none out against Jim McGlothlin, but shoddy baserunning cost them a bigger inning. McGlothlin worked out of another bases-loaded jam in the ninth before giving way to winner Minnie Rojas.

Voss, batting .140 going into the White Sox' game against Cleveland at Milwaukee, broke up a scoreless duel in the seventh inning with his two-run triple off Steve Hargan.

Winner Jack Fisher blanked the Indians until the ninth, when pinch hitter Willie Smith double home an unearned run before reliever Bob Locker nailed the victory.

The setback ran Cleveland's losing streak to seven games, but still left the Indians in third place—8½ games out.

Kaat scattered eight hits and struck out seven as the Twins reeled off their fourth straight victory and extended Washington's winless streak to six games. Frank Quilici banged out a triple and double, scored one run and drove in another before Bob Allison's two-run homer in the eighth capped Minnesota's attack.

Indians Fall 2-1 To Chisox

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Manager Eddie Stanky could afford to scoff at the averages. His Chicago White Sox had just sent the Cleveland Indians down to a seventh straight defeat on a pinch triple by a .140 hitter.

"Averages mean nothing in this day and age," said Stanky, who sent rookie Bill Voss, .140 average and all, to the plate in place of Jerry McNertney in the seventh inning Monday night.

Voss came through with a booming triple that drove in two runs and gave the White Sox a 2-1 victory over the reeling Tribe.

The game, the third of the regular season for Chicago at Milwaukee, drew 28,081 fans — the largest of the "home" season for the Sox.

McNertney was batting .205, going into the game, which coincided exactly with the White Sox team average.

"Voss won a ball game for us over in New York," Stanky said in explaining why he used the rookie in the one-out situation against right-hander Steve Hargan. "Wth the bases loaded, he got a big hit."

Voss, brought up from Hawaii of the Pacific Cost League in late April, broke up a scoreless duel between Hargan and the veteran Jack Fisher.

The rookie, who admitted to nervousness over his first full-time exposure in the major leagues, said he recently began croking up on the bat handle. After Hargan got two strikes on him, Voss said he moved his hands up another inch.

The hit, he said, should help his confidence. "It gets you over the nervousness," he said.

JC Junior Golf Tourney Set Monday

The annual Jaycee Junior Golf Open will be held at the East Liverpool Country Club June 24.

The event, sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees, is open to all Ohio residents under 18 (still under 18 by Sept. 1, 1968).

There are three divisions, for 16-17 year olds, 13-15 year olds and 12 year olds and under. It will be an 18 hole tournament, with teeing off beginning at 8:30. Prizes will be awarded to the first and second place winners in each group and the winners in the two older groups will go to Columbus July 7-9 to play in the state tournament.

There is no entry fee. Entries, which should include name, address, date of birth and parents' signature should be sent to project chairman Richard Crable at 910 Crestview Drive. Entries will be accepted right up until tee-off time.

Waterford Perfecta $562.40 In Fourth

Celina Red, idle since the Wheeling Downs meeting, made his first Waterford Park start a victorious one last night, delighting the longshot players in the good crowd.

Overlooked in the betting, Celina Red paid $47.80 to win in the fourth race and started off a $562.40 perfecta prize.

The winning perfecta, 10-5, was completed by Will She, a filly who had the lead until the final 40 yards.

Jim Davis Has No-Hitter In Minor Play

Jim Davis of the First National Bank pitched a no-hitter in minor league play last night and almost had a perfect game.

Davis set TS&T down in order until the sixth, when he walked Dawson, the only baserunner he allowed. Davis also had two hits, as did Joe Webb. Eckstein took the loss.

Alvin McBean Happy Pirates Are Hitting

By JACK L. SHOLL
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pirate pitching and Pirate hitting are finally getting together.

That's the word from Al McBean who guided the Pittsburgh Pirates to their sixth straight victory Monday night with a 4-3 win over the Houston Astros.

"I think we're here now. Little by little we've been getting there and now we're ready," said McBean, who's 6-5.

The Pirates poured out 12 hits against the Astros which included Willie Stargell's 11th home run of the season and Matty Alou's three-run double.

"When you're not hitting a lot of guys start to think this is the end. But when guys start hitting it peps everybody up," he said.

"The way the guys were hitting Monday it made a more pleasurable game for me," he said. "Not an easier game, but a more pleasurable one, because it wasn't easy."

McBean pitched himself out of serious trouble in the seventh inning when Dick Simpson tripled off Roberto Clemente's glove in deep right center field with no outs. McBean quickly struck out Jim Wynn and Doug Rader after Rusty Staub grounded to Donn Clendenon.

"When a guy leads off with a triple like that," McBean said, "you've got to give it all you've got. You just have to bear down."

But McBean says the whole team's "hepped up" and it helps him.

"Everybody's charged up," McBean said. "Everybody on the field and in the bullpen are yelling back and forth. Jim Bunning was yelling right behind every pitch. That keeps me from getting lackadaisical."

Elroy Face gave McBean a little relief in the ninth and got the last out after singles by Simpson and Staub. Losing pitcher Dave Giusti has lost eight of 12 decisions.

Board Approves 2 More Contracts

Additional contracts for equipment for East Liverpool's new schools were awarded Monday night by the Board of Education, which also appointed eight instructors and accepted resignations from two others.

The board approved the purchase of 43 teacher podiums for $8,127 from the American Seating Co. of Strongsville, and fire extinguishers for $2,287 from Van's Extinguisher Service of East Liverpool.

Thomas Rodfong, a board member who previously had questioned the legality of a city official bidding on equipment he would subsequently be inspecting, said he had investigated the matter and could find no ruling against it. Van's is operated by Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne.

Rodfong also expressed his opinion more advertising should have been undertaken on equipment which did not require sealed bids, so that more than just one bid could have been studied by the board.

ON A VOTE to accept the bid, all members except Rodfong voted support.

The contract of Lt. Col. Stanley Brugh, director of the ROTC program, was renewed for three years effective Sept. 1 for 10 months each year.

Other faculty appointments included Harry Steinmetz of East Liverpool to the Vocational Auto Mechanics department and Harry M. Brown Jr. of Ellwood City for the Vocational Opportunity Work Experience program. Both programs have been approved by the Ohio Division of Vocational Education.

Steinmetz' one - year contract is on a 10-month basis and Browns is on a 12-month basis as required by the state. After the first year, this position then reverts to a 10-month basis. Brown received his training at Kent State University.

Emwood J. Ridenour of Fairmont, W. Va., was hired for the Vocational Industrial Drafting Program upon approval of the Division of Vocational Education. He is a brother of Charles Ridenour, whose contract was approved at the last meeting.

JOSEPH SMITH of East Liverpool was hired for the Vocational Distributive Education program and Miss Ruth Winland for Vocational Home Economics. Miss Winland has a certificate to teach vocational home economics and will attend a workshop at Miami University this summer for further training.

Fred Zechman and his wife Linda were hired by the board. Zechman will teach in the high school and serve as assistant high school football coach replacing James Render who is on a one - year leave of absence. Mrs. Zechman will teach in the elementary department. The Zechman's are from Columbus, where Mrs. Zechman taught one year.

Additional teachers approved for the Life Adjustment Curriculum federal program were Mrs. Lonna Wilson, Mrs. Frances Thomas, Mrs. Naomi Hendrickson, Mrs. Evelyn Bibbee, Mrs. Wanda Greenwood, Zechman and Robert Lorah. All but Zechman are presently teaching in the school system or recently hired for the new year.

Summer school teachers appointed for the high school were Milton Watson and Thomas Chema of East Liverpool and for the junior high program Robert McMahan, Donald Rogers, Susan Skidmore, Patricia Kapp and Jack Alpern, all of East Liverpool. These teachers are former summer school teachers.

THE RESIGNATIONS of Miss Marlene Laughlin and Mrs. Miriam Dunn of East Liverpool were accepted by the board. Miss Laughlin, an elementary teacher, did her student teaching here this past year. She will enter Ohio State University graduate school this fall to continue her studies. Mrs. Dunn has accepted a North Canton position. She taught junior high algebra.

Two change orders requested by Robert Beatty, architect for the new buildings, also were approved. The change order for the construction of the transformer pads at the new high school in accordance with the Ohio Power Co.'s revised requirements was approved for $2,930. The transformers will be larger than originally planned and handle a greater volume of electricity.

The second change order approved was for Conti Plumbing and Heating for labor and material required to replace and relocate two Bradley sinks in the Shop Building in Rooms 210 and 213 at a cost of $2,000. These are large round sinks operated with a foot pedal for washing off grime and grease. The order requires changing the sinks, soil, waste, vent, hot and cold water, and insulation of the piping.

THE TRI - STATE Promotion Club, through Mrs. Richard W. Carter, chairman, requested the use of the East Junior High Auditorium Aug. 18 for a concert to raise money for scholarships for two students for college. A community event, the action was approved for $37.50 plus custodial fees.

The board also approved, upon the recommendation of William Blair, building committee chairman, that the ground east of the driveway at Westgate be blacktopped as requested by the improvement and repair committee as part of the summer improvement program. The board voted to proceed with the repair and maintenance of the seating at Patterson Field. The committee will get estimates on seats for the reserve section.

Clifford Lynch, high school principal and president of the East Liverpool Administrators Association, requested the board recognize the organization as an official body. The board gave its approval to this group.

Lynch reported Al Hayes, faculty manager of Steubenville High School, requesteed that the Big 8 basketball preview tournament be held at the new high school gymnasium Nov. 23. It was scheduled for Steubenville Arena but the arena will not be available on that date. The board agreed to hold the tournament in the new gymnasium here.

Samuel Brown, board president, is attending a postmasters' convention and was not present at last night's meeting.

New Recruiter Begins Duties In Liverpool Area

Sfc. Raymond Hilliard, 33, formerly assigned to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., has begun duties as field recruiter in the East Liverpool district and Columbiana County.

Sfc. Hilliard, a native of New Castle, Pa., succeeds Edward Vallor, who recently retired.

He entered the Army in 1951, serving in Korea, Germany, Alaska, Vietnam and Japan in aviation assignments in flight operations.

He is married to the former Ursula Zimmerman of Germany. They have two daughters and a son and are residing on Center Rd. in the Shadyside area.

Sfc. Hilliard and Sgt. Robert J. Dusock are in charge of recruiting operations in the district.

Midland Firm Gets Contract

A contract for sidewalk replacement in the Springlane area was awarded Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland on a bid of $3,150 by the Midland Municipal Authority Monday night.

The Gingerella bid was identical to that submitted by George Studen Co. of Midland, but the authority said it met specifictions more accurately.

About 1,200 feet of sidewalk will be replaced on the south side of Springlane from the traffic signal to the west end of Midland.

Granville Kester of the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., recommended the authority accept two final contracts on the $342,000 water system expansion project. The work has been completed.

Contract 26 covers the laying of new pipeline by Peter Kukurin of East McKeesport, while Contract 28 is for the erection of two new reservoirs by the General American Tank Co. of Pittsburgh.

A final inspection of the entire project will be made today by officials of the Economic Development Agency, which granted $171,000 to help finance the expansion.

The inspectors will make up a punch list today of any jobs remaining to be completed on the four - phase program. A one-year guarantee is provided.

Bills paid included $32,630 for water, $3,651 for sewage and $131 for parking. The next meeting will be July 15 at 8 p. m.

Man Pleads Guilty

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Toledo man, accused of swindling the Ohio Citizens Trust Co. out of $48,000, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of larceny by trick.

Gary Shamas, 29, allegedly collected the money by presenting notes on nonexistent firms. Common Pleas Judge Frank Wiley postponed sentencing pending a probation report.

State Overseer Speaks

Mortgage-Burning Rites Held By Calcutta Grange

Harry Cook of Jefferson, state grange overseer, was guest speaker Sunday afternoon during the mortgage-burning ceremony of Calcutta Grange 1798.

He stressed the role of the grange in community life and pointed out how closely the state grange works with the Agricultural Department in Washington and its association with church activities.

—:—

THE PROGRAM was presented by Mrs. Faye Wright, master, who gave special recognition to three 50 - year members — Dwight Hickman, Lester Hickman and Mrs. Grace Thompson — and to Lester Hickman, only living charter member, who remains active in the movement.

Fred Kane sang, with Mrs. Dorothy Golba pianist.

The mortgage was read by Mrs. Wright and then placed on a tray at the altar, after which she lighted her candle from the candles on the altar and in turn lighted the candles of the past masters — Ellis Wright, Carl Kirkbride Sr., Wayne Thompson, Neil McIntosh, Lester Hickman and Dwight Highman. The group then burned the mortgage.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, chaplain. A brief history of the grange was presented by Mrs. Doris Thompson. Movies of the old grange and also the groundbreaking and building of the new grange were screened by Wayne Thompson.

REFRESHMENTS were served 50, including members of other county granges. The table was centered with a brandy snifter filled with yellow roses and daisies. A large sheet cake also decorated the table. Serving were Mrs. Barbara Thompson, Mrs. Doris Thompson, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds and Mrs. Harrietta Heckman.

The next regular grange session will be held tonight at 8, followed with degree practice.

Man's Injury Seen Indirect Crash Result

A service station proprietor was injured Monday as the indirect result of a mishap in which a camping trailer was demolished when it struck the height barrier on the Ohio approach to the Chester Bridge, police reported.

Bumped by a side mirror on the car which was towing the trailer, Alfred C. Gloeckner, 32, suffered a bruise and bump on his back and said he would go to City Hospital for X-rays, police said.

The demolished camping trailer was owned by Lawrence Beadnell Jr. of Hanoverton. It was being towed by a 1966 sedan driven by Ferrell Lowe, 38, of Post Office Box 174, Hanoverton.

Lowe and his wife and two children were en route to Washington and the southeastern states on a vacation. Lowe told Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Orin Smith he did not know the height of the borrowed trailer. As he started under the barricade, the roof caught on the I-beam and literally tore the trailer in half, officers said. The car was undamaged.

Lowe unhooked his auto from the wreckage. Then he decided to proceed to Chester, turn around and come back to East Liverpool to file a report on the crash.

As Lowe was passing the trailer again, one of the side mirrors on his car bumped Gloeckner, who was working on the wreckage, officers said. Gloeckner is proprietor of a service station near the bridge approach.

Township Roads Get Seal Coating

SALINEVILLE — County crews have started to apply seal coating to the township's roads, Don Hirst, president, reported during a meeting of the Washington Township trustees Saturday.

The roads are scheduled to receive a blacktop blade mix later in the summer, he added.

In other business, township road crews were instructed to mow and "ditch" the roads ahead of the county work.

A hospitalization plan outlined by representatives of the Continental Insurance Co. for employes, trustees and the clerks was turned down because of lack of funds, Hirst said.

7th Man Charged In Beaver Case

A seventh man believed involved in the bizarre highway death of a Baden man early Sunday near Zelienople was arraigned Monday afternoon in Beaver County.

Robert (Abe) Larson of Fair Oaks was placed under $5,000 bond before Justice of the Peace Frank Storar of Baden in connection with the death of Daniel Mihalic, 21, of Baden who was knocked off a moving auto.

Pennsylvania State Police at Chippewa and Mihalic apparently was riding on the outside of a car operated by Nancy Stewart, 20, of Corapolis, his arms around the center post, and was swept off the side when his body struck a pole marking a culvert.

His right leg was severed and he was dragged 85 feet. The girl drove on to Coraopolis without stopping, officers say. An investigation showed the girl and Mihalic were a part of a midnight drinking party that included four females and 12 men.

The woman and six other Beaver County men were charged with hit and run and involuntary manslaughter, the same charges lodged against Larson. All bonds were set at $5,000.

Judge Jails Driver, Sets $1,000 Fine

A city man, charged with drunken driving and operating a vehicle while under suspension, was fined $1,000 and costs and sentenced to a year in jail Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson.

Francis W. Fetty of 834 Sophia St. was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to six months on each of the charges.

He was also fined $5 and costs for failure to have a muffler on his auto.

Judge Dickson pointed out Fetty has had some 15 traffic charges filed against him in the past several years.

Also fined during hearings yesterday was Joseph Wayne Sellers of 1201 Dresden Ave., charged with failure to apply for registration plates and driving without an operator's license.

A $100 fine and costs were suspended on the first charge, but Sellers was fined $25 and costs on the second.

Police Hunt Clues In $25,000 Burglary

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police continue their search for clues in the burglary of a Cheviot jewelry store over the weekend which netted an estimated $25,000 in watches and jewels.

Edward L. Meyer, manager of the J. C. Hockett jewelry store said he discovered the theft when he opened the store at 9 a. m. Monday.

Police said burglars gained entrance to the store by breaking into an adjoining building and cutting a hole through a wall.

An average person can smell 2,000 different odors. Trained sniffers differentiate some 4,000 scents.

Meter Maids' Long Memory Costs Former Resident $35

A former East Liverpool resident cited Monday night on a traffic charge learned about the long memory of the city's "Meter Maids" and the experience cost him a $35.50 forfeit on nine old parking tickets.

James M. Wilson., 23, of Dover, formerly of 1023 Edgewood Ave., first ran afoul of the law at 8:30 last night when he was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on a charge of driving too fast for existing road and weather conditions.

He posted a $27.50 bond on the patrol charge, which alleged his auto ran off County Rd. 426 and plunged into a ditch.

THEN HE was confronted with the "Meter Maid" affidavit alleging that he failed to pay the penalty for the nine tickets while residing here. He also posted a bond on the second charge. The two bonds totaling $63 were forfeited this morning by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when Wilson failed to appear for a hearing.

Keith Johnston, 18, of 1253 Croft St. was fined $50 and costs today on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance, the second of two counts growing out of a mishap Sunday in which his car struck a halted auto at E. 6th St. and Broadway. Johnston was fined $25 and costs Monday on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle.

Meanwhile, the court decreed a fine of $25 and costs for Herman Hoppel of RD 3 after convicting him of a charge of failure to display a license plate on the front of his vehicle. Hoppel had pleaded not guilty Monday. He was cited Saturday at 10:30 a. m. on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman K. J. Montgomery.

Hoppel produced two witnesses today to attempt to refute the officer's testimony. They were Charles Hoppel of Stagecoach Rd., a cousin, and Tom Possage of Glenmoor, a service station attendant.

After he was convicted, Hoppel asked the court to defer sentencing so that he could obtain counsel and seek a jury trial. The judge replied it was highly irregular for a defendant to take such action after he had learned he was convicted. He said the action should have been taken before the trial began.

THE COURT set a hearing Wednesday for Charles T. Landy, 27, of Valley Ave., charged with driving an auto without an operator's permit. Landy was cited this morning at 1:31 at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce Sts. by Patrolman James Buckley.

Walter R. Corbin, 18, of Salineville RD 1 was fined $15 and costs on a patrol charge of operating an auto with an "excessively loud exhaust." The patrol said he was cited Saturday at 10:45 p. m. in Wellsville.

Lawrence J. Thomas, 34, of 919 Bank St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 47 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Lisbon St. In another charge of operating an auto without a driver's license, Thomas was ordered to pay court costs after producing a permit. He was cited Sunday at 6:45 p. m.

Trevino's Open Victory Gets Club Out Of Debt

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — When Lee Trevino arrived in El Paso two years ago, the only job he could get at the Horizon Hills Country Club paid $30 per week plus fees for teaching golf lessons.

Today Trevino is one-third owner of the club and has a new goal of squaring the young course with the loan company before the end of summer.

Something best described as a riot broke out at the club when Trevino, a gregarious Mexican-American with a flat swing and four sub-par rounds, blazed home in record form Sunday to capture the U.S. Open.

"We wanted him to come home," said co-owner Jess Whittington. "We had this party all planned but Lee said he didn't have time for that social stuff now.

"He said he wanted to have the course paid for by the end of the summer. And he just might do it too," Whittington said with still a twinge of amazement in his voice.

Trevno originally was not expected to return to El Paso until after the British Open next month, Whittington said, but he was due back here today because of the illness of his 3-year-old daughter, Lesley.

It was not immediately known if Trevino would withdraw from the Canadian Open in Toronto this weekend.

Jess, his cousin Don Whittington and Trevino are co-owners of the club. Trevino plows back a good portion of his tour earnings into the course corporation.

Jess and Don could take bows on Wall Street for the decision a year ago to borrow money to sponsor Lee on the golf tour. "All I can say is it was one heck of an investment," Jess said.

Trevino migrated to West Texas two years ago but at that time Jess and Don were in the process of building up the club and couldn't really afford to hire Trevino.

"He asked if he could play here until he got his class A card," Jess said. "The best we could do was $30 per week plus his lesson fees."

But Trevino snapped up the offer and he was all over the place.

"He did everything," Jess said. "He revamped the store room, built new clubs racks, picked up range balls and even shined shoes when the regular shoe shine boy didn't show up.

"Finally we told him when he thought he was ready (for the pro tour), to let us know and we'd sponsor him."

Trevino decided he was ready one year ago and he entered the pro tour at the U.S. Open. He finished fifth, winning $6,000 and that's when he bought one-third ownership in the country club.

South, With Fraley, Favored Over North

By HAL PARIS
AP Sports Writer

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Eight all-state performers, including Player of the Year John Fraley of Middletown, are among the 20 scholastic superstars who will rub elbows here Saturday night in the annual North-South All-Star basketball game.

The North holds a 5-3 advantage in the series, including one-point victories at the Marion Coliseum the last two years.

But Fraley, perhaps the most-publicized high school cager since Jerry Lucas, is expected to lead the south back on the victory path.

Dick Schenk of Newark and Henderson (Heckie) Thompson of Western Pike are the Rebel coaches most anxious to utilize the talents of Mr. Fraley.

But Yankee coaches Doc Daugherty of Euclid and Bob Frye, who guided Mansfield St. Peter to the Class A championship, have a coiple of aces of their own.

These include a pair of Class AA All-Ohioans and a trio of Class A all-staters.

Al Vilcheck, a 6-foot-9 center from Euclid, and 6 - 7 Roger Evans of Cuyahoga Falls are the AA all-staters. The small school All-Ohioans on the north squad are Doug Alt of Mansfield St. Peter; Bob Howell of Mendon Union and John Kennedy of Springfield Local.

Aside from Fraley, the South boasts one other AA all-starter in Randy Smith, who played with titlist Columbus East, and Doug Hill a Class A star from Southeastern of Ross County.

Howell, who made half his shots while piling up 36.6 point average, had a career total of 1648.

Other hotshots on the North quintet included John Creasap of Marion Harding; Tom Darden of Sandusky; Earl Diddle of East Liverpool; Jess Gregory of Napoleon and Stan White of Kent Roosevelt.

The South squad includes Danny Furlong of Tipp City; Roger Garrison, Buckeye Valley; Harold Howe, Jackson; Kent Johnson., Cincinnati Green Hill; Mike Painter, Zanesville; Charles Snow, Newark and Payton Townsend, Hamilton Garfield.

Smith, 6-7, and Townsend, 6-8, are expected to give the Reds backboard strength while Fraley and mates bomb the basket.

Reserve seats for the 8:30 p. m. clash are $2.50 while general admission is $1.50.

Canadian Draws Top Golfing Field

TORONTO (AP) — Everything about Julius Boros is relaxed, from his effortless swing to his ambling approach to every green.

Big Julie, 48, displayed his relaxed approach Monday as he practiced for the 72-hole Canadian Open Golf Championship which starts Thursday at St. George's Golf Club.

While many of the touring professionals practiced over the par-70, 6,792-yard layout, another 132 golfers were playing for the 20 spots still available in the four-day open.

The tournament carries total prize money of $125,000, with a first prize of $25,000.

The field is one of the best ever to play in a Canadian tournament. Included is the Big Three of defending champion Billy Casper, former champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Other top names include two-time winners Doug Ford and Jim Ferrier, Gary Player of South Africa and Lee Trevino, who won t's.ns. open at Rochester, N.Y., Sunday.

The tournament ends Sunday, with action over the final five holes Saturday and Sunday to be televised in the United States by CBS.

Pipers Status In Pittsburgh Not Certain

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gabe Rubin is a man torn between hometown pride and hard economic facts.

Rubin, the owner of the Pittsburgh Pipers, says he'll know for sure within the next two weeks whether the American Basketball Association team will remain in the city.

"As far as the fan interest is concerned, I feel it will improve," said Rubin. "The city is still my hometown. The decision is personal, but it's economic, too."

He said his decision rests on such factors as season ticket sales, auditorium dates and television contracts in Pittsburgh and other cities.

Rubin's attendance at the ABA meeting in Minneapolis, Minn., last week sparked rumors that he might sell or transfer the championship team.

"I have not sold the club," he said Monday. "I do not have a deal. If I do get a deal I will make an announcement."

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 8 More Lives

By The Associated Press

A deadly period on Ohio's highways that brought 23 weekend deaths has shown no signs of ending. Among the many traffic deaths reported Monday were those of two youngsters hit by cars.

The latest victims:

Carl L. Jones, 37, New Vienna.
James Church, 28, Columbus.
Mamie White, 67, Warren.
Edward Babos, 23, Masury.
Thomas Ryan, 15, Vickery.
Elige D. Hicks, 3, of near Batavia.
Rupert B. Perry, 68, Cincinnati.
Donald J. Malcom, 24, Middletown.

Jones died Monday night in a car-truck collision on Ohio 3 near Wilmington.

Church was killed in a two-car collision Monday near Lancaster.

Mamie White died Sunday night of inuries suffered Friday in a one-car wreck near Ottoville in Putnam County. She died in a Lima hospital.

Babos was one of the drivers Monday in a two-car crash in Hubbard Township, Trumbull County.

The Ryan boy and a companion were riding bicycles Monday when they were hit by a car near Vickery.

Clermont County police said the Hicks boy drove his tricycle onto the roadway into the path of a car Monday near his home.

Perry died Monday in a two-car accident in Cincinnati.

Malcom, an Ohio University student, was on a motorcycle that was struck by a truck Monday in Athens.

Pro Football Will Be Hard, Says Beban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gary Beban, UCLA's All-American quarterback and 1967 Heisman Trophy winner, doesn't expect to be an instant success in pro football.

"I think a rookie has to have an apprenticeship, like in any other business," Beban said Monday as he signed a no-cut contract with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

"You can't expect to soak up the complexities of pro football in a short time," he added.

The Redskins acquired the rights to Beban from the Los Angeles Rams last week with the Rams getting the Redskins' No. 1 draft choice next year.

The contract reportedly is for $200,000 apread over several years.

Aaron Ties Gehrig On Homer List

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta slugger Henry Aaron moved up another notch in the ranks of all-time home run hitters Monday night, slamming his 493rd over the left field fence and helping Atlanta to a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

The homer put Aaron in a tie with the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees for eighth place in the major league home run derby. It also tied him with Eddie Mathews as the No. 1 Braves home run hitter in history.

"It means an awful lot to me," Aaron said, "especially tying Eddie because he and I played together so long."

After he passes Gehrig, the next step up the ladder for Hammering Hank is Mel Ott with 511.

700 Eye Last Chance For Olympics Berth

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—More than 700 athletes get their last chance to stay in the running for a U. S. Olympic track team spot Thursday and Friday at the National AAU championships.

The top six American finishers in each of 18 events—a total of 108—will go to the final tryouts the following weekend in Los Angeles. They will compete with more than 160 others already qualified through the NCAA, NAIA and interservice eliminations.

Yesterdays Stars

BATTING—Bill Voss, White Sox, slammed a two-run pinch hit triple in the seventh inning, giving the Sox a 2-1 victory over Cleveland at Milwaukee.

PITCHING—Stan Bahnsen, Yankees, held California to one run and three hits for 11 innings before Jim Fregosi's 12th inning homer off reliever Joe Verbanic beat the Yanks 2-1.

Fink, Texas Looking For Fink Golfers

FINK, Tex. (AP) — Offcials of the Fink Invitation Golf Tournament looked for more finks today to make a foursome.

The tournament this weekend, launching National Fink Week, registered its first authentic Fink Monday.

David Fink, 22, of Houston, who has never played golf, said he will join the field of non-Finks at Tanglewool Hills Country Club near this North Texas community.

"I'm hoping to find enough Finks for a forsome," said Fink, a sports writer for the Houston Post.

The annual Fink celebration began several years ago when the term Fink became popular as a slang expression. About 125 persons visited the town during last year's festivities.

ANN LANDERS

'Jinx' Troubles Family

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Do you believe a place can be jinxed? I used to laugh at the idea but too many things have happened that make me suspect there might be something to it.

A certain corner in our city has been the scene of four accidents within 24 months involving members of my family. My father had a head-on collision with a truck and was critically injured. My wife was hit by a drunk driver at that same spot six months later. The following month my brother ran over a dog at the identical place.

Yesterday, a kid on roller skates appeared out of nowhere and I hit him. Thank God the boy got off with only a broken arm.

Can all of these accidents be coincidental? If there's a logical explanation, I'd like to hear it. — CURSE OF THE CORNER.

Dear Corner: You and your relatives ought to stay away from that place — not because it's jinxed, but because you think it is.

I can understand how you'd become unglued just approaching the scene of so many family accidents. Avoid that corner — even if it means going a mile out of you way.

Bookworm

Dear Ann: This is just a little thing but it could save a lot of trouble and money.

On my last birthday I received three beautiful, expensive books. In each book, the giver wrote a warm sentiment and signed his name.

Two books were duplicates of one I already had in my library. I don't mean to sound ungracious, but here I sit with three identical $27 books.

In one book is written, "I hope you will always hold this gift dear to your heart" etc., etc. The other book is inscribed: "Much love to a dear friend whose affection I cherish and whose dedication to the fine principles of humanity I hope to emulate."

If these well-meaning folks had not written in the books I could have returned them. How does this strike you? — PRACTICAL.

Dear Prac: It strikes me as incredible that a person who could rate such warm inscriptions could be so insensitive.

You've got duplicates — so what? The sentiments expressed by your friends should make the books priceless.

Poison Pen

Dear Ann: This morning the clunk I'm married to told me he wrote to you. Please, Ann, don't print his letter.

To begin with, he'd rather lie than tell the truth and he's awfully good at making himself look good and me look lousy, even if it means making up a story out of thin air.

I have been through so much hell with this ape and so many people know about it that any kind of publicity in the paper would be recognized at once. The jerk even signed his right name. He wrote the letter in green ink on our son's white notebook paper.

I'm begging you on my knees, Ann, please don't print his letter. — SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.

Dear Sleepless: Get off your knees, Lady. I have your husband's letter in my hands and it will not appear in print. You have my word for it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Project Eyed On Shadyside

Council conferred Monday night with a delegation of citizens on the need for widening and resurfacing of Shadyside Ave., a request that dates back at least five years.

The discussion ended with a promise the Council street committee will confer with City Engineer George Bloomgren to determine the city's next step in seeking to make the project a reality.

Council and the county commissioners have agreed in principle to cooperate in the project and share the costs, but the fine points of the agreement never have been worked out.

Lawrence Creel acted as spokesman for the Shadyside Ave. delegation, which was accompanied by County Commissioner James Boyd and Guy Digman and Richard Sanford, Liverpool Township trustees. Creel told Council some of the residents favor "going to court" if the project is not undertaken soon.

Citing the narrow width of the pavement, he said: "All we want is a safe route to haul our children to school." The delegation has contended repeatedly that school buses cannot pass safely on the narrow road and that children afoot are required to jump into ditches to avoid oncoming traffic.

Councilmen replied that on several occasions they believed a satisfactory agreement had been worked out for city-county cooperation in the work, but the job never materialized. Township trustees said they are willing to furnish machinery and labor for the project, but have no available funds.

Boyd recalled that the cost of the job once was estimated at $50,000 to $60,000, covering widening, resurfacing and installation of a sidewalk. The discussion ended with the promise the Council committee would confer with Bloomgren.

Four Are Fined At Wellsville In Traffic Mishaps

Four were fined in acting mayor Wayne Rose's court at Wellsville Monday as the result of traffic accidents.

Clifford Shultz of 850 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, was assessed $250 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his car crashed into another owned by Verna Wilkenson of New Castle, parked at 9th and Main Sts.

Both cars received minor damage, officers reported.

Glen Kelly of Industry was fined on a reckless operation charge after his car crashed into a tree and fire hydrant. Kelly told officers he fell asleep.

Richard Pritt of Akron was found guilty on two charges by Rose. He was fined $10 and costs for public intoxication and $25 for indecent exposure.

John W. Nation Jr. of Alliance was fined $50 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance as the result of a three - car mishap at Wells Ave. and Legion St. Sunday.

A Chester woman was taken to City Hospital following the mishap.

Treated was Mrs. Reva Anderson of Chester RD 1 for contusions of both knees and the back.

Officers said the mishap occurred at 1:08 p.m. when a 1956 sedan operated by Nation crashed into the rear of the 1962 sedan driven by Mrs. Anderson. The Anderson car then was forced into the rear of a 1968 sedan driven by William T. Chaup of 811 Logans St., Toronto, which was attempting a left turn onto Legion St.

Bids Slated Aug. 6

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway Director P. E. Masheter said Monday bids will be opened Aug. 6 for relocation of a 4.4-mile section of Ohio 48 in Warren County. The cost was estimated at $3.1 million.

The project is south of Lebanon and U.S. 42 between Lebanon and Genntown. The relocation will bypass the east side of Lebanon and interchange with Ohio 123.

7 Tentatively Seated In Ohio Murder Trial

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Seven jurors were tentatively seated Monday during the first day of the trial of Mark D Hodges, 27, charged with shooting with intent to kill in the wounding of Denise Fortner, 17.

Hodges also is charged with first - degree murder in Wood County in the slaying of a suburban Toledo girl last summer.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Son Gives 'Coupon Book'

DEAR HELOISE: I gave my Mom a gift on her birthday that she liked so well she said it was the nicest gift she had ever received.

Heloise

It was a "coupon book" of things I could do for her.

Whenever she wants me to do one of them, she just tears out that page and gives it to me.

Some of the things I wrote were:

I'll help with supper; I'll empty the trash; I'll sweep the front porch and steps; I'll read a book instead of watching TV; I'll spray wax the furniture; I'll clean my room; I'll do anything you tell me to. . . .

There were 10 things in all. I got the idea from my school teacher and have liked doing all of these things because it makes my Mom happy.

Of course, I also do other things when she asks me.

And since she liked this idea so much, I've decided to make another coupon book for next Mother's Day as well as on every birthday.

RANDY
AGE 7.

Randy, I think this is the sweetest idea I ever heard of. Yours is a lucky Mom and I'm sure she appreciates your gift much more because you thought of it yourself.

Wouldn't all of you Moms love to get a birthday present just like this? I sure would! ! Doesn't cost a penny out of either your pocket or your child's piggy bank. And what a joy to have this help offered without coaxing.

A big hug and squeeze to you, Randy, from the rest of us mothers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Please help me so I won't break a leg.

There are two steps in our stairs that make a loud squeak every time we go up or downstairs. I've even been taking two steps at a time to avoid the squeaky ones. I'm careful, but it probably will be my luck to fall someday.

Is there any easy way to stop those squeaks without going to the trouble and expense of replacing the boards?

Mrs. B, I know there must be ways to stop those squeaks. Maybe some of our friends will tell us how they managed to do it.

Come on, folks, how about it? Write to me in care of this paper and let us know. We'd love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure many others will be canning strawberries this summer, so would like to pass on a little tip I learned.

To prevent the berries from rising to the top of the jar, lay the jar on its side until it cools, after the jar has been sealed.

Then shake until the berries are distributed all through the syrup. The berries will neither rise nor settle, but stay evenly distributed.

HOME CANNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I tried detergent, turpentine, kerosene, window cleaner, dishwasher detergent, alcohol and household cleaner with ammonia to remove freezer tape we put on our windows prior to a storm.

So . . . I just decided to leave 'em plastered for next year! The draperies hide it from my side anyway.

VERNICE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband likes pajamas with a pull-over top, but the stores don't have many of them.

Now as soon as I buy a new pair, I sit down to my machine and with a zigzag stitch (because it lasts longer), I sew up the front along the open edge (through both thickness) and back down the other side of the buttons.

Then my husband just slips the top over his head and we never have to worry about ripped-off buttons or a torn front.

Sure saves my temper because I hate to sew buttons. How about you?

Board Approves 2 More Contracts

Additional contracts for equipment for East Liverpool's new schools were awarded Monday night by the Board of Education, which also appointed eight instructors and accepted resignations from two others.

The board approved the purchase of 43 teacher podiums for $8,127 from the American Seating Co. of Strongsville, and fire extinguishers for $2,287 from Van's Extinguisher Service of East Liverpool.

Thomas Rodfong, a board member who previously had questioned the legality of a city official bidding on equipment he would subsequently be inspecting, said he had investigated the matter and could find no ruling against it. Van's is operated by Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne.

Rodfong also expressed his opinion more advertising should have been undertaken on equipment which did not require sealed bids, so that more than just one bid could have been studied by the board.

ON A VOTE to accept the bid, all members except Rodfong voted support.

The contract of Lt. Col. Stanley Brugh, director of the ROTC program, was renewed for three years effective Sept. 1 for 10 months each year.

Other faculty appointments included Harry Steinmetz of East Liverpool to the Vocational Auto Mechanics department and Harry M. Brown Jr. of Ellwood City for the Vocational Opportunity Work Experience program. Both programs have been approved by the Ohio Division of Vocational Education.

Steinmetz' one - year contract is on a 10-month basis and Browns is on a 12-month basis as required by the state. After the first year, this position then reverts to a 10-month basis. Brown received his training at Kent State University.

Emwood J. Ridenour of Fairmont, W. Va., was hired for the Vocational Industrial Drafting Program upon approval of the Division of Vocational Education. He is a brother of Charles Ridenour, whose contract was approved at the last meeting.

JOSEPH SMITH of East Liverpool was hired for the Vocational Distributive Education program and Miss Ruth Winland for Vocational Home Economics. Miss Winland has a certificate to teach vocational home economics and will attend a workshop at Miami University this summer for further training.

Fred Zechman and his wife Linda were hired by the board. Zechman will teach in the high school and serve as assistant high school football coach replacing James Render who is on a one - year leave of absence. Mrs. Zechman will teach in the elementary department. The Zechman's are from Columbus, where Mrs. Zechman taught one year.

Additional teachers approved for the Life Adjustment Curriculum federal program were Mrs. Lonna Wilson, Mrs. Frances Thomas, Mrs. Naomi Hendrickson, Mrs. Evelyn Bibbee, Mrs. Wanda Greenwood, Zechman and Robert Lorah. All but Zechman are presently teaching in the school system or recently hired for the new year.

Summer school teachers appointed for the high school were Milton Watson and Thomas Chema of East Liverpool and for the junior high program Robert McMahan, Donald Rogers, Susan Skidmore, Patricia Kapp and Jack Alpern, all of East Liverpool. These teachers are former summer school teachers.

THE RESIGNATIONS of Miss Marlene Laughlin and Mrs. Miriam Dunn of East Liverpool were accepted by the board. Miss Laughlin, an elementary teacher, did her student teaching here this past year. She will enter Ohio State University graduate school this fall to continue her studies. Mrs. Dunn has accepted a North Canton position. She taught junior high algebra.

Two change orders requested by Robert Beatty, architect for the new buildings, also were approved. The change order for the construction of the transformer pads at the new high school in accordance with the Ohio Power Co.'s revised requirements was approved for $2,930. The transformers will be larger than originally planned and handle a greater volume of electricity.

The second change order approved was for Conti Plumbing and Heating for labor and material required to replace and relocate two Bradley sinks in the Shop Building in Rooms 210 and 213 at a cost of $2,000. These are large round sinks operated with a foot pedal for washing off grime and grease. The order requires changing the sinks, soil, waste, vent, hot and cold water, and insulation of the piping.

THE TRI - STATE Promotion Club, through Mrs. Richard W. Carter, chairman, requested the use of the East Junior High Auditorium Aug. 18 for a concert to raise money for scholarships for two students for college. A community event, the action was approved for $37.50 plus custodial fees.

The board also approved, upon the recommendation of William Blair, building committee chairman, that the ground east of the driveway at Westgate be blacktopped as requested by the improvement and repair committee as part of the summer improvement program. The board voted to proceed with the repair and maintenance of the seating at Patterson Field. The committee will get estimates on seats for the reserve section.

Clifford Lynch, high school principal and president of the East Liverpool Administrators Association, requested the board recognize the organization as an official body. The board gave its approval to this group.

Lynch reported Al Hayes, faculty manager of Steubenville High School, requesteed that the Big 8 basketball preview tournament be held at the new high school gymnasium Nov. 23. It was scheduled for Steubenville Arena but the arena will not be available on that date. The board agreed to hold the tournament in the new gymnasium here.

Samuel Brown, board president, is attending a postmasters' convention and was not present at last night's meeting.

New Recruiter Begins Duties In Liverpool Area

Sfc. Raymond Hilliard, 33, formerly assigned to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., has begun duties as field recruiter in the East Liverpool district and Columbiana County.

Sfc. Hilliard, a native of New Castle, Pa., succeeds Edward Vallor, who recently retired.

He entered the Army in 1951, serving in Korea, Germany, Alaska, Vietnam and Japan in aviation assignments in flight operations.

He is married to the former Ursula Zimmerman of Germany. They have two daughters and a son and are residing on Center Rd. in the Shadyside area.

Sfc. Hilliard and Sgt. Robert J. Dusock are in charge of recruiting operations in the district.

Midland Firm Gets Contract

A contract for sidewalk replacement in the Springlane area was awarded Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland on a bid of $3,150 by the Midland Municipal Authority Monday night.

The Gingerella bid was identical to that submitted by George Studen Co. of Midland, but the authority said it met specifictions more accurately.

About 1,200 feet of sidewalk will be replaced on the south side of Springlane from the traffic signal to the west end of Midland.

Granville Kester of the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., recommended the authority accept two final contracts on the $342,000 water system expansion project. The work has been completed.

Contract 26 covers the laying of new pipeline by Peter Kukurin of East McKeesport, while Contract 28 is for the erection of two new reservoirs by the General American Tank Co. of Pittsburgh.

A final inspection of the entire project will be made today by officials of the Economic Development Agency, which granted $171,000 to help finance the expansion.

The inspectors will make up a punch list today of any jobs remaining to be completed on the four - phase program. A one-year guarantee is provided.

Bills paid included $32,630 for water, $3,651 for sewage and $131 for parking. The next meeting will be July 15 at 8 p. m.

Man Pleads Guilty

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Toledo man, accused of swindling the Ohio Citizens Trust Co. out of $48,000, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of larceny by trick.

Gary Shamas, 29, allegedly collected the money by presenting notes on nonexistent firms. Common Pleas Judge Frank Wiley postponed sentencing pending a probation report.

State Overseer Speaks

Mortgage-Burning Rites Held By Calcutta Grange

Harry Cook of Jefferson, state grange overseer, was guest speaker Sunday afternoon during the mortgage-burning ceremony of Calcutta Grange 1798.

He stressed the role of the grange in community life and pointed out how closely the state grange works with the Agricultural Department in Washington and its association with church activities.

—:—

THE PROGRAM was presented by Mrs. Faye Wright, master, who gave special recognition to three 50 - year members — Dwight Hickman, Lester Hickman and Mrs. Grace Thompson — and to Lester Hickman, only living charter member, who remains active in the movement.

Fred Kane sang, with Mrs. Dorothy Golba pianist.

The mortgage was read by Mrs. Wright and then placed on a tray at the altar, after which she lighted her candle from the candles on the altar and in turn lighted the candles of the past masters — Ellis Wright, Carl Kirkbride Sr., Wayne Thompson, Neil McIntosh, Lester Hickman and Dwight Highman. The group then burned the mortgage.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, chaplain. A brief history of the grange was presented by Mrs. Doris Thompson. Movies of the old grange and also the groundbreaking and building of the new grange were screened by Wayne Thompson.

REFRESHMENTS were served 50, including members of other county granges. The table was centered with a brandy snifter filled with yellow roses and daisies. A large sheet cake also decorated the table. Serving were Mrs. Barbara Thompson, Mrs. Doris Thompson, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds anl Mrs. Harrietta Heckman.

The next regular grange session will be held tonight at 8, followed with degree practice.

Man's Injury Seen Indirect Crash Result

A service station proprietor was injured Monday as the indirect result of a mishap in which a camping trailer was demolished when it struck the height barrier on the Ohio approach to the Chester Bridge, police reported.

Bumped by a side mirror on the car which was towing the trailer, Alfred C. Gloeckner, 32, suffered a bruise and bump on his back and said he would go to City Hospital for X-rays, police said.

The demolished camping trailer was owned by Lawrence Beadnell Jr. of Hanoverton. It was being towed by a 1966 sedan driven by Ferrell Lowe, 38, of Post Office Box 174, Hanoverton.

Lowe and his wife and two children were en route to Washington and the southeastern states on a vacation. Lowe told Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Orin Smith he did not know the height of the borrowed trailer. As he started under the barricade, the roof caught on the I-beam and literally tore the trailer in half, officers said. The car was undamaged.

Lowe unhooked his auto from the wreckage. Then he decided to proceed to Chester, turn around and come back to East Liverpool to file a report on the crash.

As Lowe was passing the trailer again, one of the side mirrors on his car bumped Gloeckner, who was working on the wreckage, officers said. Gloeckner is proprietor of a service station near the bridge approach.

Township Roads Get Seal Coating

SALINEVILLE — County crews have started to apply seal coating to the township's roads, Don Hirst, president, reported during a meeting of the Washington Township trustees Saturday.

The roads are scheduled to receive a blacktop blade mix later in the summer, he added.

In other business, township road crews were instructed to mow and "ditch" the roads ahead of the county work.

A hospitalization plan outlined by representatives of the Continental Insurance Co. for employes, trustees and the clerks was turned down because of lack of funds, Hirst said.

7th Man Charged In Beaver Case

A seventh man believed involved in the bizarre highway death of a Baden man early Sunday near Zelienople was arraigned Monday afternoon in Beaver County.

Robert (Abe) Larson of Fair Oaks was placed under $5,000 bond before Justice of the Peace Frank Storar of Baden in connection with the death of Daniel Mihalic, 21, of Baden who was knocked off a moving auto.

Pennsylvania State Police at Chippewa and Mihalic apparently was riding on the outside of a car operated by Nancy Stewart, 20, of Corapolis, his arms around the center post, and was swept off the side when his body struck a pole marking a culvert.

His right leg was severed and he was dragged 85 feet. The girl drove on to Coraopolis without stopping, officers say. An investigation showed the girl and Mihalic were a part of a midnight drinking party that included four females and 12 men.

The woman and six other Beaver County men were charged with hit and run and involuntary manslaughter, the same charges lodged against Larson. All bonds were set at $5,000.

Judge Jails Driver, Sets $1,000 Fine

A city man, charged with drunken driving and operating a vehicle while under suspension, was fined $1,000 and costs and sentenced to a year in jail Monday by County Judge Barry Dickson.

Francis W. Fetty of 834 Sophia St. was fined $500 and costs and sentenced to six months on each of the charges.

He was also fined $5 and costs for failure to have a muffler on his auto.

Judge Dickson pointed out Fetty has had some 15 traffic charges filed against him in the past several years.

Also fined during hearings yesterday was Joseph Wayne Sellers of 1201 Dresden Ave., charged with failure to apply for registration plates and driving without an operator's license.

A $100 fine and costs were suspended on the first charge, but Sellers was fined $25 and costs on the second.

Police Hunt Clues In $25,000 Burglary

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police continue their search for clues in the burglary of a Cheviot jewelry store over the weekend which netted an estimated $25,000 in watches and jewels.

Edward L. Meyer, manager of the J. C. Hockett jewelry store said he discovered the theft when he opened the store at 9 a. m. Monday.

Police said burglars gained entrance to the store by breaking into an adjoining building and cutting a hole through a wall.

An average person can smell 2,000 different odors. Trained sniffers differentiate some 4,000 scents.

Meter Maids' Long Memory Costs Former Resident $35

A former East Liverpool resident cited Monday night on a traffic charge learned about the long memory of the city's "Meter Maids" and the experience cost him a $35.50 forfeit on nine old parking tickets.

James M. Wilson., 23, of Dover, formerly of 1023 Edgewood Ave., first ran afoul of the law at 8:30 last night when he was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on a charge of driving too fast for existing road and weather conditions.

He posted a $27.50 bond on the patrol charge, which alleged his auto ran off County Rd. 426 and plunged into a ditch.

THEN HE was confronted with the "Meter Maid" affidavit alleging that he failed to pay the penalty for the nine tickets while residing here. He also posted a bond on the second charge. The two bonds totaling $63 were forfeited this morning by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when Wilson failed to appear for a hearing.

Keith Johnston, 18, of 1253 Croft St. was fined $50 and costs today on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance, the second of two counts growing out of a mishap Sunday in which his car struck a halted auto at E. 6th St. and Broadway. Johnston was fined $25 and costs Monday on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle.

Meanwhile, the court decreed a fine of $25 and costs for Herman Hoppel of RD 3 after convicting him of a charge of failure to display a license plate on the front of his vehicle. Hoppel had pleaded not guilty Monday. He was cited Saturday at 10:30 a. m. on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman K. J. Montgomery.

Hoppel produced two witnesses today to attempt to refute the officer's testimony. They were Charles Hoppel of Stagecoach Rd., a cousin, and Tom Possage of Glenmoor, a service station attendant.

After he was convicted, Hoppel asked the court to defer sentencing so that he could obtain counsel and seek a jury trial. The judge replied it was highly irregular for a defendant to take such action after he had learned he was convicted. He said the action should have been taken before the trial began.

THE COURT set a hearing Wednesday for Charles T. Landy, 27, of Valley Ave., charged with driving an auto without an operator's permit. Landy was cited this morning at 1:31 at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce Sts. by Patrolman James Buckley.

Walter R. Corbin, 18, of Salineville RD 1 was fined $15 and costs on a patrol charge of operating an auto with an "excessively loud exhaust." The patrol said he was cited Saturday at 10:45 p. m. in Wellsville.

Lawrence J. Thomas, 34, of 919 Bank St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 47 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Lisbon St. In another charge of operating an auto without a driver's license, Thomas was ordered to pay court costs after producing a permit. He was cited Sunday at 6:45 p. m.

Of all species of sea birds, Wilson's petrels are the most abundant.

JOYCE SCHWARTZ, MANAGER

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Hot Packs Ease Painful Joints

Q—I have synovitis in my right ankle. What can be done for it?

A—Synovitis is an inflammation of the sheath of tissue that surrounds the large tendons where they are attached to a bone near its joint. It may be associated with tuberculosis and other serious diseases of the bones and joints but in most cases is caused by repeated injuries incurred when you make quick, forceful movements. If hot applications, rest and protective bandaging don't relieve it, injecting the joint with hydrocortisone should be tried.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—I have capsulitis in my right elbow. What is the best treatment? How long does it usually last? Will it recur?

A—Capsulitis of a joint is closely related to synovitis and bursitis. All are treated in essentially the same way. The duration depends on the severity and your individual response to the treatment used. Recurrences are common so it behooves you to avoid sudden violent movements or injuries to your elbow.

Q—What causes some of my joints to make creaking or grating noises when I move them? Is there a cure for this?

A—Grating sounds in the joints are usually due to arthritic roughening of the joint surface. When these changes have occurred the smooth surface can be restored only by replacing the joint cartilage with a noncorroding metal.

Q—My doctor says I have a frozen shoulder. What does that mean? What can be done to relieve the pain?

A—This is a name given to adhesive or calcified tendinitis, a condition in which the joint is stiff and movement is very painful. The latest treatment is to put the victim to sleep and forcibly break up the adhesions. Hydrocortisone is then injected into the joint. The victim must move the joint in all directions every day. The hydrocortisone will eliminate or greatly reduce the pain but, pain or no pain, the joint must be moved if recurrences are to be prevented.

Q—When I was 5, I had a slight case of poliomyelitis. The doctor told my mother that if I got married I would produce only one sex. I now have three boys and would like a girl. What are my chances?

A—Since poliomyelitis does not affect the sex of your offspring, the chances are 50-50 with each pregnancy.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Newark Man Named National SNCC Head

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Philip Hutchings of Newark and a native of Cleveland, Ohio, has been elected to succeed H. Rap Brown as national leader of the student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, the Newark News reported Monday.

Hutchings has served as SNCC's New Jersey field coordinator. He could not be reached on the report.

2 Are Arrested During Antidraft Demonstration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two people were arrested during a brief scuffle that broke out Monday when police and FBI agents surrounded an antidraft demonstration on Capitol Hill.

Eleven women pacifists were using a propane torch to burn what they said were 13 draft cards when a carload of FBI agents pulled up at the scene outside the Supreme Court building.

The agents seized a young man who was in the crowd of 50 and seconds later uniformed police leaped from a parked bus, breaking up the demonstration by prodding several people with their night sticks and shoving others.

The man arrested by the FBI was identified as Francis Thomas Femia, 20, of Holden, W. Va., wanted for failing to report for induction into military service last January.

Threatened Jump Of 106 Feet

Woman Assisted Down After 25 Hours On Tower

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A distraught young woman, weak from lack of food and water and virtually unable to walk after spending 25 hours atop a water tower, was assisted down from her perch Monday night.

Sandra Sue Fitzwater, 23, a former mental patient who had threatened to jump from the 106 - foot - high catwalk on the tower, consented to allow two men to take her down in the bucket of a crane.

Earlier Monday, Miss Fitzwater had told rescuers, "I'm going to stay here until I die. Nobody likes me and I have no place to stay. They're going to send me to the hospital again."

After police dispersed a huge crowd about 9 p. m., Miss Fitzwater told authorities about an hour later she was ready to come down. Unable to climb down a ladder on the tower, she was assisted down in the crane.

The bespectacled blonde, an excellent athlete, was taken to Wayne Hospital here, sunburned and exhausted, after spending all of Sunday night and all day Monday on the tower. She was wearing shorts and a sweatshirt, and the only substance she had was chewing gum offered by the Rev. Edward Winkler, one of those hoisted up in the crane to try and talk her into coming down.

Miss Fitzwater had a transistor radio during her stay on the tower and later a telephone was placed on the catwalk so she wouldn't have to shout in talking with authorities.

She had ignored nonstop pleas from several persons—relatives, friends, Dayton State Hospital officials, reporters — throughout the day to come down.

Dayton State Hospital officials confirmed she had been a patient there and that she had scaled a water tower on the hospital grounds two or three years ago. At that time, she was talked down successfully after about an hour.

Ruth Voiles, an aide at the Dayton hospital, spent two hours in the crane talking to the girl Monday.

"Look at those idiots down there," Mrs. Voiles quoted the woman as saying. "They're looking for a show and I'm giving it to them."

Mrs. Voiles also told newsmen, "She told me she loved me and everything, but it was just no use. She feels that nobody cares for her since her grandfather died."

Miss Fitzwater's mother, Mary Arthur of Greenville, said her daughter had been distraught over the death of her stepgrandfather, Phil Martin.

Police said he shot himself last week.

Miss Fitzwater stayed in a rooming house here after her grandfather died. She had cared for him.

About 'Private Doubts'

McCarthy Urges Rival To Speak Out About War

By The Associated Press

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—wrapping up his New York primary campaign—says Democratic presidential rival Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should make public any private doubts on the Vietnam war.

"I think everyone has private doubts," McCarthy said at a Harlem rally Monday. "There comes a time when the private doubts of a public man must become public doubts."

He referred to a prediction by former White House press secretary Bill Moyers that Humphrey soon will begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies including escalation of the war.

But a Humphrey spokesman said in Washington "the vice president does not follow the practice of thinking one thing in private and saying another thing in public.

"He intends to discuss all the issues that are vital to this country just as he has been discussing such issues throughout his public life," the spokesman said.

On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon called on President Johnson to stop "dragging his feet" and sign the anticrime bill. And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his hunt for delegates to Capitol Hill in Washington.

McCarthy was the only major presidential candidate to campaign on behalf of delegate states in final days before the New York primary today which will name 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegates.

McCarthy delegate candidates are running in 37 of the 41 congressional districts. Humphrey slates are entered in 25.

Most delegates pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated say they hope to be elected as supporters of his principles—and uncommitted to any other candidate.

Kennedy had been expected to take the lion's share of a delegates and few observers were predicting today's results.

Rockefeller candidates are opposed by Nixon supporters for only 11 of the 82 GOP delegate seats at stake.

Adam Clayton Powell, denied seating in the U.S. House of Representatives last year, was favored to win a nomination for re-election.

Three Democrats seek the U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Republican incumbent Sen. Jacob K. Javits. They are Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick; Eugene H. Nickerson, a Kennedy man, and former New York Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

While New Yorkers voted in the primary, Rockefeller was on Capitol Hill seeking delegates and hoping to convince Republicans up for re-election that he would help them more as the party's presidential candidate than would Nixon.

Some 50 GOP representatives and 21 senators will be delegates, and five senators head their state delegations as favorite-son candidates.

Nixon, in urging Johnson to sign the anticrime bill, said in a statement it is clear Congress is ready to debate a more stringent gun control law but in the meantime the President should sign the bill which Nixon said "has 90 per cent" of the gun control features Johnson asked.

Third party presidential candidate George Wallace, campaigning in Richmond, Va., urged a new slogan—"Southern Power"—saying the South has started a movement "which is going to change the trends in this country."

In other political developments:

—Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, and Republican state Sen. Horace Hildredth Jr. won nomination in a Maine primary Monday to oppose each other for Congress. Actor Gary Merrill and former state Rep. David L. Graham were last in the two three-way races.

—Michigan Gov. George Romney announced Nixon will meet with the state's convention delegation June 26.

—Gov. John A. Volpe indicated he believes Massachusetts' GOP delegates will split after their commitment to vote for Rockefeller on the first national convention ballot.

Psychiatric Trouble Cited

Using Hypnosis To Stop Smoking Seen Drawback

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Using hypnosis to stop smoking may hurt more people than it helps, a psychiatrist warned today.

Dr. Sheldon B. Cohen of Atlanta told the annual convention of the American Medical Association, "longtime smokers often run into psychiatric trouble when they stop smoking."

He cited the case of a man who gave up smoking under hypnosis and a few weeks later got drunk at a party and beat up his wife and his best friend.

"I had to suggest that he resume smoking while undergoing intensive psychiatric treatment," Cohen said.

The psychiatrist said a study of available scientific literature and 10 cases in his own practice had persuaded him "no one has yet demonstrated that hypnosis is generally indicated to help people stop smoking."

Of the 10 cases, Cohen said, four stopped smoking for as long as a few weeks but all eventually resumed smoking.

"There may be some cases in which hypnosis is helpful," he said, "but nobody knows enough about smoking yet to say that this or any other technique is a sure way to help the longtime smoker.

"Unless you have something better to give people as a tension relieving device, perhaps it is better to leave them alone."

Cohen said all 10 of his cases had serious illnesses, aggravated by smoking. But taking cigarettes from them he said, appeared to present hazards greater than the obvious risk in continuation of smoking.

In another talk a doctor reported a new hormonal contraceptive given by injection once every three months.

The substance, commercially available but approved only for therapy, is medroxy-progesterone acetate—MDA, said Dr. Edward Tyler of the Family Planning Center of Los Angeles.

Tyler said there were no pregnancies among 216 women to whom he gave the drug over the past three years.

He said monthly injection of other hormonal drugs—progestrogen and estrogen—was effective with 514 women.

Many women were willing to continue with the drugs despite such side effects as nervousness, bleeding irregularity and nausea, he said.

Tyler said neither method is likely to become readily available before considerable testing by the Food and Drug Administration.

Flowers B(L)ooming

McCarthy Slated To Give Talk At Cleveland Today

CLEVELAFD (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy was scheduled to speak to 300 delagates at the American Newspaper Guild convention today during a 5½-hour visit to Cleveland.

Later, the Democratic presidential hopeful will speak at the City Club and answer questions.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes also will address guild delegates at a banquet tonight, discussing violence, hate and the urban crisis.

The guild opened its convention Monday with James B. Woods, president of the 32,000 member union, calling for a nationwide boycott of major retail store chains advertising in the strikebound Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

Woods said the Herald-Examiner has published with nonunion help during the past six months and has refused to negotiate a settlement with the guild and other unions.

Woods specifically called for a boycott against the May Co. department stores, J.C. Penney Co., Inc., and the F. W. Woolworth Co. stores.

ANN LANDERS

'Jinx' Troubles Family

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Do you believe a place can be jinxed? I used to laugh at the idea but too many things have happened that make me suspect there might be something to it.

A certain corner in our city has been the scene of four accidents within 24 months involving members of my family. My father had a head-on collision with a truck and was critically injured. My wife was hit by a drunk driver at that same spot six months later. The following month my brother ran over a dog at the identical place.

Yesterday, a kid on roller skates appeared out of nowhere and I hit him. Thank God the boy got off with only a broken arm.

Can all of these accidents be coincidental? If there's a logical explanation, I'd like to hear it. — CURSE OF THE CORNER.

Dear Corner: You and your relatives ought to stay away from that place — not because it's jinxed, but because you think it is.

I can understand how you'd become unglued just approaching the scene of so many family accidents. Avoid that corner — even if it means going a mile out of you way.

Bookworm

Dear Ann: This is just a little thing but it could save a lot of trouble and money.

On my last birthday I received three beautiful, expensive books. In each book, the giver wrote a warm sentiment and signed his name.

Two books were duplicates of one I already had in my library. I don't mean to sound ungracious, but here I sit with three identical $27 books.

In one book is written, "I hope you will always hold this gift dear to your heart" etc., etc. The other book is inscribed: "Much love to a dear friend whose affection I cherish and whose dedication to the fine principles of humanity I hope to emulate."

If these well-meaning folks had not written in the books I could have returned them. How does this strike you? — PRACTICAL.

Dear Prac: It strikes me as incredible that a person who could rate such warm inscriptions could be so insensitive.

You've got duplicates — so what? The sentiments expressed by your friends should make the books priceless.

Poison Pen

Dear Ann: This morning the clunk I'm married to told me he wrote to you. Please, Ann, don't print his letter.

To begin with, he'd rather lie than tell the truth and he's awfully good at making himself look good and me look lousy, even if it means making up a story out of thin air.

I have been through so much hell with this ape and so many people know about it that any kind of publicity in the paper would be recognized at once. The jerk even signed his right name. He wrote the letter in green ink on our son's white notebook paper.

I'm begging you on my knees, Ann, please don't print his letter. — SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.

Dear Sleepless: Get off your knees, Lady. I have your husband's letter in my hands and it will not appear in print. You have my word for it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Son Gives 'Coupon Book'

DEAR HELOISE: I gave my Mom a gift on her birthday that she liked so well she said it was the nicest gift she had ever received.

Heloise

It was a "coupon book" of things I could do for her.

Whenever she wants me to do one of them, she just tears out that page and gives it to me.

Some of the things I wrote were:

I'll help with supper; I'll empty the trash; I'll sweep the front porch and steps; I'll read a book instead of watching TV; I'll spray wax the furniture; I'll clean my room; I'll do anything you tell me to. . . .

There were 10 things in all. I got the idea from my school teacher and have liked doing all of these things because it makes my Mom happy.

Of course, I also do other things when she asks me.

And since she liked this idea so much, I've decided to make another coupon book for next Mother's Day as well as on every birthday.

RANDY
AGE 7.

Randy, I think this is the sweetest idea I ever heard of. Yours is a lucky Mom and I'm sure she appreciates your gift much more because you thought of it yourself.

Wouldn't all of you Moms love to get a birthday present just like this? I sure would! ! Doesn't cost a penny out of either your pocket or your child's piggy bank. And what a joy to have this help offered without coaxing.

A big hug and squeeze to you, Randy, from the rest of us mothers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Please help me so I won't break a leg.

There are two steps in our stairs that make a loud squeak every time we go up or downstairs. I've even been taking two steps at a time to avoid the squeaky ones. I'm careful, but it probably will be my luck to fall someday.

Is there any easy way to stop those squeaks without going to the trouble and expense of replacing the boards?

Mrs. B, I know there must be ways to stop those squeaks. Maybe some of our friends will tell us how they managed to do it.

Come on, folks, how about it? Write to me in care of this paper and let us know. We'd love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure many others will be canning strawberries this summer, so would like to pass on a little tip I learned.

To prevent the berries from rising to the top of the jar, lay the jar on its side until it cools, after the jar has been sealed.

Then shake until the berries are distributed all through the syrup. The berries will neither rise nor settle, but stay evenly distributed.

HOME CANNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I tried detergent, turpentine, kerosene, window cleaner, dishwasher detergent, alcohol and household cleaner with ammonia to remove freezer tape we put on our windows prior to a storm.

So . . . I just decided to leave 'em plastered for next year! The draperies hide it from my side anyway.

VERNICE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband likes pajamas with a pull-over top, but the stores don't have many of them.

Now as soon as I buy a new pair, I sit down to my machine and with a zigzag stitch (because it lasts longer), I sew up the front along the open edge (through both thickness) and back down the other side of the buttons.

Then my husband just slips the top over his head and we never have to worry about ripped-off buttons or a torn front.

Sure saves my temper because I hate to sew buttons. How about you?

C.D.

Four Are Fined At Wellsville In Traffic Mishaps

Four were fined in acting mayor Wayne Rose's court at Wellsville Monday as the result of traffic accidents.

Clifford Shultz of 850 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, was assessed $250 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his car crashed into another owned by Verna Wilkenson of New Castle, parked at 9th and Main Sts.

Both cars received minor damage, officers reported.

Glen Kelly of Industry was fined on a reckless operation charge after his car crashed into a tree and fire hydrant. Kelly told officers he fell asleep.

Richard Pritt of Akron was found guilty on two charges by Rose. He was fined $10 and costs for public intoxication and $25 for indecent exposure.

John W. Nation Jr. of Alliance was fined $50 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance as the result of a three - car mishap at Wells Ave. and Legion St. Sunday.

A Chester woman was taken to City Hospital following the mishap.

Treated was Mrs. Reva Anderson of Chester RD 1 for contusions of both knees and the back.

Officers said the mishap occurred at 1:08 p.m. when a 1956 sedan operated by Nation crashed into the rear of the 1962 sedan driven by Mrs. Anderson. The Anderson car then was forced into the rear of a 1968 sedan driven by William T. Chaup of 811 Logans St., Toronto, which was attempting a left turn onto Legion St.

Project Eyed On Shadyside

Council conferred Monday night with a delegation of citizens on the need for widening and resurfacing of Shadyside Ave., a request that dates back at least five years.

The discussion ended with a promise the Council street committee will confer with City Engineer George Bloomgren to determine the city's next step in seeking to make the project a reality.

Council and the county commissioners have agreed in principle to cooperate in the project and share the costs, but the fine points of the agreement never have been worked out.

Lawrence Creel acted as spokesman for the Shadyside Ave. delegation, which was accompanied by County Commissioner James Boyd and Guy Digman and Richard Sanford, Liverpool Township trustees. Creel told Council some of the residents favor "going to court" if the project is not undertaken soon.

Citing the narrow width of the pavement, he said: "All we want is a safe route to haul our children to school." The delegation has contended repeatedly that school buses cannot pass safely on the narrow road and that children afoot are required to jump into ditches to avoid oncoming traffic.

Councilmen replied that on several occasions they believed a satisfactory agreement had been worked out for city-county cooperation in the work, but the job never materialized. Township trustees said they are willing to furnish machinery and labor for the project, but have no available funds.

Boyd recalled that the cost of the job once was estimated at $50,000 to $60,000, covering widening, resurfacing and installation of a sidewalk. The discussion ended with the promise the Council committee would confer with Bloomgren.

7 Tentatively Seated In Ohio Murder Trial

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Seven jurors were tentatively seated Monday during the first day of the trial of Mark D Hodges, 27, charged with shooting with intent to kill in the wounding of Denise Fortner, 17.

Hodges also is charged with first - degree murder in Wood County in the slaying of a suburban Toledo girl last summer.

Bids Slated Aug. 6

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway Director P. E. Masheter said Monday bids will be opened Aug. 6 for relocation of a 4.4-mile section of Ohio 48 in Warren County. The cost was estimated at $3.1 million.

The project is south of Lebanon and U.S. 42 between Lebanon and Genntown. The relocation will bypass the east side of Lebanon and interchange with Ohio 123.

House Approves Measure

Non-Public School Aid Bill Waits Shafer's OK

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — Precedent-setting legislation that would entitle private and parochial schools in Pennsylvania to state financial aid was on Gov. Shafer's desk today awaiting his signature.

The governor was expected to sign the bill some time during the 10 days allotted, thus setting the stage for a court test that is almost sure to come.

The House completed legislative action on the measure Monday by voting, 107-74, to accept administration amendments inserted by the Senate. The amendments scaled down the initial outlay from $27 million to $4.3 million, which Shafer said was all that was available at this time.

The bill's chief sponsor, Rep. Matthew F. Coppolino, D-Philadelphia, hailed final passage as an "historic occasion" and predicted the new law would stand a court test as of its constitutionality.

"No state I know has this kind of a sweeping law to provide actual financial assistance to nonpublic schools," Coppolino said. "I expect the law to be challenged in the courts and to be upheld as constitutional."

The General Assembly enacted legislation in 1965 to allow nonpublic school children to ride public school buses along established routes. The legality of that act was upheld.

Ironically, one of the House members who opposed concurrence in the Senate amendments was a long-time advocate of nonpublic school aid, Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia. Mullen objected to the sizable cut in the amount provided.

In a floor speech, Mullen charged the Pennsylvania Catholic Conference, prime backer of the bill, with "selling their people down the river" by agreeing to the administration amendments.

As the measure went to the governor, it would earmark revenues from harness racing and, eventually, thoroughbred racing for nonpublic schools. The grants would be based on instructional costs in four nonreligious subjects.

In other legislative developments:

Milk — The House passed a farmer-backed bill to make minor revisions in the state's 31-year-old Milk Control law. The measure, sent to the Senate on a vote of 128-54, would change the name of the Milk Control Commission to the Milk Marketing Board.

Labor — The House also passed and sent to the governor a bill that would provide for compulsory binding arbitration in collectvie bargaining disputes involving polcemen and firemen. The measure, approved 175-6, would implement a constitutional amendment.

Gun control — House Democratic Leader Herbert Fineman of Philadelphia introduced a discharge resolution in an attempt to free his proposed gun control bill from the Law and Order Committee. The move was aimed at spurring the committee into action.

Susquehanna — The Susquehanna River Basin Compact, defeated in the House last week, was revived and returned to the calendar, with supporters vowing to bring the proposal up for another vote within the next month.

Power Firm Praised For Safety Program

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Monongahela Power Co. has received recognition from the Edison Electric Institute for its safety record over the last few years.

The utility was presented the EEI Injury Frequency Reduction Award for achieving a 21 per cent, or more, reduction in the number of lost-time injuries. Monongahela also received this award last year as well as in some previous years.

In accepting the award, C. G. McVay, president of Monongahela, said, "We, as a company, have been very fortunate in decreasing the number of disabling accidents in the last several years. With more than 2,200 employes, Monongahela ranks high among the top electric companies in the nation in the area of accident prevention."

Fined At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Robert H. Hill, 20, of 88 Main St. was fined $40 and costs in Mayor Dwayne Felton's court after he pled guilty to a reckless operation charge.

Pirates Run Win Streak To Six, Edge Astros 4-3

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Ron Peden, three-sport star at South Side High School, has announced that he will attend Westminster College next season.

Peden was the MVP in Section 17 of the WPIAL and the MVP of the Blue and White Non-Pariel Club tournament here. He averaged 23.5 points a game and set 10 school records this past season. Westminster will be coached this winter by Ron Galbreath, former Wampum and Westminster star who has been an assistant at Geneva.

Other South Side hoopsters to announce college plans were Fran Nash and Dale Person, who will attend Pitt, and Dan Hartzell and Greg Trimble, who will attend the Beaver County Campus of Penn State in Center Twp.

HAP PALMER, who pitches for the Richmond entry in the local Colt League, is quite an impressive hurler. Only 16, Palmer is 6-4 and attends Steubenville Central. He is a 10-0 this season and has five career no-hitters. Richmond has not lost a game against the local teams, and this team, which draws from several high schools, plays in other leagues also. Dave Grimm is the manager.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Bernie Allen has slumped to a .305 batting average, and has been sharing second base for the Washington Senators with Frank Coggins. Allen came off the bench Saturday to get a bases-loaded pinch-hit double, however.

JOE SMITH, East Liverpool High School cross-country coach, is seeking opponents for his harriers this fall. The Potters ran a brief schedule in 1967 after not having the sport in 1966. Cross-counrty was influential in the development of Ted Hoffman as a star two-miler.

PRO-SOCCER gets very little notice in this area, but in the San Francisco area it must be different. A recent soccer doubleheader in Oakland drew 25,000, while the Giants, playing at the same time in Candlestick Park, drew 22,000.

PITT SOPHOMRE Jerry Richey finished fifth in the NCAA 1,500 meter rave over the weekend, right behind Sam Bair of Kent State. The top six finishers go to the Olympic trials.

JIMMY SMITH, star center on the 25- 1 Steubenville College basketball team of 1957-58, was the subject of a nice write-up in Sunday's Pittsburgh Press. Smith, a native of Homestead, Pa., is now involved in getting Negro workers into trade unions that recently have ceased discrimination.

WEST VIRGINIA U. basketball star Ron Williams was married over the weekend.

THE GREATER Pittsburgh Speedway at Clinton is scheduled to open Saturday, June 29.

Stargell's Homer Provides Margin

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

What kind of host is it who locks his guests in the cellar?

The Houston Astros, who obviously overstayed their visit to Pittsburgh, have some idea today after the Pirates slammed the basement door on them.

The Pirates, stuck in the National League cellar themselves last Thursday, completed a five-game sweep of the Astros with a 4-3 victory Monday night that shoved Houston deep into last place.

Pittsburgh, tied for eighth, has won six straight.

The Atlanta Braves also took a step up the stairs, moving into second place with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati in the only other game played.

Los Angeles was rained out at Philadelphia.

The Pirates, the biggest disappontment in the league this season, started their series in Forbes Field against Houston only one game ahead of the Astros after climbing out of the cellar with a victory over San Francisco last Thursday. They kept Houston in the dark by outscoring them 34-8 in the five games, extending the Astros' losing string to six.

Willie Stargell supplied a big shove Monday night by slamming his 11th homer in the fifth inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Reliever Roy Face gave the final push, striking out Jimmy Wynn with two on and two out in the ninth.

Others who joined in the attack on the visitors included Matty Alou, who staked Pittsburgh to a 3-0 lead with a bases-clearing double in the first inning, and Al McBean, who held off the Astros until Face arrived.

McBean raised his record to 6-5, beating Dave Giusti, 4-8, who singled in Houston's tying two runs in the fourth.

The victory, putting Pittsburgh six steps ahead of Houston, left the Pirates still eight games behind league-leading St. Louis, but only 3½ games behind the runner-up Braves.

Atlanta needed an unearned run in the last of the ninth to beat the Reds and moved ahead of San Francisco by one percentage point, each 4½ lengths behind the Cardinals.

Felipe Alou started the winning rally with a two-out double off reliever Ted Abernathy, 1-1. Felix Millan then bounced a grounder to the left of third baseman Tony Perez and it bounded off his glove and rolled behind second base as Alou scampered home.

Hank Aaron of the Braves and Reds' starter Jim Maloney traded earlier home runs and Millan and Pete Rose of Cincinnati singled in the other runs.

The homer by Aaron, his 12th of the season, was the 493rd of his career, tying him with Lou Gehlig for eighth place on the all-time list.

Pat Jarvis, 7-4, yielded six hits for the Braves' third straight victory. Cincinnati, dropping into a tie with the Pirates, lost for the third time in a row.

Bando's Hit In Ninth Beats Orioles Again

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sal Bando suddenly has found Baltimore pitching to be a soft touch and the Oakland Athletics are driving the battered Orioles to ground.

Bando, who drilled three hits and drove in three runs as Oakland completed a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Sunday, beat the fading Orioles 3-2 Monday night with a two-out run-scoring single in the ninth inning.

The loss, fifth in a row for the second-place Orioles, dropped them eight games behind front-running Detroit—closer to the bottom of the American League than the top.

The A's, who have beaten Baltimore six times in their last seven meetings, moved into a fifth-place tie with Boston—9½ games off the pace.

Jim Fregosi's 12th-inning homer gave California a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 2-1 on a two-run pinch triple by rookie Bill Voss and Minnesota downed Washington 4-1 behind southpaw Jim Kaat in other AL games. The Tigers and Red Sox were idle.

Bando drove in Oakland's first run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored in the sixth after poking a one-out single. Right-hander John "Blue Moon" Odom protected the 2-0 edge until the eighth, when the Orioles tied it on Don Buford's single, Fred Valentine's triple and Boog Powell's single off reliever Paul Lindblad.

With two out in the ninth, John Donaldson clipped Moe Drabowsky for a single, Rick Monday walked and Bando broke the deadlock with a single to right.

The husky third baseman, whose batting average dipped to .238 after an 0-for-4 collar in the first game of Sunday's twin bill, has since collected four singles and a double in eight trips to the plate for a .250 season mark.

Fregosi led off the 12th with a homer off New York reliever Joe Verbanic, ending the Yankees' three-game winning string and overshadowing a brilliant pitching performance by the losers' Stan Bahnsen.

Bahnsen held the Angels hitless until Bobby Knoop's double and a single by recently acquired Vic Davalillo tied the game 1-1 in the sixth, and allowed only one more hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the 12th.

The Yankees pushed over a run in the sixth after filling the bases with none out against Jim McGlothlin, but shoddy baserunning cost them a bigger inning. McGlothlin worked out of another bases-loaded jam in the ninth before giving way to winner Minnie Rojas.

Voss, batting .140 going into the White Sox' game against Cleveland at Milwaukee, broke up a scoreless duel in the seventh inning with his two-run triple off Steve Hargan.

Winner Jack Fisher blanked the Indians until the ninth, when pinch hitter Willie Smith double home an unearned run before reliever Bob Locker nailed the victory.

The setback ran Cleveland's losing streak to seven games, but still left the Indians in third place—8½ games out.

Kaat scattered eight hits and struck out seven as the Twins reeled off their fourth straight victory and extended Washington's winless streak to six games. Frank Quilici banged out a triple and double, scored one run and drove in another before Bob Allison's two-run homer in the eighth capped Minnesota's attack.

Alvin McBean Happy Pirates Are Hitting

By JACK L. SHOLL
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pirate pitching and Pirate hitting are finally getting together.

That's the word from Al McBean who guided the Pittsburgh Pirates to their sixth straight victory Monday night with a 4-3 win over the Houston Astros.

"I think we're here now. Little by little we've been getting there and now we're ready," said McBean, who's 6-5.

The Pirates poured out 12 hits against the Astros which included Willie Stargell's 11th home run of the season and Matty Alou's three-run double.

"When you're not hitting a lot of guys start to think this is the end. But when guys start hitting it peps everybody up," he said.

"The way the guys were hitting Monday it made a more pleasurable game for me," he said. "Not an easier game, but a more pleasurable one, because it wasn't easy."

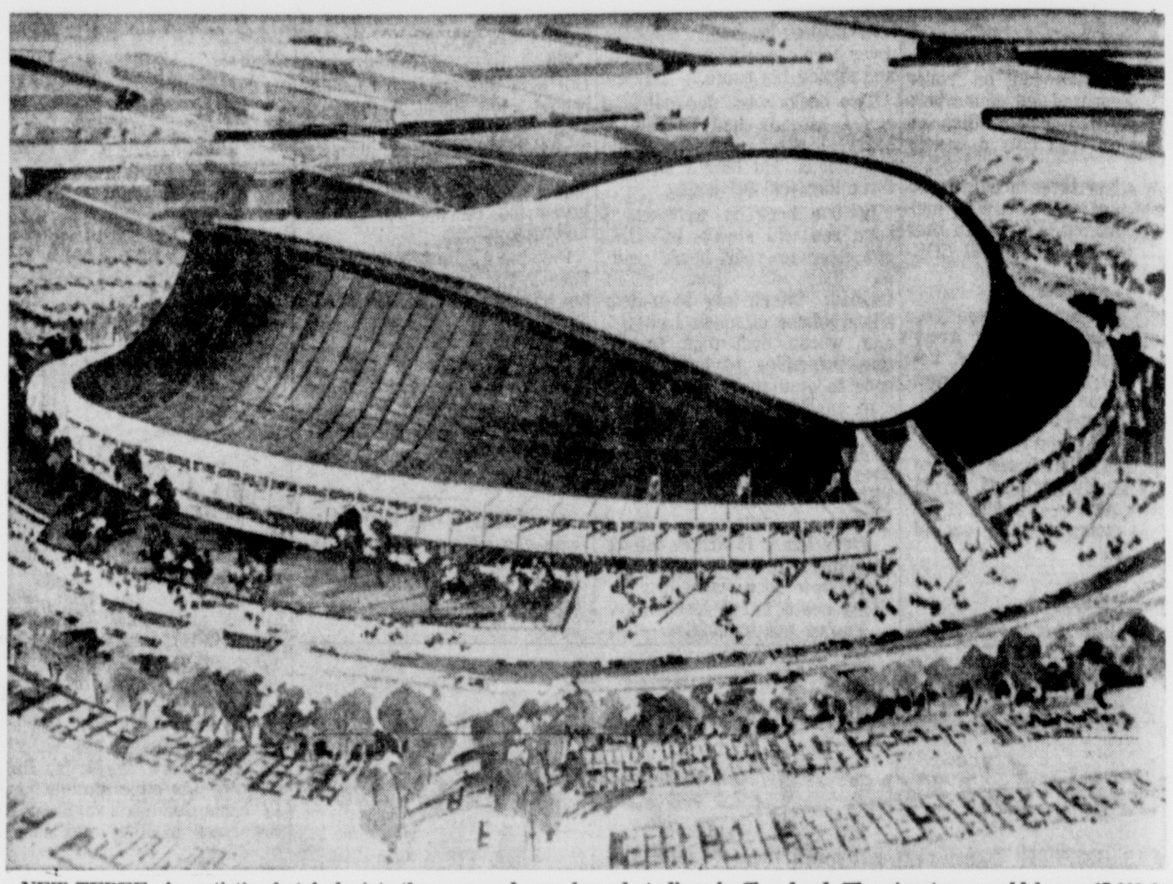
McBean pitched himself out of serious trouble in the seventh inning when Dick Simpson tripled off Roberto Clemente's glove in deep right center field with no outs. McBean quickly struck out Jim Wynn and Doug Rader after Rusty Staub grounded to Donn Clendenon.

"When a guy leads off with a triple like that," McBean said, "you've got to give it all you've got. You just have to bear down."

But McBean says the whole team's "hepped up" and it helps him.

"Everybody's charged up," McBean said. "Everybody on the field and in the bullpen are yelling back and forth. Jim Bunning was yelling right behind every pitch. That keeps me from getting lackadaisical."

Elroy Face gave McBean a little relief in the ninth and got the last out after singles by Simpson and Staub. Losing pitcher Dave Giusti has lost eight of 12 decisions.



NEW TEPEE. An artist's sketch depicts the proposed new domed stadium in Cleveland. The structure would house 17,000 for basketball and hockey, as well as 65,000 for baseball and football. (UPI Telephoto)

New Stadium Studied In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A three-month study is under way to gather details on a proposed 65,000 domed stadium to handle all major sports in Cleveland.

Estimated cost of the stadium without the dome is $26 million and $45 million to $50 million with the dome.

A working model of the stadium was shown Monday by Charles Luckman, New York architect who designed the new Madison Square Garden in New York and the Forum in Los Angeles.

The Ogden Corp. of New York City built the working model and Luckman said the firm is "prepared to finance it entirely or if it went to a public bond arrangement we would be willing to buy up the bonds."

Cleveland, Cuyahoga County and the state agreed to share the cost ($40,000 each) to make the $120,000 survey.

The survey will find a site, decide on financing and the physical makeup.

along with setting a target date for construction. Gov. James A. Rhodes attended the model presentation.

Luckman said it would take two years to build the complex, which would be used by the Cleveland Indians, Cleveland Browns, Cleveland Barons and Cleveland Stokers.

Indians Fall 2-1 To Chisox

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Manager Eddie Stanky could afford to scoff at the averages. His Chicago White Sox had just sent the Cleveland Indians down to a seventh straight defeat on a pinch triple by a .140 hitter.

"Averages mean nothing in this day and age," said Stanky, who sent rookie Bill Voss, .140 average and all, to the plate in place of Jerry McNertney in the seventh inning Monday night.

Voss came through with a booming triple that drove in two runs and gave the White Sox a 2-1 victory over the reeling Tribe.

The game, the third of the regular season for Chicago at Milwaukee, drew 28,081 fans — the largest of the "home" season for the Sox.

McNertney was batting .205, going into the game, which coincided exactly with the White Sox team average.

"Voss won a ball game for us over in New York," Stanky said in explaining why he used the rookie in the one-out situation against right-hander Steve Hargan. "Wth the bases loaded, he got a big hit."

Voss, brought up from Hawaii of the Pacific Cost League in late April, broke up a scoreless duel between Hargan and the veteran Jack Fisher.

The rookie, who admitted to nervousness over his first full-time exposure in the major leagues, said he recently began croking up on the bat handle. After Hargan got two strikes on him, Voss said he moved his hands up another inch.

The hit, he said, should help his confidence. "It gets you over the nervousness," he said.

JC Junior Golf Tourney Set Monday

The annual Jaycee Junior Golf Open will be held at the East Liverpool Country Club June 24.

The event, sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees, is open to all Ohio residents under 18 (still under 18 by Sept. 1, 1968).

There are three divisions, for 16-17 year olds, 13-15 year olds and 12 year olds and under. It will be an 18 hole tournament, with teeing off beginning at 8:30. Prizes will be awarded to the first and second place winners in each group and the winners in the two older groups will go to Columbus July 7-9 to play in the state tournament.

There is no entry fee. Entries, which should include name, address, date of birth and parents' signature should be sent to project chairman Richard Crable at 910 Crestview Drive. Entries will be accepted right up until tee-off time.

Waterford Perfecta $562.40 In Fourth

Celina Red, idle since the Wheeling Downs meeting, made his first Waterford Park start a victorious one last night, delighting the longshot players in the good crowd.

Overlooked in the betting, Celina Red paid $47.80 to win in the fourth race and started off a $562.40 perfecta prize.

The winning perfecta, 10-5, was completed by Will She, a filly who had the lead until the final 40 yards.

Jim Davis Has No-Hitter In Minor Play

Jim Davis of the First National Bank pitched a no-hitter in minor league play last night and almost had a perfect game.

Davis set TS&T down in order until the sixth, when he walked Dawson, the only baserunner he allowed. Davis also had two hits, as did Joe Webb. Eckstein took the loss.

Trevino's Open Victory Gets Club Out Of Debt

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — When Lee Trevino arrived in El Paso two years ago, the only job he could get at the Horizon Hills Country Club paid $30 per week plus fees for teaching golf lessons.

Today Trevino is one-third owner of the club and has a new goal of squaring the young course with the loan company before the end of summer.

Something best described as a riot broke out at the club when Trevino, a gregarious Mexican-American with a flat swing and four sub-par rounds, blazed home in record form Sunday to capture the U.S. Open.

"We wanted him to come home," said co-owner Jess Whittington. "We had this party all planned but Lee said he didn't have time for that social stuff now.

"He said he wanted to have the course paid for by the end of the summer. And he just might do it too," Whittington said with still a twinge of amazement in his voice.

Trevno originally was not expected to return to El Paso until after the British Open next month, Whittington said, but he was due back here today because of the illness of his 3-year-old daughter, Lesley.

It was not immediately known if Trevino would withdraw from the Canadian Open in Toronto this weekend.

Jess, his cousin Don Whittington and Trevino are co-owners of the club. Trevino plows back a good portion of his tour earnings into the course corporation.

Jess and Don could take bows on Wall Street for the decision a year ago to borrow money to sponsor Lee on the golf tour. "All I can say is it was one heck of an investment," Jess said.

Trevino migrated to West Texas two years ago but at that time Jess and Don were in the process of building up the club and couldn't really afford to hire Trevino.

"He asked if he could play here until he got his class A card," Jess said. "The best we could do was $30 per week plus his lesson fees."

But Trevino snapped up the offer and he was all over the place.

"He did everything," Jess said. "He revamped the store room, built new clubs racks, picked up range balls and even shined shoes when the regular shoe shine boy didn't show up.

"Finally we told him when he thought he was ready (for the pro tour), to let us know and we'd sponsor him."

Trevino decided he was ready one year ago and he entered the pro tour at the U.S. Open. He finished fifth, winning $6,000 and that's when he bought one-third ownership in the country club.

South, With Fraley, Favored Over North

By HAL PARIS
AP Sports Writer

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Eight all-state performers, including Player of the Year John Fraley of Middletown, are among the 20 scholastic superstars who will rub elbows here Saturday night in the annual North-South All-Star basketball game.

The North holds a 5-3 advantage in the series, including one-point victories at the Marion Coliseum the last two years.

But Fraley, perhaps the most-publicized high school cager since Jerry Lucas, is expected to lead the south back on the victory path.

Dick Schenk of Newark and Henderson (Heckie) Thompson of Western Pike are the Rebel coaches most anxious to utilize the talents of Mr. Fraley.

But Yankee coaches Doc Daugherty of Euclid and Bob Frye, who guided Mansfield St. Peter to the Class A championship, have a coiple of aces of their own.

These include a pair of Class AA All-Ohioans and a trio of Class A all-staters.

Al Vilcheck, a 6-foot-9 center from Euclid, and 6 - 7 Roger Evans of Cuyahoga Falls are the AA all-staters. The small school All-Ohioans on the north squad are Doug Alt of Mansfield St. Peter; Bob Howell of Mendon Union and John Kennedy of Springfield Local.

Aside from Fraley, the South boasts one other AA all-starter in Randy Smith, who played with titlist Columbus East, and Doug Hill a Class A star from Southeastern of Ross County.

Howell, who made half his shots while piling up 36.6 point average, had a career total of 11648.

Other hotshots on the North quintet included John Creasap of Marion Harding; Tom Darden of Sandusky; Earl Diddle of East Liverpool; Jess Gregory of Napoleon and Stan White of Kent Roosevelt.

The South squad includes Danny Furlong of Tipp City; Roger Garrison, Buckeye Valley; Harold Howe, Jackson; Kent Johnson., Cincinnati Green Hill; Mike Painter, Zanesville; Charles Snow, Newark and Payton Townsend, Hamilton Garfield.

Smith, 6-7, and Townsend, 6-8, are expected to give the Reds backboard strength while Fraley and mates bomb the basket.

Reserve seats for the 8:30 p. m. clash are $2.50 while general admission is $1.50.

Canadian Draws Top Golfing Field

TORONTO (AP) — Everything about Julius Boros is relaxed, from his effortless swing to his ambling approach to every green.

Big Julie, 48, displayed his relaxed approach Monday as he practiced for the 72-hole Canadian Open Golf Championship which starts Thursday at St. George's Golf Club.

While many of the touring professionals practiced over the par-70, 6,792-yard layout, another 132 golfers were playing for the 20 spots still available in the four-day open.

The tournament carries total prize money of $125,000, with a first prize of $25,000.

The field is one of the best ever to play in a Canadian tournament. Included is the Big Three of defending champion Billy Casper, former champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Other top names include two-time winners Doug Ford and Jim Ferrier, Gary Player of South Africa and Lee Trevino, who won t's.ns. open at Rochester, N.Y., Sunday.

The tournament ends Sunday, with action over the final five holes Saturday and Sunday to be televised in the United States by CBS.

Pipers Status In Pittsburgh Not Certain

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gabe Rubin is a man torn between hometown pride and hard economic facts.

Rubin, the owner of the Pittsburgh Pipers, says he'll know for sure within the next two weeks whether the American Basketball Association team will remain in the city.

"As far as the fan interest is concerned, I feel it will improve," said Rubin. "The city is still my hometown. The decision is personal, but it's economic, too."

He said his decision rests on such factors as season ticket sales, auditorium dates and television contracts in Pittsburgh and other cities.

Rubin's attendance at the ABA meeting in Minneapolis, Minn., last week sparked rumors that he might sell or transfer the championship team.

"I have not sold the club," he said Monday. "I do not have a deal. If I do get a deal I will make an announcement."

Ladies Amateur Set For ELCC

The ladies' amateur-amateur golf tournament will be held at the East Liverpool Country Club tomorrow.

There will be a 9 a.m. shotgun start. The tourney is an 18-hole event.

Doctorless Hospitals

NEW DELHI (AP) — A government survey shows 15 per cent of India's hospitals have no doctors.

Pro Football Will Be Hard, Says Beban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gary Beban, UCLA's All-American quarterback and 1967 Heisman Trophy winner, doesn't expect to be an instant success in pro football.

"I think a rookie has to have an apprenticeship, like in any other business," Beban said Monday as he signed a no-cut contract with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

"You can't expect to soak up the complexities of pro football in a short time," he added.

The Redskins acquired the rights to Beban from the Los Angeles Rams last week with the Rams getting the Redskins' No. 1 draft choice next year.

The contract reportedly is for $200,000 apread over several years.

Aaron Ties Gehrig On Homer List

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta slugger Henry Aaron moved up another notch in the ranks of all-time home run hitters Monday night, slamming his 493rd over the left field fence and helping Atlanta to a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

The homer put Aaron in a tie with the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees for eighth place in the major league home run derby. It also tied him with Eddie Mathews as the No. 1 Braves home run hitter in history.

"It means an awful lot to me," Aaron said, "especially tying Eddie because he and I played together so long."

After he passes Gehrig, the next step up the ladder for Hammering Hank is Mel Ott with 511.

700 Eye Last Chance For Olympics Berth

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—More than 700 athletes get their last chance to stay in the running for a U. S. Olympic track team spot Thursday and Friday at the National AAU championships.

The top six American finishers in each of 18 events—a total of 108—will go to the final tryouts the following weekend in Los Angeles. They will compete with more than 160 others already qualified through the NCAA, NAIA and interservice eliminations.

Yesterdays Stars

BATTING—Bill Voss, White Sox, slammed a two-run pinch hit triple in the seventh inning, giving the Sox a 2-1 victory over Cleveland at Milwaukee.

PITCHING—Stan Bahnsen, Yankees, held California to one run and three hits for 11 innings before Jim Fregosi's 12th inning homer off reliever Joe Verbanic beat the Yanks 2-1.

Fink, Texas Looking For Fink Golfers

FINK, Tex. (AP) — Offcials of the Fink Invitation Golf Tournament looked for more finks today to make a foursome.

The tournament this weekend, launching National Fink Week, registered its first authentic Fink Monday.

David Fink, 22, of Houston, who has never played golf, said he will join the field of non-Finks at Tanglewool Hills Country Club near this North Texas community.

"I'm hoping to find enough Finks for a forsome," said Fink, a sports writer for the Houston Post.

The annual Fink celebration began several years ago when the term Fink became popular as a slang expression. About 125 persons visited the town during last year's festivities.

East-West Baseball Set In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The annual East-West High School All-Star baseball series will be played this weekend at Jet Stadium.

Some 56 players will participate in the three-game set which opens with a night game Saturday. A doubleheader Sunday starts at 1:30 p. m.

The East is coached by Scott Griesheimer of Chillicothe and Pepper Demont of Niles. The Westerners are coached by Fred Nocera of Mifflin, Jim Cordiak of Toledo Central Catholic and Chuck Maloney of Columbus Marion-Franklin.

Rescue Operations Launched For Yacht

LONDON (AP) — A French yacht competing in the Observer solo trans-Atlantic race is breaking up 600 miles west of Ireland, the British Ministry of Defense said today.

Air rescue operations have been started.

The boat, Yaksha, a 50-foot trimaran was being sailed by Frenchman J. De Kat.

The Ministry said its only word was that the sloop was in such trouble De Kat was "abandoning ship."

Junior Editors Quiz on STERLING SILVER

QUESTION: What does "sterling" on a piece of silver mean?

ANSWER: Silver is a precious metal treasured and venerated nearly as much as gold. Harder than gold, silver can be hammered and shaped into sets of tableware, which people have always loved, because such pieces combine the lustrous beauty of the silver metal with the high value of the silver itself. Silver, however, while not as soft as gold, is still soft enough to show wear when frequently handled. For this reason, silver is usually mixed with copper to form an alloy. When too much copper is mixed in, the silver piece loses its value. This happened in England in the 1200's. The only dependable silver coins of the time were produced in Germany and called Easterlings to distinguish them from others. The English changed the word East-sterling to sterling, and sterling came to mean a high grade of silver with very little copper. Sterling silver today is 92.5 per cent silver and 7.5 per cent copper. To distinguish sterling, the English used a hallmark, ofter of a rampant lion (A), stamped into the silver piece. America took over the stamping idea, but used and still uses a stamp with the single word, sterling (B).

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, June 18, the 170th day of 1968. There are 196 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte was defeated by the British in the Battle of Waterloo.

On this date:

In 1935, Adolf Hitler signed a treaty with Britain promising not to upset a ratio between the German and British navies.

In 1940, in World War II, the Germans captured the French port of Cherbourg.

In 1943, British Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell was appointed viceroy of India.

In 1953, an Army council in Egypt proclaimed the country a republic, and Premier Mohammed Naguib became the first president.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower told a new conference that his executive assistant, Sherman Adams, may have been imprudent in accepting gifts, but that no one could doubt Adams' personal integrity and honesty.

Five years ago — Eight Roman Catholic cardinals prepared to enter a conclave at the Vatican to elect a successor to the late Pope John XXIII.

One year ago — Pope Paul VI called for reconciliation and kindness after the hostilities between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Hot Packs Ease Painful Joints

Q—I have synovitis in my right ankle. What can be done for it?

A—Synovitis is an inflammation of the sheath of tissue that surrounds the large tendons where they are attached to a bone near its joint. It may be associated with tuberculosis and other serious diseases of the bones and joints but in most cases is caused by repeated injuries incurred when you make quick, forceful movements. If hot applications, rest and protective bandaging don't relieve it, injecting the joint with hydrocortisone should be tried.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—I have capsulitis in my right elbow. What is the best treatment? How long does it usually last? Will it recur?

A—Capsulitis of a joint is closely related to synovitis and bursitis. All are treated in essentially the same way. The duration depends on the severity and your individual response to the treatment used. Recurrences are common so it behooves you to avoid sudden violent movements or injuries to your elbow.

Q—What causes some of my joints to make creaking or grating noises when I move them? Is there a cure for this?

A—Grating sounds in the joints are usually due to arthritic roughening of the joint surface. When these changes have occurred the smooth surface can be restored only by replacing the joint cartilage with a noncorroding metal.

Q—My doctor says I have a frozen shoulder. What does that mean? What can be done to relieve the pain?

A—This is a name given to adhesive or calcified tendinitis, a condition in which the joint is stiff and movement is very painful. The latest treatment is to put the victim to sleep and forcibly break up the adhesions. Hydrocortisone is then injected into the joint. The victim must move the joint in all directions every day. The hydrocortisone will eliminate or greatly reduce the pain but, pain or no pain, the joint must be moved if recurrences are to be prevented.

Q—When I was 5, I had a slight case of poliomyelitis. The doctor told my mother that if I got married I would produce only one sex. I now have three boys and would like a girl. What are my chances?

A—Since poliomyelitis does not affect the sex of your offspring, the chances are 50-50 with each pregnancy.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Newark Man Named National SNCC Head

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Philip Hutchings of Newark and a native of Cleveland, Ohio, has been elected to succeed H. Rap Brown as national leader of the student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, the Newark News reported Monday.

Hutchings has served as SNCC's New Jersey field coordinator. He could not be reached on the report.

2 Are Arrested During Antidraft Demonstration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two people were arrested during a brief scufile that broke out Monday when police and FBI agents surrounded an antidraft demonstration on Capitol Hill.

Eleven women pacifists were using a propane torch to burn what they said were 13 draft cards when a carload of FBI agents pulled up at the scene outside the Supreme Court building.

The agents seized a young man who was in the crowd of 50 and seconds later uniformed police leaped from a parked bus, breaking up the demonstration by prodding several people with their night sticks and shoving others.

The man arrested by the FBI was identified as Francis Thomas Femia, 20, of Holden, W. Va., wanted for failing to report for induction into military service last January.

Threatened Jump Of 106 Feet

Woman Assisted Down After 25 Hours On Tower

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A distraught young woman, weak from lack of food and water and virtually unable to walk after spending 25 hours atop a water tower, was assisted down from her perch Monday night.

Sandra Sue Fitzwater, 23, a former mental patient who had threatened to jump from the 106 - foot - high catwalk on the tower, consented to allow two men to take her down in the bucket of a crane.

Earlier Monday, Miss Fitzwater had told rescuers, "I'm going to stay here until I die. Nobody likes me and I have no place to stay. They're going to send me to the hospital again."

After police dispersed a huge crowd about 9 p. m., Miss Fitzwater told authorities about an hour later she was ready to come down. Unable to climb down a ladder on the tower, she was assisted down in the crane.

The bespectacled blonde, an excellent athlete, was taken to Wayne Hospital here, sunburned and exhausted, after spending all of Sunday night and all day Monday on the tower. She was wearing shorts and a sweatshirt, and the only substance she had was chewing gum offered by the Rev. Edward Winkler, one of those hoisted up in the crane to try and talk her into coming down.

Miss Fitzwater had a transistor radio during her stay on the tower and later a telephone was placed on the catwalk so she wouldn't have to shout in talking with authorities.

She had ignored nonstop pleas from several persons—relatives, friends, Dayton State Hospital officials, reporters — throughout the day to come down.

Dayton State Hospital officials confirmed she had been a patient there and that she had scaled a water tower on the hospital grounds two or three years ago. At that time, she was talked down successfully after about an hour.

Ruth Voiles, an aide at the Dayton hospital, spent two hours in the crane talking to the girl Monday.

"Look at those idiots down there," Mrs. Voiles quoted the woman as saying. "They're looking for a show and I'm giving it to them."

Mrs. Voiles also told newsmen, "She told me she loved me and everything, but it was just no use. She feels that nobody cares for her since her grandfather died."

Miss Fitzwater's mother, Mary Arthur of Greenville, said her daughter had been distraught over the death of her stepgrandfather, Phil Martin.

Police said he shot himself last week.

Miss Fitzwater stayed in a rooming house here after her grandfather died. She had cared for him.

About 'Private Doubts'

McCarthy Urges Rival To Speak Out About War

By The Associated Press

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—wrapping up his New York primary campaign—says Democratic presidential rival Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should make public any private doubts on the Vietnam war.

"I think everyone has private doubts," McCarthy said at a Harlem rally Monday. "There comes a time when the private doubts of a public man must become public doubts."

He referred to a prediction by former White House press secretary Bill Moyers that Humphrey soon will begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies including escalation of the war.

But a Humphrey spokesman said in Washington "the vice president does not follow the practice of thinking one thing in private and saying another thing in public.

"He intends to discuss all the issues that are vital to this country just as he has been discussing such issues throughout his public life," the spokesman said.

On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon called on President Johnson to stop "dragging his feet" and sign the anticrime bill. And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his hunt for delegates to Capitol Hill in Washington.

McCarthy was the only major presidential candidate to campaign on behalf of delegate states in final days before the New York primary today which will name 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegates.

McCarthy delegate candidates are running in 37 of the 41 congressional districts. Humphrey slates are entered in 25.

Most delegates pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated say they hope to be elected as supporters of his principles—and uncommitted to any other candidate.

Kennedy had been expected to take the lion's share of a delegates and few observers were predicting today's results.

Rockefeller candidates are opposed by Nixon supporters for only 11 of the 82 GOP delegate seats at stake.

Adam Clayton Powell, denied seating in the U.S. House of Representatives last year, was favored to win a nomination for re-election.

Three Democrats seek the U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Republican incumbent Sen. Jacob K. Javits. They are Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick; Eugene H. Nickerson, a Kennedy man, and former New York Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

While New Yorkers voted in the primary, Rockefeller was on Capitol Hill seeking delegates and hoping to convince Republicans up for re-election that he would help them more as the party's presidential candidate than would Nixon.

Some 50 GOP representatives and 21 senators will be delegates, and five senators head their state delegations as favorite-son candidates.

Nixon, in urging Johnson to sign the anticrime bill, said in a statement it is clear Congress is ready to debate a more stringent gun control law but in the meantime the President should sign the bill which Nixon said "has 90 per cent" of the gun control features Johnson asked.

Third party presidential candidate George Wallace, campaigning in Richmond, Va., urged a new slogan—"Southern Power"—saying the South has started a movement "which is going to change the trends in this country."

In other political developments:

—Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, and Republican state Sen. Horace Hildredth Jr. won nomination in a Maine primary Monday to oppose each other for Congress. Actor Gary Merrill and former state Rep. David L. Graham were last in the two three-way races.

—Michigan Gov. George Romney announced Nixon will meet with the state's convention delegation June 26.

—Gov. John A. Volpe indicated he believes Massachusetts' GOP delegates will split after their commitment to vote for Rockefeller on the first national convention ballot.

McCarthy Slated To Give Talk At Cleveland Today

CLEVELAFD (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy was scheduled to speak to 300 delagates at the American Newspaper Guild convention today during a 5½-hour visit to Cleveland.

Later, the Democratic presidential hopeful will speak at the City Club and answer questions.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes also will address guild delegates at a banquet tonight, discussing violence, hate and the urban crisis.

The guild opened its convention Monday with James B. Woods, president of the 32,000 member union, calling for a nationwide boycott of major retail store chains advertising in the strikebound Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

Woods said the Herald-Examiner has published with nonunion help during the past six months and has refused to negotiate a settlement with the guild and other unions.

Woods specifically called for a boycott against the May Co. department stores, J.C. Penney Co., Inc., and the F. W. Woolworth Co. stores.

Psychiatric Trouble Cited

Using Hypnosis To Stop Smoking Seen Drawback

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Using hypnosis to stop smoking may hurt more people than it helps, a psychiatrist warned today.

Dr. Sheldon B. Cohen of Atlanta told the annual convention of the American Medical Association, "longtime smokers often run into psychiatric trouble when they stop smoking."

He cited the case of a man who gave up smoking under hypnosis and a few weeks later got drunk at a party and beat up his wife and his best friend.

"I had to suggest that he resume smoking while undergoing intensive psychiatric treatment," Cohen said.

The psychiatrist said a study of available scientific literature and 10 cases in his own practice had persuaded him "no one has yet demonstrated that hypnosis is generally indicated to help people stop smoking."

Of the 10 cases, Cohen said, four stopped smoking for as long as a few weeks but all eventually resumed smoking.

"There may be some cases in which hypnosis is helpful," he said, "but nobody knows enough about smoking yet to say that this or any other technique is a sure way to help the longtime smoker.

"Unless you have something better to give people as a tension relieving device, perhaps it is better to leave them alone."

Cohen said all 10 of his cases had serious illnesses, aggravated by smoking. But taking cigarettes from them he said, appeared to present hazards greater than the obvious risk in continuation of smoking.

In another talk a doctor reported a new hormonal contraceptive given by injection once every three months.

The substance, commercially available but approved only for therapy, is medroxy-progesterone acetate—MDA, said Dr. Edward Tyler of the Family Planning Center of Los Angeles.

Tyler said there were no pregnancies among 216 women to whom he gave the drug over the past three years.

He said monthly injection of other hormonal drugs—progestrogen and estrogen—was effective with 514 women.

Many women were willing to continue with the drugs despite such side effects as nervousness, bleeding irregularity and nausea, he said.

Tyler said neither method is likely to become readily available before considerable testing by the Food and Drug Administration.

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's anthurium business is booming. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports anthuriums shipped from Hawaii to the mainland in 1967 totaled 282,500 dozen, an increase of 11 per cent over the 1966 total of 257,000 dozen. In 1965, only 160,500 dozen anthuriums left the Islands.

House Approves Measure

Non-Public School Aid Bill Waits Shafer's OK

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — Precedent-setting legislation that would entitle private and parochial schools in Pennsylvania to state financial aid was on Gov. Shafer's desk today awaiting his signature.

The governor was expected to sign the bill some time during the 10 days allotted, thus setting the stage for a court test that is almost sure to come.

The House completed legislative action on the measure Monday by voting, 107-74, to accept administration amendments inserted by the Senate. The amendments scaled down the initial outlay from $27 million to $4.3 million, which Shafer said was all that was available at this time.

The bill's chief sponsor, Rep. Matthew F. Coppolino, D-Philadelphia, hailed final passage as an "historic occasion" and predicted the new law would stand a court test as of its constitutionality.

"No state I know has this kind of a sweeping law to provide actual financial assistance to nonpublic schools," Coppolino said. "I expect the law to be challenged in the courts and to be upheld as constitutional."

The General Assembly enacted legislation in 1965 to allow nonpublic school children to ride public school buses along established routes. The legality of that act was upheld.

Ironically, one of the House members who opposed concurrence in the Senate amendments was a long-time advocate of nonpublic school aid, Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia. Mullen objected to the sizable cut in the amount provided.

In a floor speech, Mullen charged the Pennsylvania Catholic Conference, prime backer of the bill, with "selling their people down the river" by agreeing to the administration amendments.

As the measure went to the governor, it would earmark revenues from harness racing and, eventually, thoroughbred racing for nonpublic schools. The grants would be based on instructional costs in four nonreligious subjects.

In other legislative developments:

Milk — The House passed a farmer-backed bill to make minor revisions in the state's 31-year-old Milk Control law. The measure, sent to the Senate on a vote of 128-54, would change the name of the Milk Control Commission to the Milk Marketing Board.

Labor — The House also passed and sent to the governor a bill that would provide for compulsory binding arbitration in collectvie bargaining disputes involving polcemen and firemen. The measure, approved 175-6, would implement a constitutional amendment.

Gun control — House Democratic Leader Herbert Fineman of Philadelphia introduced a discharge resolution in an attempt to free his proposed gun control bill from the Law and Order Committee. The move was aimed at spurring the committee into action.

Susquehanna — The Susquehanna River Basin Compact, defeated in the House last week, was revived and returned to the calendar, with supporters vowing to bring the proposal up for another vote within the next month.

Power Firm Praised For Safety Program

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Monongahela Power Co. has received recognition from the Edison Electric Institute for its safety record over the last few years.

The utility was presented the EEI Injury Frequency Reduction Award for achieving a 21 per cent, or more, reduction in the number of lost-time injuries. Monongahela also received this award last year as well as in some previous years.

In accepting the award, C. G. McVay, president of Monongahela, said, "We, as a company, have been very fortunate in decreasing the number of disabling accidents in the last several years. With more than 2,200 employes, Monongahela ranks high among the top electric companies in the nation in the area of accident prevention."

Fined At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Robert H. Hill, 20, of 88 Main St. was fined $40 and costs in Mayor Dwayne Felton's court after he pled guilty to a reckless operation charge.

Junior Editors Quiz on STERLING SILVER

QUESTION: What does "sterling" on a piece of silver mean?

ANSWER: Silver is a precious metal treasured and venerated nearly as much as gold. Harder than gold, silver can be hammered and shaped into sets of tableware, which people have always loved, because such pieces combine the lustrous beauty of the silver metal with the high value of the silver itself. Silver, however, while not as soft as gold, is still soft enough to show wear when frequently handled. For this reason, silver is usually mixed with copper to form an alloy. When too much copper is mixed in, the silver piece loses its value. This happened in England in the 1200's. The only dependable silver coins of the time were produced in Germany and called Easterlings to distinguish them from others. The English changed the word East-sterling to sterling, and sterling came to mean a high grade of silver with very little copper. Sterling silver today is 92.5 per cent silver and 7.5 per cent copper. To distinguish sterling, the English used a hallmark, ofter of a rampant lion (A), stamped into the silver piece. America took over the stamping idea, but used and still uses a stamp with the single word, sterling (B).

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, June 18, the 170th day of 1968. There are 196 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte was defeated by the British in the Battle of Waterloo.

On this date:

In 1935, Adolf Hitler signed a treaty with Britain promising not to upset a ratio between the German and British navies.

In 1940, in World War II, the Germans captured the French port of Cherbourg.

In 1943, British Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell was appointed viceroy of India.

In 1953, an Army council in Egypt proclaimed the country a republic, and Premier Mohammed Naguib became the first president.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower told a new conference that his executive assistant, Sherman Adams, may have been imprudent in accepting gifts, but that no one could doubt Adams' personal integrity and honesty.

Five years ago — Eight Roman Catholic cardinals prepared to enter a conclave at the Vatican to elect a successor to the late Pope John XXIII.

One year ago — Pope Paul VI called for reconciliation and kindness after the hostilities between Israel and her Arab neighbors.
